"D'Aubigne's History of the Reformation is in all respects one of the grandest literary and historical works of this or any age. The author's brilliant genius imparted to its pages all the fascination of a romance, while his research, study, and sound judgment have invested it with an authority that has stood the test, in its most important parts, of more than a quarter of a century's criticism."—N. Y. Observer.

"Thirty years have now passed since we read in our student days the first three volumes which the CARTERS had just issued in an American dress. The name of D'Aubigne was soon on every tongue. The same clear, forcible style characterizes this latest volume, albeit maturer and richer, the same love for the Gospel, and the same grasp of the truth of history."—Northern Christian Advocate.

A BOOK FOR EVERY HOUSEHOLD.

Guide to Family Devotion.

By the Rev. Alexander Fletcher, D.D.

Royal quarto. with 10 steel plates, cloth gilt and gilt edges, (half mor., $7.50).....$5.00

This admirable work contains a hymn, a portion of Scripture, with appropriate devotional reflections, and a prayer for every morning and evening throughout the year, as well as prayers adapted to the varied joys and sorrows of a family.

The great popularity of this work on both sides of the Atlantic is the best evidence of its sterling merit. It has been heretofore sold in numbers at Ten Dollars per copy. It is now offered, neatly bound in cloth, gilt edges, at HALF THAT SUM.

"The more we look over the volume the more we admire it, and the more heartily feel to commend it to families and devout Christians. It is emphatically a book of devotion, from the standpoint of an intelligent, broad-minded Christian minister, who has here expressed many of the deepest emotions and wants of the soul. The selections of Scripture and the hymns are all admirably adapted to increase devotion; and the prayers are such as can but aid the suppliant, even when not uttered from his precise standpoint, and are especially valuable to many heads of families who find it difficult to frame words for themselves in conducting family worship."—Journal and Messenger.

PRESS NOTICES.

You may use my name as saying that I much commend it."—A. Gray.

"This is a charmingly-written little work of about one hundred and eighty pages, which is destined to tell us what ferns really are, how they grow, where they are found, what is the true "secret of fern-seed," and how best to cultivate ferns, either in proper fern-houses, or in Ward-cases, or on artificial rockwork. All this and much more besides, Mr. Robinson has clearly explained, and withal so pleasantly that his book has the charm of a new story-book, while it also contains a great deal of most valuable instruction"—The Nation.

"The volume is beautifully printed, tastefully bound and profusely illustrated with photo and colored lithographs."—Sunday Herald.

"It would be difficult to find a more charming book on ferns, and where to find them and how to treat them."—The Sun.

"No poor book ever comes from the Naturalists' Agency, and FERNS IN THEIR HOMES AND OURS, a book on the growth, structure, and distribution of ferns, and their cultivation under glass, in ferneries nd out-of-doors, is of quite exceptional value, and will appeal successfully to the sympathies of a great many peop lewho admire ferns."—Springfield Daily Union.

PUBLICATIONS OF S. E. CASSINO.

CHARACEÆ AMERICANÆ. Illustrated and described by T. F. ALLEN, A.M. M.D. This work will describe and figure every American species of Characeæ. Issued in parts, 3 colored plates to each part. Price per part, $1.00.

FLOWER OBJECT LESSONS. Or First Lessons in Botany. A familiar description of a few flowers. From the French of M. EMM. Le MAOUT. Translated by Miss A. L. PAGE. 16mo. Cloth, .50.

GENTRY'S LIFE-HISTORIES OF BIRDS. Life-Histories of the Birds of Eastern Pennsylvania. By THOMAS G. GENTRY. 2 vols., 12mo. cloth, $4.00.

The considerable number of new observations included in it, give it a permanent value. — Prof. E. D. COPE.

The author's statements, for the most part, are based on his own experience, and possess the merit both of precision and freshness. The volume is written in an attractive style, with great fulness of description, though free from burdensome details. — N. Y. Tribune.

The comprehensiveness of the work is wholly praiseworthy. An Appendix and Indices, which partly enhance the value of the work, are also furnished. To a farmer's household, for a student of ornithology and oology, for all who give attention to or have interest in the birds of this part of America, the work has no equal so readily obtainable. — Boston Traveller.

GOODALE. THE WILD FLOWERS OF AMERICA. By Professor GEORGE L. GOODALE, of Harvard University. Illustrations by ISAAC SPRAGUE. Issuing in monthly parts. 4to. Part XV. now ready. Price per Part, $1.50.

Mr. Sprague, the eminent botanical artist, has brought to this work the skill and experience acquired by association with Audubon, and during his extended investigations conducted under direction of Prof. Asa Gray of Harvard University.

Mr. Sprague is one of the most truthful delineators of flowers of any country, and chromo-lithography has in the present instance well represented his work. This specimen number is the first publication in this country, so far as we know, which gives an idea of what flower-painting ought to be. Two of the plates, representing our wild columbine and cranesbill, are anticipations of spring; the other two, the wavy-leaved aster and a pair of geradias, are reminiscences of autumn. The letterpress is by Professor Goodale of Harvard University, and consists of more interesting and curious matter than is usual in publications of this sort. — The Nation (New York).

Mr. Isaac Sprague, who has drawn these flowers, is without a superior in the country as a botanical artist. The pictures are absolutely correct in the delineation of the organs and in the tone of color. The process of lithography has been marvellously successful. . . . . The accompanying text by Professor Goodale is admirable. — The Independent (New York).

It is faint praise to say that the second part of the "Wild Flowers of America" is equal to the first. We have had no work in our country so faithful as this. — New England Journal of Education.

HALF-HOUR RECREATIONS IN POPULAR SCIENCE. Second Series. By JOHN TYNDALL, D.C.L., F.R.S., RICHARD A. PROCTOR, F.R.A.S., Prof. GEIKIE, F.R.S., Prof. BALFOUR STEWART, F.R.S., Prof. C. H. HITCHCOCK, Prof. ASA GRAY, ALEXANDER BRAUN, Prof. ROSCOE, F.R.S., Prof. W. C. WILLIAMSON, F.R.S., Prof. JOSEPH LOVERING, and others. Selected and edited by DANA ESTES. 8vo. $2.50.

HARRIS'S INSECTS. INSECTS INJURIOUS to Vegetation. By the late THADDEUS WILLIAM HARRIS, M.D. Octavo, 640 pages. Cloth, 8vo. Plain, $4.00. Colored Plates, $6.50.

Enlarged and improved. With additions from the author's manuscripts and original notes. Illustrated by engravings drawn from Nature, by CHARLES L. FLINT, Secretary of the Massachusetts State Board of Agriculture. This work is fully illustrated with two hundred and seventy-eight fine wood-cuts, and eight beautiful steel plates, full-page size, containing ninety-five figures. Published in two beautiful editions: one plain, with steel engravings, extra cloth; the other in extra cloth, bevelled boards, red edges, engravings colored with great accuracy.

HUNT'S CHEMICAL AND GEOLOGICAL ESSAYS. Chemical and Geological Essays, by THOMAS STERRY HUNT, LL.D., F.R.S. A new revised edition, with additions. Contains over 500 pages. 8vo. Finely bound in cloth. Price, $2.50.

CONTENTS. I. Theory of Igneous Rocks and Volcanoes. II. On some Points in Chemical Geology. III. The Chemistry of Metamorphic Rocks. IV. The Chemistry of the Primeval Earth. V. The Origin of Mountains. VI. The Probable Seat of Volcanic Action. VII. On some Points in Dynamical Geology. VIII. On Limestones, Dolomites, and Gypsums. IX. The Chemistry of Natural Waters. X. On Petroleum, Asphalt, Pyroschists, and Coal. XI. On Granites and Granitic Vein stones. XII. The Origin of Metalliferous Deposits. XIII. The Geognosy of the Appalachians, and the Origin of Crystalline Rocks. XIV. The Geology of the Alps. XV. History of the names Cambrian and Silurian in Geology. XVI. Theory of Chemical Changes and Equivalent Volumes. XVII. Constitution and Equivalent Volume of Mineral Species. XVIII. Thoughts on Solution and the Chemical Process. XIX. On the Objects and Method of Mineralogy. XX. Theory of Types in Chemistry.

MAMMOTH CAVE AND ITS INHABITANTS. The Mammoth Cave and its Inhabitants, or Descriptions of the Fishes, Insects, and Crustaceans found in the Cave, with figures of the various species, and an account of allied forms, comprising notes upon their Structure, Development and Habits, with remarks upon subterranean life in general. By A. S. PACKARD, JR., and F. W. PUTNAM. 8vo; Plates and Cuts. Cloth, $1.25.

MAYNARD. THE BIRDS OF EASTERN NORTH AMERICA; with Original Descriptions of all the Species which occur East of the Mississippi River, between the Arctic Circle and the Gulf of Mexico, with full notes upon their habits, etc. 4to; 3 Plates, colored by hand. Cloth. $12.00.

MAYNARD'S NATURALIST'S GUIDE. The Naturalist's Guide, by C. J. MAYNARD. 2 Colored Steel Plates, and 10 Plain Plates. New revised edition, with an appendix giving the latest and best methods of stuffing Birds and Animals. 12mo. Cloth. 1877. $2.00.

This book has now become the standard work on Taxidermy. With its aid the merest tyro will soon be able to mount birds and animals as well as an experienced Taxidermist. The work is recommended by the best Ornithologists in the country.

MINOT'S BIRDS OF NEW ENGLAND. Land-Birds and Game-Birds of New England, with Descriptions of Birds, their Nests and Eggs, their Habits and Mates. By H. D. MINOT. Illustrated by outline cuts. 456 pages, 8vo. Cloth, $3.00.

Its merits entitle it to full recognition by ornithologists, while they commend it very highly to the student and amateur. — Nuttall Bulletin.

The author tells everything that is known about the birds of which he writes, the simple and obvious, as well as the more abstruse, not assuming, as too many writers upon such subjects do, that his readers are already familiar with the elementary text-books of science. — N. Y. Evening Post.

The land-birds and principal game-birds of New England have received more satisfactory treatment than has been given them in any previous special treatise on the subject. It affords a fund of fresh information, and a positive advance in our knowledge of the habits of New England birds. — Dr. Elliott Coues.

MONOGRAPH OF THE GEOMETRID MOTHS or Phalænidæ of the U. S. By A. S. PACKARD, JR. 4to, pp. 607. 13 Plates. $6.00. This is the only work on the Geometrid Moths published in America, and is the most complete monograph which has yet appeared; every species is figured, and when they are known, the larva and pupa. In addition to these there are nearly 200 anatomical drawings, illustrating the venation, development, etc. This work should be in the hands of every Entomologist.

PUBLICATIONS OF S. E. CASSINO.

PACKARD'S COMMON INSECTS. OUR

COMMON INSECTS. A Popular Account of the more common Insects of our Country, embracing Chapters on Bees and their Parasites, Moths, Flies, Mosquitoes, Beetles, etc.; while a calendar gives a general account of the more common Injurious and Beneficial Insects, and their Time of Appearance, Habits, etc. 200 pp. Profusely Illustrated. 12mo. Cloth. Price, $1.50.

PACKARD'S GUIDE TO THE STUDY

OF INSECTS. A Guide to the Study of Insects, and a Treatise on those Injurious and Beneficial to Crops, for the use of Colleges, Farm-Schools, and Agriculturists. By A. S. PACKARD, JR., M.D. With 15 plates and 670 wood cuts. $5.00.

The Guide has already been introduced either as a text-book or for reference in Harvard University, Williams College, Dartmouth College, Antioch College, Mass. Agricultural College, and Oxford and Cambridge Universities, England.

Certainly the best manual of Entomology which the English reader can at present obtain. — Nature, London.

PACKARD'S HALF-HOURS WITH IN-

SECTS. Half Hours with Insects. A Popular Account of their Habits, Modes of Life, etc.; which are beneficial and which are injurious to vegetation. By A. S. PACKARD, JR., of Brown University, Providence, R. I. Colored plate, 260 wood-cut illustrations. Crown 8vo. $2.50.

The subjects treated are: Insects of the Garden; Relation of Insects to Man; Insects of the Plant House; Edible Insects; Insects of the Pond and Stream; the Population of an Apple-Tree; Insects of the Field; Insects of the Forest; Insects as Mimics, as Architects; Social Life of Insects; and Mental Powers of Insects.

PACKARD'S LIFE HISTORIES. OUT-

LINES of Comparative Embryology. Copiously illustrated. 8vo. $2.50.

Must remain for many years the one standard work on the subject. . . . Altogether it forms one of the most valuable works of science yet published in this country, and it is safe to say that no working naturalist can do without it. — Popular Science Monthly.

It occupies worthily an important place absolutely unfilled to this time. — Chancellor Winchell.

PACKARD'S WESTERN INSECTS. THE

Injurious Insects of the West. A Report on the Rocky Mountain Locust, and other Insects, now injuring, or likely to injure, field and garden crops in the Western States and Territories. By A. S. PACKARD, JR., M. D. Illustrated by 67 wood-cuts, 9 plates, and 5 maps. 8vo. Bound in cloth, uniform with "Guide to the Study of Insects." Price, $2.50.

of the Invertebrata. By C. TH. V. SIEBOLD. Translated from the German, with additions and notes, by WALDO I. BURNETT, M. D. 8vo. Cloth. Gilt top. $5.00.

Agassiz says: "There is no other work in any language that will bear any comparison with this, in the fulness and accuracy of its descriptions of organs, in the amount and value of the microscopic investigations whose results it embodies, or in the masterly and comprehensive manner in which all its results are systematized, and their subjects classified and grouped."

SAY'S ENTOMOLOGY. A DESCRIPTION of the Insects of North America. By THOMAS SAY. With 54 full-page steel plate illustrations, engraved and colored from nature. Edited by J. L. LECONTE. With a Memoir by GEORGE ORD. 2 vols. 8vo. Cloth, $15.00; half calf, $20.00.

THE FERNS OF NORTH AMERICA.

Text by Prof. DANIEL C. EATON, of Yale College. Illustrations by Messrs. J. H. EMERTON and CHAS. E. FAXON. Complete in two volumes. Large 4to, gilt top, cloth. Price, $30.00.

PRESS NOTICES.

In this country, the need of similar works has long been felt, and a standard work of authority, accompanied by faithful illustrations of the plants themselves, has long been desired, but the great expense attending the publication of such a work with suitable plates has heretofore prevented its accomplishment. Happily, now, however, through the enterprise of Mr. CASSINO, of the Naturalists' Agency, this great want seems likely to be realized; and fern students, as well as all others interested in these beautiful plants, may congratulate themselves on the prospect of being able, at last, to secure such a work as they have long needed, — combining the strictest scientific descriptions with a clear and comprehensive style, that makes them intelligible even to those who are not acquainted with botanical terms. From one who is a "master in his craft." — Boston Transcript.

The interest in Ferns is met most fully by an important publication, the Ferns of North America, prepared by Prof. D. C. Eaton, of Yale College, who is a recognized authority in Botany. Each part contains three fine, large plates, colored by chromo-lithography. The representations are exact, and have a positive value to the student. A work of this magnitude and importance has not before been projected in Botany in America; but the publisher has relied upon a liberal patronage, and has put the price very low for the quality of the work. — Hartford Daily Courant.

As the name of the editor warrants, this work is to have true scientific value as well as popular interest. — New York Nation.

This work seems to us well planned to meet all the requisitions of amateurs as well as serious and more general students. Well executed it certainly is, thus far. The paper and typography are most excellent, and the plates, from colored drawings, are beautiful specimens of chromo-lithography. — Am. Jour. Science and Arts.

The very low price, considering the character of the work, for which this enterprising publisher has succeeded in producing the work, has been and is a matter for surprise to every one acquainted with the expensive character of such publications.

As regards the text, nothing could possibly be better, it being written by Prof. Eaton, of Yale College, the finest pteridologist and acknowledged head of this branch of botanical science in the United States.

I am able to speak with some degree of confidence in regard to this splendid work, which when completed will make one of the most superb volumes ever issued from the American press, as I have made the study of our American Ferns a specialty for several years, and I take great pleasure in endorsing and recommending it. — Geo. E. Davenport, in Medford (Mass.) Chronicle.

The important publication on the Ferns of North America, commenced not long since by Mr. S. E. Cassino, of the Naturalists' Agency, has now reached its fifth part, to our own mind exceeding, in every particular, the somewhat extravagant promises of the prospectus. — Maine Farmer.

THE SECRET OF A CLEAR HEAD.

CONTENTS: — Temperature. Habit. Time. Pleasure. Self-importance. Consistency. Simplicity. The Secret of a Clear Head. 50 cents.

THE STRUCTURE AND HABITS OF

SPIDERS. By J. H. EMERTON. Fully illustrated. 12mo. Cloth. $1.50.

The style is charming, and it cannot fail to interest. — C. E. Bessey (Prof. of Botany, Iowa Agricultural College).

It is a simple, readable, thoroughly intelligible account of the external and internal structure of spiders, with their classification; while as an account of the more striking habits, indoors and out, of these interesting creatures, it is the best and most original book in our language. — Salem Register.

The Holy Mass.

A History of the Mass and its Ceremonies in the Eastern and Western Church.

By Rev. JOHN O'BRIEN, A.M., Professor of Sacred Liturgy at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmittsburg.

The only Book of the Kind in the English Language. A Book for all Classes and Creeds.

This work contains a full account of all the Oriental Rites, and gives the meaning of everything that is done in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. It has a dissertation on the varying Rites within the Latin Church at the present day, such as the Mozarabic, Ambrosian and Milanese, Carthusian, Carmelite, and Dominican, and gives also a history of the celebrated Rite of Sarum, which in the good old days formed the chief glory of the Catholic Church in England.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"If a person who had never attended a Catholic church were to take his seat in one at the commencement of the ceremony, and at every step in its progress the priest were to stop and give a history of its origin, a full description of the instruments employed, an account of the different customs in different churches, and of the mystical meaning which the church attaches to the minutest detail, the listener would come away with very much the same impression that is left by the perusal of this book."—New York Nation.

"We are very glad that this volume has been so well received, and hope it may continue to be far more widely circulated. It contains a great deal of accurate and valuable information not accessible to ordinary readers."—Freeman's Journal.

"We do not know how sufficiently to commend this fine book. It is just the very book that is needed by Catholics in America."—Milwaukee Catholic Citizen.

"The book is highly creditable to the author and to the institution with which he is officially connected."—New York Evening Express.

"Every Catholic should purchase that admirable book of Father O'Brien's on the 'History of the Mass.'"—Catholic Columbian.

"It is an encyclopædia of liturgic information, written in pleasing style, and brought out with the printer's and publisher's best art."—Western Watchman.

"It is a beautiful book, rich in matter, clear in style. It will serve to make its readers understand and love the Adorable Sacrifice better than they now do, and thus draw them closer in adoration and charity to the Lamb of God who is there offered up for them to God, His Eternal Father."—Catholic Mirror.

"Of all the new books (and there is a goodly number of them) not one can be remembered at this moment comparable in usefulness and timely interest to this one."—Louisville Catholic Advocate.

"We could profitably devote space to extracts from the book, but we recommend our readers to buy it for themselves; it should be in the library not only of every priest, but of every Catholic family."—Waterloo, N. Y., Catholic Times.

"We urge upon every Catholic to become a possessor of a copy of Father O'Brien's book."—Boston Pilot.

POPE LEO XIII.

AND

THE CATHOLIC PUBLICATION SOCIETY CO.'S

SCHOOL BOOKS.

AMERICAN COLLEGE,
Rome, July 7th, 1880.

My dear Mr. Kehoe:

About a week ago I had the honor of being received in an audience by His Holiness Pope Leo XIII., in which I presented, on behalf of The Catholic Publication Society Co. of New York, your letter, together with the complete series of the "Young Catholic's" School Books. The Holy Father admired the beautiful binding, the type and the illustrations, and requested me to express to you his pleasure and satisfaction at your efforts and success in supplying Catholic youth with standard works of education.

He said that the presentation was most opportune, as he was thinking of a like series for his own children in the schools of Rome, and would consequently examine them more at his leisure.

As a token of his sovereign good will, he sends you and all the members of The Catholic Publication Society the Apostolic Benediction, with the hope that your work will meet with the success it deserves.

Allow me to thank you for the Copy of the History of the United States, and believe me, with respect,

Yours truly in Christ,
L. E. HOSTLOT,
Rector of the American College at Rome, and Private Chamberlain to His Holiness Pope Leo XIII.

To LAWRENCE KEHOE,
Manager of the Catholic Publication Society Co.

* ☞ A circular giving a full description of the above invaluable work; also specimen pages of Dr. LABBERTON's other books, viz: "Outlines of History" (price $2); "Historical Questions" (price $1.75); and "Historical Atlas" (price $3.50); sent to any address upon application to the publishers.

WHAT IS SAID OF THE WORKS.

"Prof. Labberton's plan is an excellent one, and is carried out with great success. The work deserves high praise."—The Nation.

"The whole series bears the marks of conscientious and faithful scholarship."—New York Tribune.

"The method is likely to cause the most lasting impression on the mind."—California Teacher.

"A work which must become a constant companion of those who are beginning to study history in the right spirit. I was glad to learn that you had published an Atlas prepared by so eminent a historical scholar as Dr. Labberton."—Prof. Charles J. Stillé, LL D., Provost University of Pa.

"A system far superior to anything of the kind we have yet seen; a set of works for elementary instruction which leave little to be desired. The Outlines of History and the volume of Maps are not only good text-books, they are also very valuable works of reference."—Dr. Sears's National Quarterly Review.

NOTES.

As first efforts are generally imperfect, they can be made on the TRIAL PAGE, where the teacher may make corrections, which remain before the pupil while writing on the lesson page. The TRIAL PAGES may be removed without injury to the book.

We would draw attention to the BLANK TRIAL PAGES at the beginning, middle, and end of the books. In the primary course they are intended for drilling the pupils in writing their names and the dates; in the Grammar series, for dictation, exercises, etc.; also, as the pages are detachable, for writing upon them specimens of penmanship for exhibition.

It is not necessary to use the entire TRIAL PAGE for the lesson, the lower part may be devoted to wrist and hand motions, ovals, slides, or any individual difficulties may here be overcome by extra practice.

FOURTH EDITION.

From JOHN BELL, "Iron City Pub. Co.," Smithfield Street, Pittsburg, Pa.

GENTLEMEN.—Your portly super-royal octavo of 527 pages has been received. Not within an experience of eight years among books—buying, reading, selling, and appointing agents for the sale of the leading living authors—have I looked into a book destined to such universal interest and value, or so much needed by all who make pretension to intelligence and learning, as your "Treasury of Wisdom, Wit, and Humor." The author has certainly done his work well. The book itself proves that its compilation could not have been left to more competent hands. And you, gentlemen, have added to its merits by clothing it in such a superb and elegant dress. Mr. Wooléver's mental faculties must have been taxed to their utmost capacity in gleaning, arranging, and setting down so accurately the hundreds of thoughts, suggestions, and opinions, laid before us, on almost every conceivable subject. After a careful examination of the different parts of the work, I feel confident that no intelligent man or woman will ever regret, but rather bless the hours they shall devote to the perusal of the volume. All an intelligent person need do to be convinced of its undeniable merits is to examine it. I would pity the individual who could not find something between its lids to arrest the attention, inform the understanding, or please the fancy. Indeed, he who would be sorry of having purchased and read the volume, must be something less than human; his mind must be rusting in the shackles of ignorance and illiteracy. Never before in my experience has there been so much of thoughtful and pleasing production, so much genius, wisdom, and learning—the very cream of whole libraries—embodied in a single volume, nor has there ever been one containing, as this work does, the deepest living thoughts of the leading writers and thinkers of the present and past ages. It contains the finest figures of rhetoric, the profoundest specimens of logic, and the most sparkling wit and relishing humor ever brought to my notice. The editor in his sanctum, the lawyer in his office, the minister in his studio, the teacher in his school, the student at college, the gentleman or lady of leisure, the family at home, all of intelligence will find therein ample means of meeting many of the emergencies in which they may be placed in society; besides a fund of thought that would take years to gather from any other source. The first things that attracted my attention were the complete alphabetical index and the accession of the contents. One can in a moment find anything he wishes, whether it be a burning or pleasing thought, a spark of wit or flash of humor, an odd comparison, or an old proverb; can get the opinion of the best thinkers on almost every conceivable subject; can find crowded fact upon fact, and thought upon thought, endlessly within the pages. In a word, the whole combined is, as it were, a living, breathing thought, that one would almost think would require an infinite intelligence to conceive and write down as it is there expressed.

From Hon. J. P. WICKERSHAM, Supt. Public Instruction, Harrisburg, Pa.

I find it rich in good things, and always fresh. I would like to see a copy in every school and in every family in the land. Wherever found it will prove itself a never-failing well-spring of pleasure and instruction.

From Col. A. K. M'CLURE, Editor "Philada. Times."

I sincerely hope that it may meet with that generous appreciation by the public that it so conspicuously merits. It is the best effort of the kind that I can recall, and should have a large sale.

From Hon. WM. A. WALLACE.

It is a valuable compendium, and exceedingly useful as a book of reference.

From Ex-Gov. WM. BIGLER, of Pennsylvania.

I have spent many pleasant hours over your late work, "The Treasury of Wisdom, Wit, and Humor."

In perusing it one finds himself in the midst of rich productions of the past, which he cannot otherwise gather up without the expenditure of much time and some labor.

"Wit and Humor," and great moral truths that had left their impression on my mind in my youth and early manhood, and then passed away, came back "like fond memories of the past." In this sense I commend your book sincerely.

From Ex-Gov. A. G. CURTIN, of Pennsylvania.

I have looked through the book and congratulate you on your distinguished success as a judicious compiler.

From Lieut-Gov. JOHN LATTA, of Pennsylvania.

HON. ADAM WOOLEVER: Dear Sir—Your selections and their arrangement in the "Treasury of Wit and Wisdom" are excellent.

From Hon. HEISTER CLYMER.

It is a magazine of Wisdom, wit, and humor, from which in the years to come I shall often be able to draw weapons of offence and defence.

From Hon. JAMES H. HOPKINS, Pittsburg, Pa.

Your compilation has been made with rare taste and judgment, and will prove a source of continual pleasure and information.

From Hon. A. BROWER LONGAKER, Judge of the 31st District.

Every scholar and student of human nature will owe you a debt of gratitude for the care and rare judgment you have exercised in gathering the precious gems and deepest thoughts of living and past thinkers, and the sparkling wit and humor which is interspersed on almost every page. The alphabetical and analytical arrangement is admirable, enabling the student at a glance to reach the quotation desired upon any given subject.

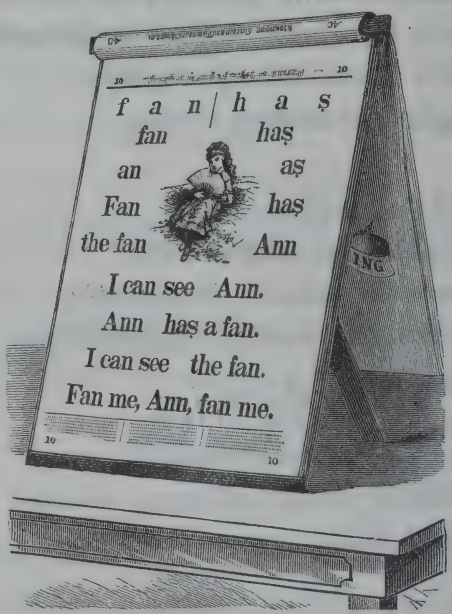
MONROE'S
PRIMARY READING-CHARTS.

A Treasure for Primary Teachers and for Family Instruction.

The task of teaching and learning to read is made easy and delightful by the use of Monroe's Primary Reading-Charts. We have no hesitation in announcing these Charts as the most useful, practical and economical of all the means yet devised for teaching the first steps in reading.



They save Time,
They save Money,
They save Teachers' Nerves.

Arranged for convenient use in three different ways.

1. By hanging against the wall by strings from each end of binder.

2. By use of a Back-Frame which can be placed on a desk or table (see cut).

3. By use of the Back-Frame on a movable floor easel.

A Single Set will do service for several years.

PRICES.

FULL SERIES.
50 numbers, $7.00.

ABRIDGED SERIES.
24 numbers, $4.50.

Back-Frames, 50 cents.

Easels, $1.00.

The Charts can be rolled and sent by mail without injury.

They may be used as an introduction to any series of reading-books, being so arranged that they admit the use of either the "Phonic," "Word" or "Alphabetic Method." They are, however, most effective when taught on the Phonic plan, as they are made up entirely of phonic words, carefully graded and printed in the ordinary form of type.

Full and Explicit Directions are given on the margin of the Charts, so that the most inexperienced teacher may understand how to use them. One chief excellence of the lesson is that it is almost impossible to use them in the humdrum, drawling style. The thoughts are natural, and their expression so easy that they almost "say themselves" in a sprightly and animated tone, such as should alone be permitted in the reading of little children.

The Charts comprise 50 numbers, 25×30 inches in size. They are beautifully printed on Manilla Parchment Paper (stronger and more durable than pasteboard) with large, clear type made expressly for the purpose, and illustrated with pictures drawn with special adaptation to the lessons. They are mounted in the most convenient form for practical use.

De Witt's Ten-Cent School Speakers.

The six following SPEAKERS will be found to comprise the greatest number of the very best Pieces that have ever been collected in one series. "DE WITT'S" School Speakers are necessary adjuncts to every well-managed school, and welcomed in every intellectual home.

The Primary School Speaker. Containing a variety of the choicest pieces, adapted both in thought and language for recitation by the youngest Speakers.

This book is No. 1 of DE WITT'S SCHOOL SPEAKERS.....Price 10 Cents.
In many "Speakers" intended for small children the authors get together a number of pieces only noticeable for jingling rhymes; in this book it will be found that all the articles are full of meaning without being dull or prosy.

The Public School Speaker. Containing a selection of the newest and choicest pieces for Recitation in Public Schools, Academies, etc., etc.

This book is No. 2 of DE WITT'S SCHOOL SPEAKERS.....Price 10 Cents.
This book is in the ascending scale—the sentiment, style, and lessons taught are all of a higher grade than in No. 1 of this series.

The Exhibition School Speaker. Comprising very many of the most exquisite pieces in our language, particularly adapted for recitation in public.

This book is No. 3 of DE WITT'S SCHOOL SPEAKERS.....Price 10 Cents.
There is no accomplishment that imparts such a nameless grace as the faculty of reading and reciting plainly and eloquently. This work furnishes many of the finest pieces for elocutionary effect in any language.

The Patriotic School Speaker. Filled with the noblest bursts of Patriotic Eloquence, in Prose and Poetry.

This book is No. 4 of DE WITT'S SCHOOL SPEAKERS.....Price 10 Cents.
Every youth that feels—as all should feel—that he has a country to admire and love, should master the brilliant specimens of patriotic oratory that abound in this book.

qualled collection of the most amusing, eccentric, droll, and humorous pieces, suitable for recitation in Schools, Colleges, and Parlors.
This book is No. 6 of DE WITT'S SCHOOL SPEAKERS.....Price 10 Cents.
It would be impossible to find so many irresistably funny pieces in any other tongue. They range from the most refined wit to the very broadest farcical humor; but always free from even an approach to vulgarity.

The Advanced School Speaker. Adapted Particularly for those pupils who give proof that they have the abilities to become good readers.

This book is No. 7 of DE WITT'S SCHOOL SPEAKERS.....Price 10 Cents.
There is a fine assortment of excellent pieces in this Speaker. Many of them American in every sense.

The Improved School Speaker. This Book is in every way an improvement upon nine-tenths of the Speakers published.

This book is No. 8 of DE WITT'S SCHOOL SPEAKERS.....Price 10 Cents.
All the peices are of a kind that must make them heartily liked by both teachers and pupils. There is not a heavy, dull article in the work.

The Choice School Speaker. The pieces in this book are most carefully chosen from hundreds of the best pieces.

This book is No. 9 of DE WITT'S SCHOOL SPEAKERS.....Price 10 Cents.
Any one having a copy of this book will never be at a loss for a fine specimen of interesting and animated speaking.

The Superior School Speaker. A successful effort has been made to render this Speaker superior to any published.

There are many fresh, hearty, original pieces in this work, that will impress and delight all lovers of spirited speaking.

The Perfection School Speaker. No other collection of pieces has any right to be compared with this. It is the very best of them.

This book is No. 11 of DE WITT'S SCHOOL SPEAKERS.....Price 10 Cents.
There isn't a chip of dead wood in this book Every speech is marked with some excellent quality: either of subject, or expression. Most frequently of both.

Macaulay's Dialogues.

The most useful, entertaining, and popular kind of pieces for speaking in public are Dialogues. They are by no means plenty, however. They require a peculiar talent in the writer, for to be any way effective and natural, the lines must embody the different characters of the speakers. In the books, whose titles are given below, will be found a number of super-excellent Dialogues. They range from pieces suited to the capacity of the very youngest speakers to those of the most intelligent and accomplished. They strike every note of thought, sentiment and expression; "from grave to gay, from lively to severe." They afford opportunities for different individuals to display all their best qualities of voice, action, and elocution.

Macaulay's Dialogues for Little Folks. Containing a very large number of interesting and spirited Dialogues, on various subject, for from Two to Twenty Children.

One Hundred Valuable Receipts for the Young

Lady of the Period. Including the world-famous directions of How to Become "Beautiful Forever." By LADY BLESSINGTON.

Almost every one knows that this celebrated lady and accomplished writer, by title Countess of Blessington, retained her personal charms to an advanced period of her life, and that all the more distinguished statesmen, authors and poets of her time were never tired of eulogizing the brightness of her eyes, the blended pearly purity and rosy bloom of her complexion, and the graceful suppleness of her form. Much of this retention of her charms was owing to her observance of the rules laid down in her commonplace book, and which are transferred to these pages. By these charms she captivated such men as Lord Byron, Count D'Orsay and N. P. Willis.

No work has ever been published that can begin to compare with this, for every receipt given has been tried and thoroughly tested by Lady Blessington herself.....Price 15 Cents.

Bonaparte's Oraculum; or, The Book of Fate.

Only complete American, from the Fiftieth London, Edition. This is a fac-simile, perfect in every respect, of the famous original which was sold in London for One Guinea a copy. This is said to be exactly copied from the Book of Fate, obtained by the great Emperor Napoleon, and consulted, but not always acted on, by him. It has been remarked that "Happy had it been for him had he abided or been ruled by the Answers of this Oracle." No liberties have been taken with the original text in the translation than merely to adapt it to the usages of this country. It is said that an Egyptian found Kleber's assassination presaged by the Answers of this Oraculum; but that he was prevented by the aids-de-camp from approaching the general. The result is historical—Kleber fell beneath the assassin's stab.

This edition of the Oraculum being, as we have said, entire, is of course more to be relied on than the spurious, mutilated editions published by irresponsible persons. In this complete state it gives answers to questions suitable to persons in all and every condition in life, in every trade, occupation or profession, and to persons of either sex. Of all Oraculums this is best and cheapest. The printing is clear, the paper white, and the binding strong.....Price 10 Cents.

Caution to the Reading Public.—Beware of all Editions purporting to be MORGAN'S EXPOSE OF MASONRY; none are genuine but those that have the imprint of WILSON & Co. as publishers; all other editions are got up by parties who wish to mislead the public by omitting the most important parts—being merely an abridgment of the genuine work.

A Manual of the Dissection of the Human Body.

By LUTHER HOLDEN, F. R. C. S., Assistant Surgeon of, and Lecturer on, Anatomy at St. Bartholomew's Hospital, London. With Notes and Additions by ERSKINE MASON, M. D., Demonstrator of Anatomy at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, and Surgeon to Charity Hospital, New York. Illustrated with numerous wood engravings.

This work is so universally commended by those most capable to judge of its merits that it must become the text-book in its branch of science. Dr. Holden's reputation is world-wide, and Dr. Mason is eminently fitted by nature, education and experience, to edit this important book.

This Book contains over 600 pages royal octavo, handsomely bound in cloth, with bevelled boards...Price $5.

Lessons in Physical Diagnosis. By Alfred C.

LOOMIS, M. D., Professor of the Institutes and Practice of Medicine in the Medical Department of the University of New York, Physician to Bellevue and Charity Hospitals, etc.

This is a book that will be a valuable addition to every medical library. There is no other work of exactly its character extant. The language is clear, terse, explicit, suited to the practical nature of the subject. The author, a perfect master of his important subject, leaves nothing unexplained. Not only every student, but every physician will find much to interest and instruct in these pages.

This work is printed in the finest style, from good-sized, clear type, on the whitest paper.

This work contains nearly 200 pages royal octavo, handsomely bound in cloth, with bevelled boards..Price $2.

A Practical Treatise on the Diseases of the Sexual Organs of Women. By F. W. VON SCANZONI, Professor of Midwifery and Diseases of Females in the University of Wurzburg; Counsellor to his Majesty, the King of Bavaria; Chevalier of many Orders. Translated from the French of DRS. H. Dor and A. Socin, and annotated with the approval of the author. By AUGUSTUS K GARDNER, A. M., M. D., Professor of Clinical Midwifery and the Diseases of Women in the New York Medical College; Author of "The Causes and Curative Treatment of Sterility;" Editor of "Tyler Smith's Lectures on Obstetrics," etc. With unwards of sixty illustrations.

It is almost unnecessary to speak of the merits of the above work; Scanzoni has a world-wide reputation, and on the Continent of Europe he is considered as standing at the head of Obstetrical Science, being Professor of Midwifery in the leading College in Germany; and from his great ability and well-known experience, it makes this book the authority on this subject. In its publication no expense has been spared, in typography, paper and illustrations. As now issued, it contains nearly 800 pages royal octavo, handsomely bound in cloth, with bevelled boards.....Price $5.

☞ The Fifth American Edition has just been issued.

Virchow's Cellular Pathology, as Based upon

Physiological and Pathological Histology. Twenty Lectures, delivered in the Pathological Institute of Berlin, during the months of February, March and April, 1858. By RUDOLPH VIRCHOW, Public Professor of Ordinary Pathological Anatomy, General Pathology and Therapeutics in the University of Berlin; Director of the Pathological Institute, and Physician to the Charity Hospital, etc., etc.

Translated from the Second Edition of the original, by FRANK CHANCE, B. A., M. B., Cantab., Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians; Physician to the Blenheim Free Dispensary and Infirmary. With Notes and Emendations, principally from the MS. Notes of the Author, and illustrated by 144 engravings on wood.

The above Lectures were delivered in the year 1858, in the new Pathological Institute of the University of Berlin, in the presence of a large number of the first medical men in that city.

The importance of the subject, the new ideas advanced, and the well-known reputation of the lecturer, compelled the publication of these Lectures in book form, and it is now considered the standard work throughout Germany on this subject. In its publication no expense has been spared in typography, paper, or illustration. As now issued, it contains nearly 800 pages royal octavo, handsomely bound in cloth, with bevelled boards.

Copies of this Book were sent to every Medical Hospital by the United States Government for the use of the Surgeons.....Price $5.

A Course of Lectures on Obstetrics. By Wm.

TYLER SMITH, M. D., Physician-Accoucheur and Lecturer on Midwifery and Diseases of Females in St. Mary's Hospital Medical School: Member of the Royal College of Physicians; Vice-President of the Medical Society, London; Honorary Fellow of the Obstetrical Society of Dublin, etc. With an introductory Lecture on the History of the Art of Midwifery, and copious practical annotations, by AUGUSTUS K. GARDNER, A. M., M. D., late Instructor of Obstetrics in the New York Preparatory School of Medicine; Author of "The Causes and Curative Treatment of Sterility," etc. Illustrated by engravings.

The above course of Lectures on Obstetrics, lately published in the columns of the London Lancet, has been carefully revised by the author, and, by the addition of two chapters and frequent amplification, and some score of new engravings, has been arranged to form one of Churchill's Celebrated Manuals for Students. The publisher has the pleasure to announce that, in accordance with the general high estimate of their value, and the frequent expressed desire that they might be available to the profession, he made arrangements with the distinguished practical accoucheur and obstetric student, AUGUSTUS K. GARDNER, A. M., M. D., Fellow of the New York Academy of Medicine, New York Pathological Society etc., etc., to revise these Lectures, and properly arrange them for the use of the American student, who, to secure such a result, has interspersed numerous copious annotations throughout the work, and added a Preliminary Lecture on the History of the Art of Midwifery, and the Os and Cervix Uteri in its Obstetric Relations. In its publication no expense has been spared in typography, paper, or illustration. Numerous wood-cuts have been added by the editor, illustrative of practical points, thus rendering it the most profusely illustrated work on Obstetrics ever published, and entitling it in every respect to be considered as the Modern Practice of Midwifery.

As now issued it occupies nearly 800 pages royal octavo, handsomely bound in cloth, bevelled boards...Price $5.

☞ The Fourth American Edition has just been issued.

The Diseases of the Sexual System. By Dr. Edward H. Dixon. Adapted to popular instruction. Dr. Dixon never minces matters—these is no mistaking his meaning. By perusing and acting upon the suggestions in this book, thousands have been saved from much suffering, disfigurement, and not unfrequently death itself. This eminent physician and surgeon clearly explains the structure, uses, abuses, and diseases of the most important organs of the human frame—not only important to the possessor, but doubly important as the means by which health and happiness, or disease and misery, are transmitted to posterity. This book contains over 300 pages 12mo, bound in cloth..Price $1.50

G. W. M. REYNOLDS' NOVELS.

No. 1. FAUST, a Romance of the Secret Tribunals. 8vo, paper. 50 Cents.

Reynolds is never so truly great as when grappling with those fearful crimes which make nations pale at their recital. In this book we have the dust of centuries swept away and awful secrets disclosed.

No. 2. WAGNER, the Wehr Wolf. 8vo, paper. 50 Cents.

All peoples have in their traditions stories of the vampire-ghouls, that, stealing into the hushed chamber at midnight, have drawn the blood from the veins of sleeping beauty. This great writer vivifies the legend.

No. 3. THE EMPRESS EUGENIE'S BOUDOIR; or, Mysteries of the Court of France. 8vo, paper. 50 Cents.

Grasping the heavy velvet curtains with a hand of steel, the author has torn away all concealment, and lets the light flood the salons desecrated by Epicureau and Sybaritic enjoyment.

No. 4. THE YOUNG DUCHESS; or, Memoirs of a Lady of Quality. 8vo, paper. 50 Cents.

Wealth has its temptations as well as penury. Read this book to see in its glaring but truthful tints, the inner life of the proudest aristocracy that ever scoffed at virtue, and made rank a synonym for guilt.

No. 5. IMOGEN HARTLAND; or, The Star of the Circus. 8vo, paper. 50 Cents.

Few who gaze upon the curled and spangled darlings who nightly tempt being dashed to death in the arena, know aught of these graceful creatures' temptations. Reynolds knew them all, and has here described them.

No. 6. ETHEL TREVOR; or, The Duke's Victim. 8vo, paper. 50 Cents.

Had the earth opened and swallowed this perjured aristocrat ere he did his victim this great wrong, it had been well with him. Our author holds nothing back—all—all is told.

No. 7. CANONBURY HOUSE; or, The Quee :'s Prophecy. 8vo, paper. 50 Cents.

There are few scenes in history so black and bloody as those that form the staple of this work. Reynolds never weakens his pictures by omitting any incident, however splashed with gore.

No. 8. ADA ARUNDEL; or, The Secret Corridor. 8vo, paper. 50 Cents.

Could the denizens of palaces have foreseen that the day would come when all their follies and vices would be given to the world in all their glaring deformity, they might have acted differently.

No. 9. OLIVIA; or, The Maid of Honor. 8vo, paper. 50 Cents.

Reynolds being himself of noble birth, had an intimate acquaintance with the living aristocracy, and means of knowing the history of the past. Like Mirabeau he has unveiled their secret loves and hates relentlessly.

No. 10. OMAR PASHA; or, The Vizier's Daughter. 8vo, paper. 50 Cents.

This great Turkish general underwent strange adventures, both in harem and in palace, ere his surprising fortunes culminated by his promotion. Our author tells us all about these adventures.

No. 11. CATHARINE VOLMAR; or, A Father's Vengeance. 8vo, paper. 50 Cents.

If there is another book so filled with events to interest, delight, and, sometimes to appal, we confess we have never read it. This work is one among ten thousand.

No. 12. THE WHITE LADY, a Romance of Love and War. 8vo, paper. 50 Cents.

All that the most poeti : fa icy could conceive of the master-passions of the human heart are here described by "the so potent art" of this great master of romantic fiction.

No. 13. LEILA; or, The Star of Mingrelia. 8vo, paper. 50 Cents.

Reynolds here takes us to an unexplored region—the very home of romance—among the lovely maidens from which the seraglios of Constantinople are chosen. Alas, the pictures that he paints have a sad reverse side.

No. 14. KARAMAN, the Bandit Chief. 8vo, paper. 50 Cents.

Scenes fill these startling pages wild as the region where they transpire—in the land of the mountain crag and the thundering cataract, passions as wild and deeds as fearful are shown to exist.

No. 15. THE FIRST FALSE STEP; or, The Path of Crime. 8vo, paper. 50 Cents.

If the silent watcher who throws the beacon-light across the waste of waters to warn the incautious mariner deserves praise, how much more the great writer who points the unwary to the fatal path that leads to destruction.

No. 16. ROSE SOMERVILLE; or, A Husband's Mystery. 8vo, paper. 50 Cents.

The mantle of mystery that enshrouds the principal character in this book baffles conjecture and excites curiosity. It is truly a wonderful story—none but itself can be its parallel.

No. 17. THE MISER'S WILL; or, The Doom of the Poisoner. 8vo, paper. 50 Cents.

We may ransack libraries for years without meeting with a volume that so completely takes our reason prisoner and hurries us along with such bated breath from first to last.

No. 18. THE PALACE OF INFAMY; or, The Slave Woman of Eng and. 8vo, paper. 50 Cents.

When we read this dreadful recital of the snares and pitfalls set for the innocent daughters of poverty in England, we cannot help wishing for some thunderbolt "red with uncommon wrath," to dash the betrayer to the earth they disgrace.

All of the above books are handsomely printed, with illustrated uniform paper covers, and make very attractive volumes.

 Single copies sent to any address in the United States or Canadas, postage free, on receipt of the retail price (as above).

The F. W. ROBINSON SERIES

ROBINSON is "one of the few, the immortal few" authors who have described with thrilling accuracy every phase of human life, without ever sullying a solitary page by one impure idea or word. But he shows that purity of thought and language by no means necessarily leads to paucity of ideas or weak sentences; on the contrary, Robinson's books are models of striking plots, strongly chiselled characters, brilliant descriptions, and terse, vigorous and characteristic dialogue. In the portrayal of homelike scenes Robinson often rivals DICKENS, while many of his thrillingly eloquent portrayals of passions equal the "breathing thoughts and burning words" that have given BULWER his unquestioned niche among the master spirits of English literature.

1. ONE AND TWENTY; A Novel. Happy as the Author has been in the selection of his subject he has been still happier in his charming manner of treating it. He has made Love the dominant impulse of the young hearts that render this book the most delightful it has been our fortune to peruse.

2. WILDFLOWER; A Novel. Taking one of the most bewitchingly lovely creatures for his heroine the author takes her through trials and adventures that bring out all her latent glorious qualities, and render her the cynosure behind which cluster the other living personages of the book.

3. GRANDMOTHER'S MONEY. In this book Mr. Robinson strikes a higher and grander note than most of our novelists. Nobly, too, does he carry through his swelling theme. Avarice was never painted with his hideous features, and never have the craving sycophants who cringe to wealth been so forcibly pilloried for all time.

4. SWEET NINETEEN; A Novel. Again thrice welcome I say we to a new book by Robinson. The flowers of spring and the fruits of autumn are not more welcome; and, indeed, in this gifted author's books we find the choicest spring flowers of fancy, and the matured and juicy wisdom of the autumn of the mind.

5. UNDER THE SPELL; A Novel. Most aptly christened. It keeps every reader waiting with eager eye and bated breath through every richly painted page—pages that give reality to some of the best creations that ever the novelist's cunning and busy brain has formed.

6. THE HOUSE OF ELMORE; A Family History. Intensely melodramatic in conception and execution. A sombre pall envelopes the fortunes of this ill-starred family. The boding raven should have been their crest; but there are gentle, innocent creatures in these darksome pages that seem all the brighter and more beauteous by contrast with their gloomy surroundings.

7. ANNE JUDGE, SPINSTER. Of all the pure, loveable creations, by either poet or novelist, ANNE JUDGE, as here delineated, is one of the purest and most loveable. Her tender devotion to her poor, old, broken father, is as beautiful in its way as that of Little Nell for her aged grandsire. Warp and woof is full of generous human sympathies.

8. RUTH GARNET; or, Loves of the Earl of Rochester. The author has happily taken some of the most interesting passages in English History, and woven them into a tale of amazing interest. The heroine enlists our warmest sympathies in the outset, and retains them to the last, as she passes through her strange career.

9. THE HEIRS OF DERWENTWATER; A Novel. Unfortunately, it is but seldom that our critical vision is blessed by the pages of a book so completely excellent. The action of the story is refreshingly lifelike; no tiresome, discursive writing; onward, onward the reader is pleasantly hurried, till the last brilliant sentence is arrived at.

10. OLD NOLL; or, The Days of the Ironsides. No phase of English History affords such varied and effective pictures, either for the painter or the novelist, as that in which the Lord Protector swayed the iron sceptre over his native England. This book, while full of romantic incidents, gives an admirable idea of the conflicts between the Roundheads and Cavaliers.

11. HEADS AND HEARTS; or, My Brother, the Colonel. A book to be read, and read again, with renewed delight. The style is so clear that every description, every incident is revealed as plainly as the shells and pebbles through the translucent medium of a brook. The contests between heads and hearts, as in real life, is maintained with fierce earnestness.

12. THE SECRETARY; or, Circumstantial Evidence. The subtle web whose threads enmesh the leading character of this book is woven with a skill and deftness that remind us of the plottings of a Fouché or the artful imaginings of a Poe. We watch, with intense, unwearied interest, every slender filament that goes to strengthen the growing bonds.

13. SHIRA; A Novel. Those Arabs of civilization, the gipseys, have given subjects for many brilliant works of imagination, but we know of no book in which the dusky denizens of forest and woodland have been so successfully conveyed into the regions of fiction as in this book. It is the book of the season; and, indeed, few seasons witnesses the advent of such a charming book.

14. OLIVE; A Novel. This work points a moral in a most striking style. It shows the career of one who, letting passion take the helm, is borne into all the furious storms that beset the fiery, untamed souls of too many ardent youths. The work is full of thrilling and saddening scenes; too full, alas! of truth to be gainsayed.

Each of the above books makes a handsome 8vo volume; printed on fine white paper. Price 50 cents.

Miss M. E. BRADDON'S STORIES

A great writer like a great comet appears but in a cycle of years. Since SCOTT we have had no like genius for romance 'till BRADDON. The same wonderful skill in analyzing character, the same extraordinary power in depicting the emotions and passions, and the same supreme ability in constructing plots: mark these two grand writers of different epochs.

No. 1. The White Phantom; or The Nameless Child.

8vo. PAPER. 75 CENTS.

The authoress seems to have dipped her versatile pen in some miraculous fluid, and straightway start up in her pages, personages more interesting than were ever before grouped together.

Here we have a matchless plot—extremely interesting personages—spirited descriptions of persons and places—all told with consummate skill.

No. 2. The Factory Girl; or All is not Gold that Glitters

8vo. PAPER. 75 CENTS.

A noble truth is strongly enforced in these graphic pages. The career of a genuine heroine is detailed with the most admirable skill and effect.

Had Miss Braddon never penned another line, this book would have ensured lasting celebrity, if not immortality to her name.

No. 3. The Black Band; or The Mysteries of Midnight.

8vo. PAPER. 50 CENTS.

All that the most vivid imagination can conceive of Illuminatti, Carbonari, Fem Gerichte, is powerfully explained and depicted in these dark occult pages.

Miss Braddon revels in such obscure, and at first sight, mystical descriptions, that we were led to exclaim "can such things be?" The recent assassinations by orders of a mysterious order, answers "yes."

No. 4. Oscar Bertrand; or The Black Band Unmasked.

8vo. PAPER. 50 CENTS.

In vain we ransack the hidden chambers of the Spanish Inquisition, the iron-clasped records of the Bastile, the secret archives of the star-chamber for aught to compare with the revealments of this strange book.

Dark and dismal as the descent to Avernus are the gloomy incidents depicted in these pages. Had not recent events proved their truth, we should have held them too terrible for belief.

No. 5. The Octoroon; or The Lily of Louisiana.

8vo. PAPER. 50 CENTS.

In this singular work, the gifted writer has thrown the calcium light of truth upon some of the darkest plague-spots of Louisiana life. All is wonderful—all is true, alas.

On the cane-fringed banks of the Mississippi, as on the flower-embroidered border of the Thames, this great authoress is quite at home. She has here given us a story which may have an equal—certainly no superior.

No. 6. Blue Band; or A Story of Woman's Vengeance.

8vo. PAPER. 50 CENTS.

Intense passion. The human heart in a burning furnace of trial and affliction. Love that survives poverty and persecution. These are the component parts in this wild drama of human life.

There appears to be no limit to the power of this great authoress: every subject she touches, she exemplifies or adorns. Disguise and crime shrink exposed from her touch like Satan from the spear of Ithuriel.

No. 7. Leighton Grange; or Who Killed Edith Woodville

8vo. PAPER. 25 CENTS.

Compare these pages with any other romancist of the day, and how great and glorious the contrast. Miss Braddon writes like one who has a purpose, an aim; and most admirably does she make us see that aim.

Leighton Grange is a most extraordinary and most powerful array of incidents, welded into a most admirable and compact romance. Not a sentence too little—not a paragraph too much.

Above works are carefully printed, on fine paper, from excellent electrotype-plates, strongly bound, in brown paper covers.

PIERCE EGAN'S STORIES.

THE author of the following great books has attained a success as genuine, and pronounced, in his peculiar field, as either Marryatt, Bulwer or Dickens. He has the wondrous faculty of imparting an intense and absorbing interest to his varied characters.—His plots are real miracles of ingenious complication, their denouments being riddles impossible of solution by the most penetrating of novel readers; and yet all is conducted to a natural and probable explanation. PIERCE EGAN'S popularity is continually on the increase, and most deservedly so—for he continually improves: so that his LAST seems always to be his BEST book.

1. The London Apprentice and the Goldsmith's Daughter. 8vo, Paper, 25 cents.
Seizing upon one of the most striking periods of English history, the author has so effectively wrought his incidents as to produce a work that may successfully vie with Scott or Bulwer.

2. Li lian's Fate, or Lads of Old London. 8vo, Paper, 25 cents.
These pages actually revivify the most picturesque of olden cities—London, with all its pageants, fights, and most romantic incidents of intrigue and love-making.

3. The Veiled Lady, or The Throne and the Scaffold. 8vo, Paper, 25 cents.
Surely never were terribly impressive scenes described with such terribly impressive power, as in Egan's 'Veiled Lady.' The reader can easily imagine himself touching the blood-dripping scaffold.

4. Clifton Grey, or The Birthright Restored. 8vo, Paper, 25 cents.
In 'Clifton Grey' Egan shows that it is not only in depicting 'castles grey and ruins hoary' that he excels. Here he employs his wizard stylus in describing modern phases of life and character.

5. Myra, or The Cruise of the Sea Bird. 8vo, Paper, 25 cents.
Seldom have we an opportunity to 'praise so much, condemn so little,' as in this really charming romance. Pierce Egan happily blends the eternal truth with fiction.

6. The Snake in the Grass. 8vo, Paper, 50 cents.
Another of Pierce Egan's truly great novels—great alike in conception and execution. The heroine is magnificently drawn, and stands out in loveliness, like the statue that enchants the world.

7. Lady Blanche, or The Castle and the Cottage. 8vo. Paper, 50 cents.
In this delightful novel the author has depicted each extreme of life—the tenderly cherished lily of aristocracy and the little cared-for daisy of the humbler class. Both are painted to the life.

8. The Flower of the Flock, 8vo, Paper, 50 cents.
Egan's power of rivetting the attention of his readers, is superior to that of any other writer. He may justly be styled 'the Homer of the stock' of modern novelists.

9. Ada Leigh, or The Love Test. 8vo, Paper, 50 Cents.
"Most assuredly no writer of our time discourses so eloquently of love affairs as does Egan. The sad distraught of broken heartedness, equally with the joyous rapture of a love returned, vivify his novels."

10. Love Me, Leave Me Not. 8vo, Paper, 50 cents.
A good plot, excellent description, glowing periods, a maid all love and beauty, a youth of wit and promise. What more is needed?"

11. Lionel Jocelyn. 8vo, Paper, 50 cents.
This book is no mere charavari of incidents, thrown together hap-hazard, but the labored production of a practiced scholar.

12. The Blue Eyed W[illegible]ch, or Not a Friend in the World. 8vo, Paper, 50 cents.
A life record of the tarnished career of one of the most angel-visaged beauties that ever blessed our sphere. Her sad, sad history, is full of tremulous throbs, 13. My Love Ka[illegible], or The Dreadful Secret. 8vo, Paper, 50 cents.

The pallid features and clay-cold lips of despair, though wierdly pictured in those interesting pages, by no means form the staple attraction. There are many passages full of fervid utterances.

14. The Poor Boy, or The Betrayer Baffled. 8vo, Paper, 50 cents.
Rarely have the struggles of youthful poverty been so truthfully and effectively portrayed. The author appears to have dipped his 'grey goose quill' into the magic inkstand of Dickens.

15. Mark Jarrett's Daisy, The Wild Flower of Hazlewood. 8vo, Paper, 50 cents.
This is the cap-sheaf to a rich harvest of literary fame, which has been reaped in the field of literary labor. Mr. Egan may well be proud of his latest book.

16. Ever my Queen, or Only a Work Girl. 8vo, Paper, 50 cents.
Again have we to chronicle the welcome appearance of one of Pierce Egan's brilliant productions. Fresh, original, vigorous and full of strong, sustained interest from the initial sentence to the close.

Every one of the above books is nicely printed, on good paper, brown paper covers, and make a handsome volume.

 Single copies sent to any address in the United States or Canadas, postage free, on receipt of the retail price (as above).

MARRYATT'S NOVELS.

DE WITT'S UNIFORM AND CHEAP EDITION.

PRICE TWENTY-FIVE CENTS EACH.

NEWTON FOSTER. Gives a clearer idea of a seaman's existence than a voyage around the Horn. Neither terrible nor merry adventures are omitted. Indeed one passes from the cabin to the fo'castle as in real life.

MIDSHIPMAN EASY. This writer never wrote a dull book. Marryatt was every inch a sailor—knew a sailor's every foible, every whim, and has painted them to the life.

PETER SIMPLE. About the best sea story in the language. Thousands have laughed till the tears came, at the locker full of fun that the Captain opens for all—powder-monkey or middy alike.

PACHA OF MANY TALES. The many tales will be found equal to one another, and all excellent, and never tedious in length. Yet are they never, "like the cur's continuation," cut off too close to the ears.

THE PIRATE AND THE THREE CUTTERS. All kinds of visions arise before the reader's eyes—frowning men, clambering aboard contested craft; shots exchanged; cutlasses clashing—in short, a fierce encounter with the crew of the ship assailed.

THE KING'S OWN. Here we have unalloyed enjoyment—the sea breeze, the exciting episodes, the novel, interesting sights, scenes and persons, without the discomforts attending them. Most admirably has the author blended lights and shades in this great romance.

JAPHET IN SEARCH OF A FATHER. No writer has risen worthy to wield Marryatt's unrivalled pen. No reader ever regrets having started out with Japhet in his long, long, laborious search.

SNARLEYOW, THE DOG FIEND. "Snarleyow" will have been found guilty of making Daniel Lamberts of the human race. The person who has not yet perused this book has "a high old time" in store for him.

JACOB FAITHFUL. Marryatt knew every strand in a sailor's life, and there has never been one so able in portraying. Blow high and or blow low, the Captain is "always on deck."

FRANK MILDMAY. Perhaps in no other work does Marryatt better evince his wonderful power than he does in "Frank Mildmay." Whether "running under bare poles" or "carrying every stitch of canvas," none can beat the "Cap."

PERCIVAL KEENE. This writer knew every craft that ever floated, with a no less thorough knowledge of every wish, hope, fear that ever pulsated in a true heart. This has made Marryatt the best nautical novelist that ever lived.

PHANTOM SHIP. If anybody knows more about "Wizard Skiffs," and "Flying Dutchmen" than Marryatt "runs off" in this book, he can take our tarpaulin and the last "chaw" of Lorillard we have in the locker.

RATLIN, THE REEFER. The happiest days of our existence were when we were "laying off" in the foretop of old "Ironsides," reading this charming book to our all-delighted messmates.

THE POACHER. In this book Marryatt proves that he could write equally as well of "shore" life as of a "life on the ocean wave." The adventures of Joseph Rushbrook are very affecting.

POOR JACK. The life history of this little sea-side waif is one of the most truthful narratives of the troubles and trials of a sailor-boy's cruise that has ever been entered in the log-book of life.

MASTERMAN READY; OR, THE WRECK OF THE PACIFIC. A book of wrecks, and coral isles, and orange groves, of dusky maids in the ocean billows, and of half-wild runaway sailor boys.

VALERIE. Evidently written by Marryatt to show that he was equally at home on the land as on the sea. Powerful and tender scenes dramatically portrayed and contrasted.

All of the above books are neatly printed, with paper covers, and make very nice volumes.

 Single copies sent to any address in the United States or Canada, postage free, on receipt of the retail price as above).

THE CLAUDE DUVAL SERIES.

A notable man was Claude Duval, and in his day his whereabouts was as regularly chronicled as the movements of the royal family. He seemed to be ubiquitous; for hardly would the cry be raised that he had robbed some alderman of his diamond snuff-box and bag of guineas in Essex, before it was confidently asserted that he had stopped the travelling carriage of some fair duchess, and compelled her to dance a minuet before she could proceed on her way. The rascal was so clever that thousands of cases are given in this series in which he seemed to be doing ill for the fun of the thing. Of course it was no fun to his victims; nor, in the end, was it any fun to him. Price 25 Cents Each.

No.

THE NIGHTSHADE SERIES.

Rightly named has been this series of very interesting books. Though much of the incident is such that it necessarily appears in the annals of highwaymen, still large portions of these works abound in other and equally interesting scenes. Love plays the mischief with the red-coated marauder as well as with his more honest victims; and startling are many of the scenes where a country lass discovers that her fine gentleman sweetheart was at best but a "minion of the moon." A very readable set of books, indeed. Price 25 Cents Each.

No.

1. Nightshade; or, Claude Duval, the Dashing Highwayman.
2. Nightshade on the Heath; or, Claude and the King.

4. Hounslow Jack; or, Duval and the Dark Lantern.
5. Claude in the Cathedral; or, A Night in the Vaults.

THE HANDSOME JACK SERIES.

One of the ablest writers in England has employed his time in writing this remarkable list of books. They abound in wonderfully smart descriptions of the strange acts necessarily following in a highwayman's career. Now boldly rifling coach passengers of their money; anon flying over hedges and ditches, with half a county mounted at their heels; now squandering their ill-gotten golden guineas in riotous living; anon writing their dismal epitaphs upon the damp walls of their cells. Life of strange vicissitudes—lessons to the unwary—flaming beacons to warn youth from reefs and quicksands. Price 25 Cents Each.

No.

1. Handsome Jack; or, The Shadow of the Scaffold.
2. Jenny Diver; or, The Female Highwayman.

7. Gypsy Bess; or, Gay Life on the Road.
8. Jack Rann; or, Sixteen-String Jack.
9. Sixteen-String Jack; or, The Perilous Deeds of Jack Rann

THE JONATHAN WILD SERIES.

It is impossible to understand aught of the social life in England during the last century without knowing all about the highwaymen, and the detectives employed to capture and convict them. We need hardly say that Jonathan Wild was the most famous of the latter. The following books, while they exhibit the dashing outlaws in all their apparent success, follow them through all the sinuosities of their career till they reach their inevitable goal—the felon's cell and the scaffold of the condemned. Price 25 Cents Each.

No.

1. Jonathan Wild; or, The Daring Adventures of Paul Clifford.
2. Paul Clifford's Revenge; or, The Fate of Jonathan Wild.
3. Wild in Limbo; or, The Escape of Paul Clifford and the Rescue of Dora.

WORKS OF SIR EDWARD LYTTON BULWER.

(LORD LYTTON.)

It is almost superfluous to say a word in praise of the prince of novelists. He holds an undivided sceptre over the mind of every intelligent reader. For skillful plots, fine discrimination of character, and powerful delineation of passion, he has no equal. Time flies, and in his course sweeps down the budding as well as the matured fruits of other authors—but his keen scythe leaves the productions of Bulwer as fresh and lovely as when he first gladdened the eyes of his readers with their manifold excellences. PRICE TWENTY-FIVE CENTS EACH.

RIENZI. This glorious Republican treads amid the broken pillars of the antique forum, and rouses his fallen countrymen. In this great book Bulwer admirably blends the old heroic souls of the ancient Roman with the picturesque, and perhaps more loveable, personages of early Italy.

PELHAM; or, The Adventures of a Gentleman. Bulwer gives us an insight into the fashionable phase of London Society, and makes us acquainted with the real "higher classes."

PAUL CLIFFORD. It takes nothing from the interest of this great story to know that many of its incidents are true to life. It shows that vice in its most captivating form but leads to destruction.

EUGENE ARAM. Stripped of all embellishment, this is the most woful tale that ever was truly told; but, told as Bulwer has narrated it, it would bring tears from any eyes, "how'ver unused to the melting mood."

THE DISOWNED. No story was ever more full of striking incidents, or of more deeply cut characters. Truly a great novel; a novel, indeed, that has no superior among books of its class.

FALKLAND. Full of the tenderness of Petrarch and the ardor of Abelard. Unlike any other work by him, it is still full of genius. It is out of the fulness of the heart that the mouth pours forth its eloquence.

In same volume:

PILGRIMS OF THE RHINE. Every reviewer has eulogized this charming volume. Those who intend travelling on the blue stream that mirrors Bingen on its bosom should read this book.

LAST DAYS OF POMPEII. It required the highest genius to fitly describe the terrible overwhelming of this city. The blind girl, Nidia, has furnished themes for playwrights, painters and sculptors.

THE STUDENT. The thoughtful devotee of science is most poetically depicted. The interesting scholar, with his face "sicklied o'er with the pale cast of thought," is a noble character.

DEVEREUX. Even Bulwer cannot hope to surpass this story. It seems perfection in every particular. We can recall the name of no modern book that has taken such a firm hold on popularity.

Bulwer's Complete Plays (De Witt's Acting Edition).

Being the Complete Dramatic Works of LORD LYTTON (Sir Edward Lytton Bulwer, Bart.), comprising "The Lady of Lyons," "Money," "Richelieu," "The Rightful Heir," "Walpole," "Not So Bad as We Seem," "The Duchess de la Valliere." DE WITT'S "GOOD BOOKS" SERIES.

ONLY 10 CENTS EACH.

This list of most interesting and instructive works includes almost every subject worth reading about. While there is nothing more thrilling to be found in the wildest pages of romance, parents can safely place all of these books in their children's hands, for they relate Facts, not Fancies. Reading such books as the following will wean the youthful readers from pernicious literature, and improve both their understanding and their taste.

De Witt's "Good Books" Series will be printed from new and elegant faced type, on very fine strong paper, in the neatest style. Many of the books are very handsomely illustrated with pictures of merit. These books will be issued in the order in which they are arranged below.

SCOUTS OF THE WEST; or, The Rifle and the Tomahawk.—Innumerable have been the histories and the stories giving more or less truthful accounts of Indian life: but none of them have come so close to the reality of the red man's way of living, hunting, fighting, and dying as this most readable book. It is written by one who was himself a prominent actor in the scenes he so vividly pictures; who had seen the deadly rifle poised, heard the whizzing of the death-bearing bullet, and felt a pang go to his very heart at the thud of the fated leaden pellet that sent a son or a father to a forest grave.

BITS OF HUMOR; or, Drolleries of Human Nature.—Any one that has the good luck to read this diverting book will wonder, as he laughingly turns over page after page, where the author contrived to find such a lot of amusing tid-bits. Many of the stories are screamingly funny, while others are full of that quiet humor that makes one mark every quaint point with a quiet chuckle.

THE BOOK OF CRIMES AND PUNISHMENTS.—Containing examples of terrible Russian punishments, Turkish barbarities, victims of the Guillotine, torturing a girl of thirteen, revenges of jealous Spanish women, a human vampire, breaking on the wheel. These are but a few examples of the awful instances of man's inhumanity to man. There are many more frightful atrocities recorded in this book of cases where fallible judges have got insanely drunk with the blood of the victims they have given over to torture and death.

WIGWAM AND CABIN; or, The Perils of the Early Pioneers.—Never were people more rudely tried in the furnace of suffering than were the hardy settlers who, bidding good-bye to ease and comfort, boldly struck out into the pathless forests of the unknown West, taking their lives in their hands, and never turning their faces to their old homes, but pressing on toward the setting sun, grappling with wild-cats and wolverines, grizzlies, and still more ferocious Indians. The pages of this work are full of startling surprises, and abound in passages of the most thrilling interest.

YANKEE STORIES, Illustrating Adventures of the Down-Easters This book contains a big lot of "genooine" Down-East fun, equalling the best yarns of Sam Slick and Major Jack Downing. Among a "heap" of other good stories are "The Butting Buck," "The Yankee in a Music Store," "One of the Courting Scrapes," "Zeke Jones's Story," "Zeph Timid's Adventures with the Gals," "Yankee Courtship," and ever so many more of the like kind. It's nothing but fun from the word "go."

IDLE HOURS WITH THE HUMORISTS.—Brimful of Fun about Yankee Yarns, Western Sports, Boarding-house Hash, Rich College Scrapes, Wild Widows' Wit, and Tall Tales of Sailors and Marines. There are no far-fetched jokes and thread-bare anecdotes in these pages. Everything is fresh, piquant, breezy; as lively as a close-reefed topsail blow, with the white caps dancing in wild antics in all directions.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES OF VARIOUS NATIONS.—This book will receive attention at the present time, when people are fully aroused to the necessity of indulging in active out-door exercise to combat the weakening and debilitating effects of the sedentary employments now necessarily so much in vogue. Here we learn how the Roman Army that conquered half a world first learned in childhood to subdue the waves; here we see how the Grecian athletes so strengthened and hardened their muscles as to defeat the thousands who fell under their swords at Marathon. In fact there never has been a Sport or Pastime of any account that is not fully and graphically described in this book.

STORIES OF THE WHALE; or, Perils of the Whale Fishery.—It was in skirmishing on the confines of the North and South Poles, driving the harpoon into the monsters of the deep, that our best and bravest seamen got those lessons in seamanship and manly courage which made them the most skillful and intrepid sailors that ever carried a ship into action. This work details everything about whalers and whaling, from the moment the crying 'prentice shins up the slippery side of the outward-bound craft till he returns, with more blubber and less blubbering, to enjoy the proceeds of his dangerous toils.

SCALPING KNIFE, and The Log Cabin in Flames.—This Book will compare with any one of its kind in deep and tragic interest.

HISTORY OF THE HORSE, and Thrilling Feats of Horsemanship Everything connected with the noblest of animals, the horse, always finds interested readers. All the great feats of horsemanship by the daring riders of different nations are here pictured with proper life and fire.

BOOK OF SHIPWRECKS, and Adventures on the Ocean.—Hardly one of the dreadful scenes in which strong ships have been shivered to splinters on iron-bound coasts or whelmed in the heaving surges of mid-ocean has escaped the writer's notice.

YANKEE DROLLERIES; or, Sketches of Down-Easters.—This book is full of those rare old stories that "beat all creation" as rib-ticklers and wrinkle-smoothers.

THRILLING STORIES ABOUT SNAKES and Snake-Charmers. Much as one loathes and shrinks from snakes, there is still a strange, contradictory feeling of fascination that conquers this repulsion and holds one spell-bound. Many of these narratives are new; all most strange and thrilling.

HUNTING THE ELEPHANT; or, Adventures in South Africa. All like to read about the daring hunters who pursue, capture and kill the largest and most knowing of animals, the elephant, undergo terrible privations, and run fearful risks to procure that ivory which has ever been an object of human cupidity.

HUNTING IN SOUTH AFRICA; or, Perils of a Forest Life.—Anything relating to this wild, weird land—the home of superstition and mystery—commands readers. These pages will interest equally with the most entrancing descriptions of Du Chaillieu and Stanley among the gorillas and dwarfs of the dark continent.

Philip Barton Key, Esq., U. S. District Attorney, of Washington, D. C.....Price 50 Cents.

As this edition is a verbatim one, it, of course, is not only the most interesting for the general reader, but makes it a necessity in every lawyer's library. It is a perfect transcript of all the incidents of the Washington Tragedy.

Awful Disclosures of Maria Monk, of the Hotel

Dieu Nunnery of Montreal.....Price $1.50.

Almost every one has heard of the terrible disclosures of Maria Monk. When she appeared in New York, armed with documentary evidence, details of terrible criminality were rehearsed. The secrets of the convent dungeons were revealed. The secret passages were unearthed, and such a state of things developed as filled all believers with utter astonishment. The parties thus attacked denied the awful tales of profligacy and murder.

DE WITT'S "FORGET-ME-NOT" SONG BOOKS.

In quantity and quality alike, this series bears away the palm. Such a number of first-class songs was never before given at so low a price. These books are well printed, strongly bound, and are as neat in appearance as they are excellent in contents. They may be called "The Vocalist's Library," so complete are they in every particular. Every person that wants to have every good song in his possession, should obtain this unapproachable series.

"Sweetest Shakspeare, Nature's child, Warbles his native wood-notes wild."—MILTON.

☞ Please notice that nearly all the Comedies, Farces and Comediettas in the following list of "DE WITT'S ACTING PLAYS" are very suitable for representation in small Amateur Theatres and on Parlor Stages, as they need but little extrinsic aid from complicated scenery or expensive costumes. They have attained their deserved popularity by their droll situations, excellent plots, great humor, and brilliant dialogues, no less than by the fact that they are the most perfect in every respect of any edition of plays ever published, either in the United States or Europe, whether as regards purity of the text, accuracy and fullness of stage directions and scenery, or elegance of typography and clearness of printing.

 In ordering, please copy the figures at the commencement of each piece, which indicate the number of the piece in "DE WITT'S LIST OF ACTING PLAYS."

"Let those laugh now who never laughed before:
And those who always laughed now laugh the more."

Nothing so thorough and complete in the way of Ethiopian and Comic Dramas has ever been printed as those that appear in the following list. Not only are the plots excellent, the characters droll, the incidents funny, the language humorous, but all the situations, by-play, positions, pantomimic business, scenery, and tricks are so plainly set down and clearly explained that the merest novice could put any of them on the stage. Included in this Catalogue are all the most laughable and effective pieces of their class ever produced.

 In ordering, please copy the figures at the commencement of each play, which indicate the number of the piece in "De Witt's Ethiopian and Comic Drama."

DE WITT'S DRAWING-ROOM OPERETTAS.

TO MUSICAL AMATEURS.

The number of Musical Amateurs, both ladies and gentlemen, is not only very large, but is constantly increasing. And very naturally, for there is no more refined and pleasant mode of spending leisure hours than in singing and playing the choice productions of the best Composers. Hitherto there has been an almost total lack of suitable pieces adapted to an evening's entertainment in Parlors by Amateurs. Of course whole Operas, or even parts of Operas, require orchestral accompaniments and full choruses to give them effect, and are therefore clearly unfit for Amateur performance. While a succession of songs lacks the interest given by a plot and a contrast of characters. In this Series (a list of which is given below) we have endeavored to supply this want. The best Music of popular Composers is wedded to appropriate words, and the whole dove-tailed into plots that are effective as mere petite plays—but are rendered doubly interesting by the appropriate and beautiful Music, specially arranged for them.

RAMBAUD'S POPULAR HISTORY OF RUSSIA.

From the earliest times to 1880. This work is offered to the public as an appropriate companion to Guizot's Popular History of France. The immense popularity of Guizot's France is a proof of the fact that the best class of historical works, produced in the highest style of art, are fully appreciated by American book-buyers, and encourages the publishers to add to the series Rambaud's great work, which has won the unanimous approval of the press in this and all European countries, and has been crowned by the French Academy. A work thus honored by the highest literary authority in the world may safely be accepted by the American public as one which will be acknowledged as the Standard History of Russia. No good history of Russia exists in our language. The present work is offered as the only trustworthy and complete History of Russia in the English Language. Three vols., royal octavo. Price per vol., $5.50; sheep, $6.50; half calf, $7.50. Volumes 1 and 2 now ready. Volume 3 in press.

THE DICTIONARY OF COMMERCE, MANUFACTURES,

Commercial Law, Banking, Exchange, Insurance (Fire, Marine, and Life), Patents, Canals, Commercial Geography of the World, Customs Regulations, Docks, Interest and Annuities, Licenses, Maritime Law, Measures and Weights, Money, Railroads, Revenue Regulations, Shipping, Tariff of Duties, Taxation, etc., besides an explanation of Mercantile Terms and Usages. By L. De Colange, LL D, editor of "Zell's Encyclopædia," etc. Two volumes. Royal, 8vo. Price per volume, cloth, $6.75; sheep, $7.50; half mor., $8.25. Vol. 1 now ready. Volume 2 in press.

VICTOR DURUY'S HISTORY OF ROME.

From the earliest times to the fall of the Empire. Duruy's work is the only complete standard history of Rome. It will be issued uniform with Guizot's France, and will contain over two thousand fine illustrations. Six to eight volumes. Royal 8vo.

MARTIN'S POPULAR HISTORY OF FRANCE,

From the commencement of the French Revolution of 1789 to the fall of the last Empire, including the Consulate and the Empire, the Restoration, Revolutions of 1830 and 1848, Rise and Fall of Napoleon III., the Crimean and Franco-Prussian Wars. 3 vols. Royal 8vo. This work is published uniform with, and as a continuation of, Guizot's Popular History of France from the Earliest Times to 1879, and the two will form the only complete standard history of France in the English Language. Volumes 1 and 2 now ready. Volume 3, completing the work, in press.

THE PRIVATE LIFE OF M. GUIZOT.

By his daughter, Madame Guizot-De Witt. In addition to the cheap edition of this important work, we shall issue a special edition for the subscribers to M. Turner's Etchings of the Designs of the "Liber Studiorum" are of excessive rarity; very few impressions having been taken from the plates in this early condition. They are practically unattainable. Thirty-three of these etchings reproduced by the Heliotype process, as nearly as possible in fac-simile, of the same size as the original. Among the reproductions will be included the following:—

Jason; Basle; Æsacus and Hesperie; Duntanborough Castle; Ben Arthur; Little Devil's Bridge; Rizpah; and several unpublished plates, e. g.: Aqueduct and Stork; Via Mala; Dumbarton, &c., &c.

This great work is now offered to the American public, and the publishers, having spared no pains or expense in its reproduction, confidently believe that, as a specimen of book-making, it is unexcelled by any book made in America. By a special arrangement with the European publishers, we have secured electrotypes of all of the original woodcuts, by the celebrated artist, A. DE NEUVILLE, thereby securing impressions of the same fully equal to the originals. These three hundred illustrations are pronounced by some of the best Art judges in the country, to be the FINEST WOODCUTS EVER PRINTED IN AMERICA. Besides the above we shall add to the work FORTY MAGNIFICENT STEEL LINE ENGRAVINGS, by celebrated artists.

Persons wanting a good and reliable History of France, need have no hesitation in subscribing for this, as it is the only one of a popular nature, and by a standard historian, to be had in the English language. The publishers offer it confidently believing that it will supply a long-felt want. The world-wide reputation of GUIZOT is a sufficient recommendation to the work, and a guarantee of its being a thoroughly correct and an intensely interesting history.

History of Middlesex County, Mass., from the Earliest Times to the Present Day. Two large royal octavo volumes (size $8\frac{3}{4} \times 11\frac{1}{4}$) of about 500 double-column pages each. Illustrated.

Cloth, bevelled, extra	15.00
Half morocco, marbled edges, extra	20.00

It will contain a general history of the county from the first settlement; and will show the rise, growth, and progress of its religious, educational, agricultural, and manufacturing interests; its participation in the stirring scenes at the outbreak of the Revolution, and its literary and intellectual life. Edited by Samuel Adams Drake, author of "Historic Fields and Mansions of Middlesex," "Old Landmarks and Historic Personages of Boston," "Nooks and Corners of New England Coast." The work will also contain a carefully prepared epitome of the History of every Town in the County, compiled from original sources by the best informed persons, who have made an especial study of local history; the whole to be under the supervision of Mr. Drake. The town histories will form an especially valuable feature of the work, as they will contain much important historical information not otherwise accessible, and will also embrace biographical notices of important persons who have left their mark upon the civilization of the country and the world.

History of Worcester County, Mass., from the Earliest Times to the Present Day. By Rev. A. P. Marvin, author of "Worcester in the Civil War," "History of Lancaster," &c., aided by the best local historians in the county. Knight's (Chas.) Popular Shakspere. Pictorial Edition, illustrated with 340 Woodcuts, and 36 Full-page Plates. By Sir John Gilbert, A. R. A.; together with Illustrations on Steel, from pictures by C. W. Pope, R. A., W. P. Frith, R. A., Leslie, R. A., Maclise, R. A., E. M. Ward, R. A., C. Clint, A. R. A., H. S. Marks, A. R. A., W. Q. Orchardson, A. R. A., and others. The Work will be published in Thirty-six Serial Parts, at . . . . . 50 cts. each.

The text adopted in the present edition is that recently revised by MR. CHARLES KNIGHT, who, thirty years ago, issued the first number of his Pictorial Edition of Shakspere. As a "Labor of Love," the work grew under his hands, and on its completion, in England and America, it was universally admitted to be the best edition of the works of Shakspere, and one of the noblest contributions to the literature of the day. Thoroughly familiar with all that has been added to our knowledge of the poet's writings, Mr. Knight undertook a revision of his original work. By a collation of the early editions of the separate plays, which are in various public and private collections, he has been able to produce the most accurate text of Shakspere extant.

The size of this edition, being two volumes royal octavo, will keep it within the range of the bookcase, as well as render it a handsome addition to books for the drawing-room table, and it is believed to be the cheapest finely illustrated edition ever offered the public.

In addition to the carefully-edited text, and beautiful illustrations, it will contain a full Glossarial Index, and CHARLES KNIGHT'S COMPLETE NOTES, reprinted from the last London edition, without alteration or abridgment, thus making it invaluable to the student and an ornament to the library.

Living World, The. Containing Descriptions of the several Races of Men; and all Species of Animals, Birds, Fishes, Insects, &c., with numerous Anecdotes illustrative of their Instincts, Reasoning Powers, and Domestic Habits. The entire Work, when complete, will contain some 300 Colored Subjects. . . . . 24 Parts at 50 cts.

Life Studies of the Great Army. An Historical Work of Art, containing 65 Etchings on Copper, 40 Plates, in Portfolio, illustrating the Life of the Union Armies during the Civil War. By Edwin Forbes, Special Artist with the Armies of the United States, and Member of the French Etching Club. Published in Portfolio complete, or delivered to Subscribers in Ten Parts. Pictorial Sunday Reading. Containing Selections from the Old and New Testaments. 80 elegant Illustrations, and 650 pages, printed on superior toned paper. . . . . 20 Parts at 50 cts.

Picturesque World, The; or, Scenes in Many Lands. Large Quarto. Published in 48 serial parts, at . . . . . 50 cts. each.

This work is unsurpasssd in interest and beauty of illustration by any work ever offered to the American public. It will be profusely illustrated with more than one hundred steel engravings, and over eight hundred of the finest specimens of wood engraving which have ever been produced in any country. These illustrations are from designs and paintings by the very best European and American artists, among whom may be mentioned the following: Gustave Doré, Alph. de Neuville, Giacomelli, Anastasi, Daubigny, Foulquier, Batty, Strutt, Sir Chas. Eastlake, R. A., J. Stark, R. A., Kaulbach, Weber, Werner, Hermann Bohn, Granville Perkins, Thomas Moran, George L. Brown, and others of equal merit and distinction. It will be prepared under the editorship of Leo de Colange, LL. D., Editor Zell's Popular Encyclopædia and Dictionary, &c.

THE TRIBUTE MONEY.

Specimen of Full-Page Illustration from Clarke's Commentary on the New Testament.

The Standard Commentary;

Containing from two to five times more reading matter than any other Commentary published in a single volume.

COMPLETE IN ONE VOLUME.
A NEW ILLUSTRATED EDITION.

CLARKE'S COMMENTARY

ON THE

NEW TESTAMENT.

The Text Carefully Printed from the Most Correct Copies of the New Testament, and including the Marginal Readings and Parallel Texts, with a Commentary and Critical Notes, designed as a help to a better understanding of the Sacred Writings. Embellished with Magnificent Full-page Designs by Gustave Dore, and a Steel-Plate Frontispiece, engraved by Ary Scheffer, of "Christ the Remunerator," an engraving of exceptional beauty.

By ADAM CLARKE, LL.D., F.S.A., Etc.

A want has been so long urgently expressed for an edition at a moderate price of Clarke's Commentaries on the New Testament, which should embrace in the compass of a single volume the crowning literary achievement of Adam Clarke's life, that the present volume has now been published in response to this demand. Clarke brought to it all his resources of reading and Eastern scholarship for which he was so celebrated. No words of commendation seem needed, for the work has long taken a standard and enduring place that cannot be disturbed; but certainly no library or book-shelf can boast of even rudimentary completeness without this volume, which affords so full and complete, and yet so absorbing, an understanding of the Sacred Writings.

Every Sunday-school teacher and officer, every pastor and student, and every Christian family should have Clarke's Commentary on the New Testament, Illustrated. It is one of the best, if not THE BEST, aids to Bible study.

DESCRIPTION, STYLE, AND PRICES.

The work forms a Super-royal 8vo volume of 1008 pages, printed in the handsomest manner on fine toned and calendered paper, made to order. It is illustrated with the spirited and beautiful Doré Illustrations, printed on Tileston's plate paper. The work is durably and handsomely bound. The paper of this Circular shows the size of the paper of a page of the Commentary. The bound book forms a volume the cover of which is the size of this copy of the "Publisher's Trade List Annual," and the thickness of that volume is about one-fourth greater than that of Clarke's Commentary.

From the Original Translation.

By EDWARD WILLIAM LANE,

Author of "The Manners and Customs of Modern Egyptians," Etc., Etc.

ILLUSTRATED BY

MORE THAN ONE HUNDRED SPIRITED ENGRAVINGS,

After the Lane Originals;

TOGETHER WITH MANY FULL-PAGE ILLUSTRATIONS.

This is the only 12mo "Lane Edition" published in the United States, and takes rank among the most enduring works of fiction. It embraces a spirited and admirable translation by Mr. Lane, and embodies far more graphic power and vivid interest than any other English translation extant. It is invaluable as giving correct information concerning the Religion, Manners, Customs, Characters, and Principles of Action displayed among the inhabitants of a large part of Asia, and is one of the best aids in understanding the Oriental mind since the days of Mahomet.

Mr. Lane's long residence in the East as the official representative of Great Britain, and amid the romantic scenes his pen so delightfully portrays, makes his translation truly a "faithful portraiture of the land where they talk in flowers."

DESCRIPTION, STYLES, AND PRICES.

Comprised in a handsome Twelvemo volume of 640 pages, it contains nearly double the reading matter of any Twelvemo edition published. The text is printed in a superior manner from clear type, on toned paper made for the work. Specimen Engravings are shown on the opposite page. COMPLETE POETICAL WORKS OF

SIR WALTER SCOTT.

COMPACT, COMPLETE, AND CHEAP.

ONE HANDSOME TWELVEMO VOLUME.

THE FATAL MEETING.

In the yew grove my wife I found,
A stranger's arms her neck had bound.—Page 276, Verse xxi.

A great want has long been felt by the reading public for a Complete Illustrated Edition of the Poetical Works of Sir Walter Scott, with the Author's Notes, in one handsome volume of small size, which would combine beauty with portability, and moderate cost. The great author's NOTES are indispensable to the full understanding of his poetry. Heretofore, completeness in this respect has only been attained in books of large size, or in editions of several volumes, too ponderous or too costly for the general reader.

DESCRIPTION, STYLES, AND PRICES.

The book is an elegant 12mo, of over 700 handsomely printed pages — each page printed within a brilliant scarlet border of unique design. The paper was made expressly for the work, and is a delicate rose tint; the printing and binding cannot be surpassed. An excellent portrait, and 20 full-page engravings as above shown, illustrate the book.

☞Thirty Illustrations in this Edition, size and style of the above.

The manufacturers believe that no small-sized Edition of Shakspeare has been issued heretofore which combines beauty of typography with elegance of illustration to the extent that does the present publication. Among the many points of excellence may be given:—

Clearness of the Text, brightened with the brilliant and unique Scarlet Border that surrounds each page. Beauty of the delicately-toned, rose-tinted, sized, and calendered paper, made especially for this volume. Excellence and Elegance of Presswork and Binding. The beauty of the Illustrations.

DESCRIPTION, STYLES, AND PRICES.

Attention is especially called to the beauty of the 30 full-page illustrations. Each picture is a study in itself, combining excellence of design with spirit in execution: they are exquisitely printed, surrounded by the scarlet border, as in the text. A portrait of Shakspeare, and a steel plate frontispiece showing the full length statue in Central Park, New York, add value to this Edition. The work is issued in one handsome 12mo volume of 900 pages.

THE ILLUSTRATED HAZLITT EDITION

OF THE

Complete Works of Montaigne,

COMPRISING HIS ESSAYS, LETTERS,

AND HIS

JOURNEY THROUGH GERMANY AND SWITZERLAND INTO ITALY,

(In the Years 1580 and 1581.)

With a Comprehensive Life, and Full Explanatory Side- and Foot-Notes from all the Commentators, Etc., Etc.

By WILLIAM HAZLITT,

Author of a Translation of Michelet's Roman Republic; Guizot's History of the English Revolution; Thierry's History of the Conquest of England by the Normans, Etc.

WITH ELEGANT STEEL-PLATE ENGRAVINGS.

THE ILLUSTRATED HAZLITT EDITION of the Works of Michael de Montaigne, the manufacturers feel, need only to be examined to be thoroughly appreciated by the public; for, although Montaigne has long been a standard book in literature, the price of the costly foreign editions has heretofore been too great an obstacle to admit of a deserved circulation and a more general popularity. In this edition not only the points of excellence in type, binding, and paper have been fully attained, but the fine steel-plate engravings by such artists as Welch and Steel, add a novel and attractive feature to the volume—never hitherto successfully attempted in Montaigne's Works. Among other interesting subjects, the steel-plate illustrations of the portrait of Montaigne, (which was copied from the original French picture), and an admirable view of his castle, may be mentioned. Montaigne wrote at an interesting epoch in French history—that of the Huguenot wars—and to those who have not read his works, a well-spring of pleasure lies unopened. A comprehensive Index of eighteen pages gives additional value to the volume.

THE PRESS ON THE ILLUSTRATED HAZLITT EDITION.

From the Indianapolis Herald.

Few handsomer volumes have ever been issued from the American Press than this edition of the works of Montaigne, that father of the philosophy of common life and common sense. The "Illustrated Hazlitt Edition" of his works has now been published. The binding is elegant and substantial, the typography clear, and the paper solid and fine. These are no slight considerations in determining the choice of a work for permanent service in a library. Anything will do for a work for a single reading, or temporary interest; but a book that one wants to keep always, and read often, is a different thing, and one wants it dressed well and worthily. Dugald Stewart, the eminent Scotch philosopher, places him at the head of the writers on that philosophy of the mind which takes for its subject the affairs of life and the peculiarities of character, intellect, and social condition. A work that has become fixed in literature, and been admired by the ablest students, scholars, and readers of nearly three hundred years, needs no extracts or exposition of its merits at the present day.

From the Philadelphia North American.

Montaigne died in his sixtieth year, but his essays have given him another and a greater life. No one has ever united the liveliness, piquancy, and entertainment, with so much insight into character, frankness, and sincerity. Therefore, partly from his learning and partly for his theme, his essays live more vigorously than those of Chesterfield. They slightly exceed one hundred in number, and, while some treat of education, of defects of government, of sumptuary laws, and themes as grave, a majority consider miscellaneous topics,—cripples, coaches, glory, thumbs, cannibals, solitude, weaving clothes, variety, diversion, etc., etc. Three centuries have sealed the worth as well as the interest of Montaigne's Essays, so that the unsurpassed Illustrated Hazlitt Edition of his works, containing among its other steel plates, portraits of Tasso, Tacitus, Julius Cæsar, Plato, Zenophon, Sallust, Thucydides, and Montaigne himself, will find an appreciative demand. There are few new books more worthy to be placed where they are always accessible, and where their accessibility invites perusal.

DESCRIPTION, STYLES, AND PRICES.

The Illustrated Hazlitt Edition of Montaigne's Complete Works contains nearly 700 royal 8vo pages; is printed from a clear, readable type, on a toned paper made to order. The Steel-Plate Illustrations (among which are an admirable portrait of Montaigne and a view of his castle) are exceptionally beautiful, and form an interesting feature of the work. THE ILLUSTRATED ENFIELD EDITION

OF THE

Complete Works of Charles Lamb,

CONTAINING HIS LIFE, LETTERS, ESSAYS, POEMS, ETC.,

By SIR THOMAS NOON TALFOURD, D.C.L.,

Author of "History of Greece," "History of Greek Literature," "History of the Roman Republic," Etc.

TO WHICH HAS BEEN ADDED

Personal Reminiscences of Lamb, Coleridge, Southey, Wordsworth,

AND THEIR EARLY FRIEND AND PUBLISHER, JOSEPH COTTLE:

By AN AMERICAN FRIEND OF THE POETS.

WITH HANDSOME STEEL-PLATE PORTRAITS of Lamb and his Contemporaries and Steel-plate Engravings, by Whitechurch, Schmolze, Hall, Lawrence, Graham, and other distinguished Artists.

THE PERSONAL REMINISCENCES of Lamb, Coleridge, Southey, and Wordsworth is embraced in the Enfield Edition, and appears in no other issue of Lamb's works. In strong relief is portrayed the individual characters of this company of literati and their publisher; while presenting them at the same time in their contemporary aspect of friends, gratified at each other's successes and sharing in each other's difficulties.

THE ENFIELD EDITION.—The Publishers, in producing this elegant edition, desire to express their satisfaction in being able thus to assist in meeting the wants of a large portion of the American public for the choicest literature in the most presentable shape. They forbear, as unnecessary, any eulogy upon Lamb's writings, but give, as a reflex of the cordial reception that has greeted the appearance of this edition, two from among the many criticisms of American journals of high standing.

THE PRESS ON THE ILLUSTRATED ENFIELD EDITION.

From the Philadelphia North American.

In the Enfield Edition we have such a complete edition of all Lamb's writings as was never before printed. The very interesting "Personal Reminiscences" of Lamb, Coleridge, Southey, Wordsworth, and Cottle is prefixed to the volume; while portraits of Lamb, Southey, Scott, Rogers, Wordsworth, Coleridge amid the other illustrations show that the work makes no false claims to completeness. It is indeed an encyclopedia in its province, and that province is as charming as any in all the kingdom of letters — as Navarre when Blanche was queen. Whatever other privations may be required, all lovers of agreeable literature — of that which aims neither to teach nor direct — should aim to secure this volume. It will yield pleasure as long as sandal-wood yields perfume.

From the Cincinnati Commercial.

This fine volume is a treasure trove in itself. Besides the writings, familiar and unfamiliar, of gentle Elia, the "Personal Reminiscences" of Lamb, Southey, and Wordsworth are rare and beautiful reading. But who is this "American Friend" who writes them? What a touching story he gives of the youth and manhood of Charles Lamb, humorist, essayist, and poet; whose merriest writings reflect the shadow, but their soft enchantment is all the more powerful for that. Among the steel plates a striking portrait of Lamb is given as a frontispiece. It looks like the picture of a spinster with dyspepsia, having a wonderfully bright eye withal and a merry mouth. Would that we could give room here for extracts from these exquisite, incomparable essays. There never will be but one Charles Lamb.

DESCRIPTION, STYLES, AND PRICES.

The Enfield Edition of Lamb's Complete Works contains 670 royal 8vo pages, and is printed from a clear, readable type, on a toned paper. The Steel-Plate Portraits and Illustrations are exceptionally beautiful, and form a valuable feature of the work. The "Personal Reminiscences" of Lamb and his brother poets, by an American friend, shows a fresh and most interesting episode in the lives of these distinguished men, hitherto unknown. The book is furnished in the following styles and prices:

EXPLANATORY, CRITICAL, AND DEVOTIONAL COMMENTARY.

We have taken the few remaining copies of this unequalled book.

The Text contains the Old and New Testaments, with Marginal References and Illustrations, a summary of the several Books, a Paraphrase on the most important points, an Analysis of, and Practical and Devotional Reflections upon, each chapter, and several thousand highly interesting Explanatory Notes not to be found in any other edition of the Bible.

The ILLUSTRATIONS will be found to differ widely from such Bible Illustrations as have hitherto been current, and are such as amply to warrant this edition being called distinctively the most splendid Illustrated Family Bible ever issued. A number of these illustrations have been painted and engraved expressly for this edition, and others have been selected from the finest examples of the modern Continental Schools — one or two of which have never before been engraved — and none of which, with one exception, have ever appeared in an English Bible.

STEEL ENGRAVINGS.—The larger number are ideal subjects, replete with thought, aglow with poetry, fired with lofty conception, lifting meditative minds through the outward material of Bible facts to expatiate on their inward spirit. Two others, the only ones akin to landscape engravings, area view of Mount Sinai and a view of the Garden of Gethsemane and the Mount of Olives, both from Photographs; and these are introduced as symbolical of respectively the Old Dispensation and the New. Two others exhibit the Sacred Tabernacle, and various objects connected with the Ritual services, there or in the Temple; and these greatly assist an understanding of the numerous passages, both narrational and doctrinal, which typically teach the vital truths of Christianity.

The MAPS, several of which are given to afford aid for intelligent study of the historical books, are beautifully printed in colors, and two of them are reductions from the Ordnance Survey Maps of Jerusalem, and Mount Sinai and district, and excel previous maps at once in fulness, accuracy, and beauty.

Six splendid CHROMO-LITHOGRAPHS, exquisite in form and color, give about a hundred figures of the principal animals and plants mentioned in the Bible; tested and approved by eminent Zoologists and Botanists, and accompanied with descriptive letter-press.

DESCRIPTION, STYLES, AND PRICES.

As a whole, Zell's Illustrated Family Bible forms a magnificent and unequalled Imperial Quarto volume of 1400 pages, containing 132 Illustrations consisting of Engravings on Steel, Maps, Chromo-Lithographs, Illustrations of the Botany and Zoology of the Bible, and artistic and unique Family Registers. The bound volume measures 12 by 15 inches.

Large Quarto; Cloth, Full Gilt, $5.00; Morocco, Full Gilt, $10.00.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

From the Brooklyn Advance, September 1, 1879.

This sumptuous quarto volume contains one hundred of Gustave Doré's illustrations of the Bible, with an explanatory page facing each engraving, and a fine engraving of the artist. The fame of Gustave Doré is world-wide, but heretofore his works have been published in such expensive form as to be obtainable by only a limited class. This edition is in every sense a popular one. . . . The engravings are exceedingly well executed, the letter-press clear and distinct, and the volume, as a whole, is a most beautiful production.

From the Publishers' Weekly, September 6, 1879.

The "Doré Bible Gallery" contains a hundred of Doré's choicest illustrations of the Bible, reproduced from the French originals, with descriptive letter-press facing each plate. A fine portrait of Doré will serve as frontispiece. It should be noticed that the text makes the work acceptable either to Protestants or Catholics. The book is published in very rich style, at the low price of $6, cloth; $10, morocco.

From the Brooklyn Advance, October, 1879.

The Legend of the Wandering Jew. — This is a series of twelve designs, by Gustave Doré, with an explanatory introduction. Each of the twelve engravings, which are executed upon fine tinted paper, are accompanied by a two-line verse from the legend, serving to bring out the idea of the picture. The wonderful artistic powers of Gustave Doré are shown to great advantage amid the weird and awful scenes of "The Wandering Jew," and each picture is a study that will repay careful analysis.

From the Bookseller and Stationer, October, 1879.

The Fine Art Publishing Company, 535 Pearl street, New York, intends to make a specialty of fine art works. Their "Doré Bible Gallery" is a very elegant book, and is meeting with deserved success.

From the Inter-Ocean (Chicago), November 29, 1879.

Gustave Doré stands the peer of any living artist in originality, variety and perfectness in all the minutiæ of his art. The world has honored many great artists in single specialties, seldom, we may truthfully say never, has it witnessed such perfection in the variety of accomplishments as seen in Doré. "It is said that he has executed nearly 50,000 designs," and yet he is but forty-six years of age—just passed, "and is in the very zenith of his powers." The lovers of the beautiful may well acknowledge a debt of gratitude to the publishers of the present grand volume. . . . A full-page portrait of Doré is the frontispiece. The volume is a large quarto, and contains a hundred Bible illustrations and a page of explanatory letter-press facing each engraving. These are admirably written, and, taken with the illustrations, will more permanently fix the important events of the sacred record than in any other manner. As a book for the centre table, and as a gift book, its value and appropriateness will not be excelled by any book of the year. Such books are educators in the highest sense of the term.

From the Springfield Republican, December 30, 1879.

Here are considerably more than one hundred wood engravings of subjects from Genesis to Revelations, each accompanied with a brief description. The cuts are mainly well executed and printed, and the book very well samples Doré in this work, in which, however, he is never seen at his best. Yet there is no other artist living who could make so many designs of equal excellence and variety with so rarely a weak and paltry touch.

Fine Art Publishing Company.

From the Providence Journal, December 6, 1879.

The "Doré Bible Gallery" is one of the most successful productions that have done honor to the pencil of Gustave Doré. But its great size and expense have prevented its general circulation, and thus confined it within small limits. It was a happy thought, therefore, of the Fine Art Publishing Company, to issue on abridged edition, and make a selection from the illustrations that would bring the volume within the reach of persons with moderate means. The result of this effort has been highly successful, and the book takes its place among the satisfactory gift-offerings of the season. The new "Doré Bible Gallery" is a handsome quarto, containing one hundred illustrations from the large work, carefully selected as being most likely to suit the taste and judgment of American readers, as well as to picture the more familiar and striking events of the Bible, and preserve the unity and spirit of the whole. A page of explanatory text faces each engraving, and interprets whatever is obscure in the drawing, and no pains have been spared in bringing every part of the work to a high standard of excellence. The engravings differ in the degree of merit attained, but they all shadow forth the wonderful power of imagination possessed by this famous artist, the fertility of his design, the vastness of his conception, and the weird and fantastic scenes in which his fancy delights to revel. Wonderful research, painstaking and industry find expression in the details of the pictures, and altogether, if Doré had done nothing else except these illustrations of the Bible, he would have won undying fame as an artist. Though this is but a drop in the bucket, in comparison with the vast amount of work he has accomplished, he has seldom done better work, or anything that has been more marked by popular favor. The beautiful gift-book is therefore valuable for its inherent claims to notice, and valuable also as a study of the best work of one of the great artists of the age.

From the Literary World, December 6, 1879.

It would be superfluous, in speaking of this work, to enter into any extended criticism of the unique genius of Gustave Doré. He has his admirers, and his productions are certainly remarkable in number and kind. His illustrated Bible is one of his most imposing efforts, if not the most successful and attractive of them. We have never ourselves esteemed it so highly as some of his others; feeling that an imagination so grotesque and an execution so bold are better suited to a different range of subjects. Still he has illuminated many a figure and scene of Scripture history with a strong and vivid light; and it cannot be denied that some of his conceptions are both good and beautiful. In the quarto volume before us are selected one hundred plates from the original work, arranged in connection with brief descriptive letter-press, and prefaced with a sketch and portrait of Doré himself; the whole making not only a specimen collection of the artist's designs, but a pictorial summary of the Biblical narrative from Genesis to Revelation. The book is offered as a contribution to the provision for the holidays.

From the Christian Union, December 17, 1879.

This volume contains one hundred illustrations from the well-known Doré Bible, and when that has been said the volume has been described. Concerning Doré's illustrations as revealing the spirit and life of the secred narrative, there are many conflicting opinions, but there is no question as to their vividness and power.

From the N. Y. Tribune, November 25, 1879.

The Fine Art Publishing Company of New York have issued an abridged edition of the Doré Bible, containing a selection of one hundred illustrations, with explanatory notices, from the celebrated work of the author, devoted to the pictorial representation of the prominent scenes in sacred history. The great reputation of the original will attract the notice of book-buyers to this selection, which contains some of the most striking productions of Doré at a moderate cost.

Fine Art Publishing Company.

From the Hartford Courant, December 10, 1879.

The Fine Art Publishing Company has made a valuable contribution to the elegant books of the holiday season in the "Doré Bible Gallery." This is made up by taking one hundred of Gustave Doré's most superb illustrations of the Bible, full size, and printing them with a page of explanatory letter-press facing each engraving. Paper and letter-press are excellent, the engravings are well printed, and the volume is published in a thoroughly attractive style. The frontispiece is a portrait of the artist. . . . It is to be noted that the New Testament pictures are as full of reverent feeling as they are of beauty, and the conception of the tragic scenes, the crucifixion and martyrdoms, are full of sublimity. The author's strong contrasts of dark and light serve to express often profound spiritual feeling. Each one of these pictures is worthy of careful study and comment. We are very glad they have been put within the reach of the many.

From the Literary World, December 6, 1879.

The Fine Art Publishing Company, of New York, is offering handsomely illustrated and well-made books at a mere fraction of the cost of the expensive originals from which they are copied. "The Doré Bible Gallery" we have noticed above. "Atala," another fine quarto, with similar full-page illustrations, is Chateaubriand's romance of that name, and makes an elegant gift-book. "The Wandering Jew," a third specimen of Doré' artistic triumphs, comes in folio form.

This most beautiful gift book, consisting of one hundred of the best of Gustave Doré's illustrations of the Bible, together with a fine portrait of the artist, comes early before the public, as a candidate for public favor during the coming holiday season. As a work of art it will be greatly admired. The engravings are executed with great care, and all the finer touches of the great artist are fully emphasized. The arrangement of the engravings, faced with a single page of explanatory text, is simple, and calculated to direct full attention to the pictures. The author of the descriptive articles uses great taste in dealing with the subjects, and exhibits great ability in succinct statement and a great fund of Biblical knowledge. To those who have not seen the book, the price at which it is published will seem to indicate inferiority in workmanship. The very opposite, however, is the fact, and the Fine Art Publishing Co. deserve great credit in putting within the reach of lovers of books this most beautiful book at such a low price.

Issued in Twenty-one Parts (large paper), at Fifty Cents each; or, bound in two volumes, Cloth, Gilt Edges, $14; Half Morocco, Gilt, $18; Full Morocco, Antique, $22. (Subscription.)

"The almost matchless taste that presided over the collection, and the care with which it has been edited, leave little possibility that it will be superseded for many years to come."—Cincinnati Christian Standard.

"Nothing, indeed, is wanting, either in a literary or artistic point of view, to render the volume a precious gift to poetic taste and culture in this country, and an important element in the higher education of the people. . . . It has taken rank as the most complete and satisfactory book of the kind ever issued."—N. Y. Tribune.

"In paper, typography, and both wood and steel engraving it is a very worthy example of the best that a publisher can do for a book."—N. Y. World.

"Quite the perfect thing of its kind."—Publishers' Weekly.

CAMPBELL, HELEN.

UNTO THE THIRD AND FOURTH GENERATION. A Novel. 16mo. Extra Cloth, beveled boards, ink and gold stamping, $1. A very ingenious and absorbing narrative, illustrating in skillful characterization the principle of inherited traits, and developing most curiously the effects of rigid early teachings on impressible and passionate natures. It includes among its characters some capital Yankee studies, and, both in humor and in tragic interest, is a strong book.

"It is a powerful tale, handling with rare dexterity and good sense the much-befogged notion of inherited traits, under the most exciting and passion-breeding circumstances."—Rochester (N. Y.) Express.

"It is cool in tone, nevertheless showing much reserved power; with not many characters, but those well drawn, and some of them are shrewd and bright, and full of Yankee humor as they well could be. It will undoubtedly make a mark."—Indianapolis Sentinel.

"Has much of Zola's strength and interest, with none of his coarseness."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

THE EASIEST WAY IN HOUSE-KEEPING AND COOKING. Adapted to Home Use or School Study. By the Superintendent of the Raleigh (N. C.) Cooking School. A Book compact with good sense, Systematic, Practical Advice, well-classified and interesting information, and numerous Recipes chosen from the range of Northern and Southern Cookery, with hints from the housekeeping of foreign nations. A book for families in moderate circumstances, alike in town and country. 16mo, about 200 pp. Cloth, $1. (In Preparation.)

DAVIS, Mrs. S. M. HENRY.

LIFE AND TIMES OF SIR PHILIP SIDNEY. A Memorial of one whose name is a Synonym for every Manly Virtue. Illustrated with Three Steel Plates; Portrait of Sidney; View of Penhurst Castle; Fac-Simile of Sidney's Manuscript. 12mo. Cloth, beveled, stamped in ink and gold with Sidney's Coat-of-Arms, $1.50.

"A book well deserving the beautiful printing and binding into which the Fords have put it."—N. Y. Evening Mail.

"There is scarcely any satisfactory memoir of him accessible to the general reader, and the author of this book has done a good service."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"Worthy of place as an English Classic."—Pittsburgh Commercial.

In Preparation.

THE SAME. LARGE PAPER EDITION. Printed with red-line marginal rule on large, heavy, cream-laid paper. Cloth, beveled, panel side with Sidney's Coat-of-Arms. Gilt top, $3.75.

EGGLESTON, EDWARD.

CHRIST IN ART. A New Arrangement of the Four Gospels in a single, continuous, chronological narrative, in the exact language of the Evangelists (but without repetition of scenes), and divided naturally by topics, like a Modern Book. With copious Analytical Index. Illustrated with above One Hundred Full-page Engravings from the famous BIDA BIBLE, and numerous smaller engravings showing Implements, Apparel, Coins, Industries, etc. 4to. Cloth, Gilt Edges, $6; Half Morocco, Gilt, $8; Turkey Morocco, Gilt, $10.50. (Subscription.)

"It is a real service to religion and art to place these magnificent designs of Bida before the American public. The eye, the heart, the intellect are equally satisfied with such a book."—JOHN GREENLEAF WHITTIER.

"The text has been pieced out of the four Gospels with such skill that the life of Christ appears as a rounded and continuous narrative, given in the exact language of the Evangelists, and yet without break or repetition. The sacred story reads like a fresh poem or tragedy in the history of the world."—Chicago Tribune.

GILMORE, JAMES R.

THE GOSPEL HISTORY. Being a complete connected Narrative of the Life of Our Lord, woven from the Text of the Four Evangelists. With Notes, original and selected; Indexes of Texts and Topics. By JAMES R. GILMORE (author of "The Life of Jesus," "Among the Pines," etc.) and LYMAN ABBOTT, D.D. (author of "Jesus of Nazareth, his Life and Teachings," "A Series of Commentaries on the New Testament," etc.). 16mo, about 700 pp. (In Preparation.)

GOODWIN, Rev. T. A.

THE MODE OF MAN'S IMMORTALITY; or, The When, Where, and How of the Future Life. By the author of "The Perfect Man." Third Edition, with additional Chapters on "Future Punishment" and "The Ministry of Angels;" also a full Index. 12mo. Cloth, $1.25.

"The fact that this little treatise has reached a second edition is sufficient evidence that it finds appreciation among those who derive pleasure in speculation concerning the future existence."—Boston Post.

"Combats with energy and freshness of thought the idea of a resurrection of the material body that is laid in the grave. . . . A good book to arouse men to read the scriptures afresh, and to think."—Christian Union.

"The book is far from being a commonplace one. Its ideas are fresh and their expression uniformly vigorous. . . . If there are not many whom the book will convince, there are few who will go to sleep over it."—Congregationalist.

HEZEKIEL, JOHN GEORGE.

BISMARCK: HIS AUTHENTIC BIOGRAPHY. Giving many of his Private Letters and Memoranda. Including, also, a Clear Account of the European Politics of To-day, and of the Causes, Elements, and Conditions of the late Russo-Turkish War, with New Map. Historical Introduction by BAYARD TAYLOR, late U. S. Minister to Germany. Profusely Illustrated. 8vo. Cloth, $3.50.

"Noteworthy for the fullness of its details and the great variety of hitherto unknown facts and incidents that are recorded in it."—N. Y. Sun.

"If, as is alleged, 'history is biography with the brains knocked out,' this portly volume may be appropriately called a chapter of history with the brains inserted, for the history of Prince Bismarck is really the modern history of Germany, and the key to that of modern Europe."—Detroit Post.

LLOYD, HARRIET RAYMOND.

JOHN H. RAYMOND: HIS LIFE AND LETTERS. Edited by his Daughter. These memoirs give a most interesting account of the life and labor of the late President of Vassar College, both in that institution, which he organized, in others wherein he had been previously engaged, and in the cause of Education generally. Contributed papers from various distinguished professional men throw light upon the causes of his success, and the high esteem in which his rare character and marked ability were held. 8vo, about 400 pp. With Steel Portrait. (Ready in December.)

O'REILLY, Rev. BERNARD, D.D.

HEROIC WOMEN OF THE BIBLE AND THE CHURCH. Narrative Biographies of grand Female Characters of the Old and New Testaments, and of Saintly Women of the Christian Church, both in earlier and later ages. Brilliantly Illustrated with Twenty-five Plates in Oil-Colors from Celebrated Paintings of Scriptural Characters and Saints of the Church. The Premium Plate is an exquisite copy in Oils of Murillo's celebrated "Madonna of Madrid." Specially approved by POPE LEO XIII., Cardinal McCloskey, and the principal Catholic Prelates in America. Issued in Twenty-five Parts, at 50 cents each. (Subscription.)

"Indisputably the most superb Catholic work published in America."—McGee's Illustrated Weekly.

"We deem it eminently proper on our part to strongly recommend the book to our readers. . . . Dr. O'Reilly has spared no pains to make the work as interesting as it is instructive, and he has succeeded admirably."—New Orleans Morning Star (Archbishop Perché, Editor).

"We have been extremely interested to see how closely a devout and large-minded Catholic writer approaches to the spirit of devout and large-minded Protestants. . . . The pervading teaching of the whole book is an exaltation of those Christian virtues which are the common possession and the vital bond of all churches and sects. . . . Father O'Reilly is not a half-way Protestant, but in full accord with the Church of Rome, and his book has the hearty approbation of many dignitaries of the Church, Cardinal McCloskey, among them. It is thus a fine example of that 'unity of the spirit' and true 'communion of saints' which always exist in some degree among good men."—Christian Union.

PATTON, JACOB HARRIS.

A CONCISE HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE. Giving a clear Account of their Political, Military, Moral, Industrial, and Commercial Life. Illustrated with Portraits, Maps, and Charts; and containing Marginal Dates, Statistical References, and a full Analytical Index. 1018 pp. 8vo. Cloth, sprinkled edges, $3.75; Half Russia, $5.

"Mr. Patton's style is deserving of unqualified praise. It is pure, simple, strong, free from mannerism, and singularly easy and graceful. We anticipate for the work a cordial reception and extensive popularity among those who know how to prize the best books."—North American Review.

With evident integrity of purpose, as well as with rare sagacity, the author has steered clear of the errors of a partisan, and has given us the story of the last few years very much as it will be read by an impartial posterity."—N. Y. Evangelist.

"Our wonder is that so much of American history could be comprised in one octavo volume; at the same time, it is graphically written, in clear, unostentatious style; our frequent use of it convinces us of its great accuracy."—N. Y. Observer.

RAYMOND, ROSSITER W.

CAMP AND CABIN: Sketches of Life and Travel in the West. Little Classic style, red edges, $1.

"A snug little volume, filled with sketches of life and travel in the West. Mr. Raymond's ten years as United States Mining Commissioner gave him free range among peaks and canyons, valleys and 'slopes,' from the Rocky Mountains to the Pacific, and his keen eye and witty pen have made brilliant use of this opportunity."—Cleveland (O.) Leader.

"Cannot fail to interest even a fastidious reader."—N. Y. Times.

BRAVE HEARTS. An American Novel. Illustrations by Darley, Stephens,

F. Beard, and Kendrick. 12mo. Cloth. $1.

"A successful experiment. It is a tale of two regions—alternations between the quiet scenes of New England and the rough, boisterous and dangerous life of an extempore Californian."—Philadelphia Evening Herald.

"A really good American novel. . . . The purpose of the book is indicated by its title. It is a representation of courage, in various forms of individual character."—Boston Globe.

THE MERRY-GO-ROUND: Stories for Boys and Girls. By the Author of "The Man in the Moon," etc. Small 4to. Illustrated. Cloth, gold back and side, $1.50.

Amid the flood of holiday picture-books, the sizable boys and girls will be delighted to find one good old-fashioned, genuine story-book, with its full share of outside decoration and of spirited and artistic illustration, but the main attraction of which is its stories. Mr. Raymond's genius for story-telling is well known."—Brooklyn Union-Argus.

"One of the best story-tellers in the world."—New Haven Courier and Journal.

"Contains some of the very brightest and most ingenious of this favorite story-teller's tales."—N. Y. Mail.

'It has, beside the interest of the stories that constitute its substance, a certain playful familiarity of tone which will go far to make its fortune with the young folk, who value good-fellowship above any other quality. Mr. Raymond has some good stories to tell, and he tells them with every indication that he enjoys the telling, and is sharing his enjoyment with his readers."—N. Y. Evening Post.

STOWE, HARRIET BEECHER

Domestic Tales.

MY WIFE AND I; or, Harry Henderson's History. A Novel. Illustrated. 12mo. Cloth, $1.50. (60th thousand.)

"Always bright, piquant, and entertaining, with an occasional touch of tenderness, strong because subtle, keen in sarcasm, full of womanly logic directed against unwomanly tendencies."—Boston Journal.

"A capital story, in which fashionable follies are shown up, and fast young ladies weighed in the balance and found wanting, and the value of true worth exhibited."—Portland Argus.

WE AND OUR NEIGHBORS: The Records of an Unfashionable Street. A Novel. (A Sequel to "My Wife and I.") Illustrated. 12mo. Cloth, $1.50. (50th thousand.)

"While it is a sequel to 'My Wife and I,' it is nevertheless a complete story in itself. Mrs. Stowe's style is picturesque, piquant, with just enough vivacity and vim to give the romance edge; and throughout there are delicious sketches of scenes, with bits of dry humor peculiar to her writings."—Pittsburgh (Pa.) Commercial.

BETTY'S BRIGHT IDEA; and other Tales. Comprising "Betty's Bright Idea," "Deacon Pitkin's Farm," and "The First Christmas in New England." Illustrated. 12mo. Illuminated Paper Cover. 35 cents.

"They are charming tales."—Springfield Union.

"There are tears between the lines, and smiles—bits of sunshine in an April sky—such as Mrs. Stowe knows how to paint."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

POGANUC PEOPLE: Their Loves and Lives. A Novel. Illustrated. 12mo. Cloth, $1.50. (Recent.) In the style of early New England scene and character, in which Mrs. Stowe is so inimitable. As "Oldtown Folks" was said to be founded on Dr. Stowe's childhood memories, so this was drawn from some of the author's own reminiscences, and has all the brightness of genuine portraiture.

"It is long since we have had a story from Mrs. Beecher Stowe which we have so thoroughly enjoyed. As the Americans say, it is 'good all round.'"—London Times.

"A fertile, ingenious, and rarely gifted writer of the purely American type, doing for the traditions of New England, and its salient social features, the same sort of service that Scott rendered to the Scotch and the history and scenery of his native land; that Dickens performed for London and its lights and shadows, its chronic abuses of every sort; the same service that Victor Hugo has done for Paris, in all its social strata. Mrs. Stowe still keeps the field, and her harvests ever grow. She works a vein of increasing luster."—Titusville (Pa.) Herald.

THE NEW HOUSEKEEPER'S MANUAL AND HANDY COOK-BOOK. See CATHARINE E. BEECHER.

Religious Books.

FOOTSTEPS OF THE MASTER: Studies in the Life of Christ. Especially appropriate to the Church Seasons—Christmas, Lent, Easter, etc. With Illustrations and Illuminated Titles. 12mo. Choicely bound for Gift purposes. Cloth, $1.50.

"A very sweet book of wholesome religious thought."—N. Y. Evening Post.

"A congenial field for the exercise of her choice literary gifts and poetic tastes, her ripe religious experience, and her fervent Christian faith. A book of exceptional beauty and substantial worth."—Congregationalist (Boston.)

BIBLE HEROINES: Narrative Biographies of Prominent Hebrew Women in the Patriarchal, National and Christian Eras. Octavo. With Spirited Frontispiece, "Deborah the Prophetess," a copy in oils of one of Landelle's finest paintings. Elegantly bound. Cloth, red edges, $2.

"The fine penetration, quick insight, sympathetic nature, and glowing narrative, which have marked Mrs. Stowe's previous works are found in these pages, and the whole work is one which readily captivates equally the cultivated and the religious fervent nature."—Boston Commonwealth.

WOMAN IN SACRED HISTORY. Elegant Edition. A Series of Sketches of Eminent Female Characters of the Bible, drawn from Scriptural, Historical and Legendary Sources. Together with many graphic Selections of Sacred Poetry descriptive of the characters or scenes depicted in Mrs. Stowe's admirable prose text. 4to. Large paper, red-line margin, Illuminated Titles; also Twenty-five Full-page Plates in Oil Colors—all the illustrations being copies of Famous Paintings of Oriental Faces and Costumes. The Premium Plate is a large and very rich Paris-printed Oleograph of "Sarah the Princess." Issued in Twenty-Five Parts at 50 cents each; or, in one Vol., Cloth, $15;

Half Morocco, $18; Full Morocco, $22. (Subscription.)

"Pen-pictures of these eminent women of Bible history so vivid and so characteristic that, in spite of the quaintness of their surroundings, they seem like personages of to-day. The exquisite chromo-lithographs are executed with a richness of color and fineness of finish rarely attained in a book illustration."—Boston (Mass.) Journal.

"The artistic merit of the book is worthy its literary excellence."—Boston (Mass.) Globe.

"A new idea in book-making. There are no woodcuts or steel engravings, but life-like pictures in splendid oil-colors, from the great painters of Italy, France, and Germany. . . . Mrs. Stowe's ripest and best effort." Buffalo (N. Y.) Commercial Advertiser.

TAYLOR, BAYARD.

HISTORICAL INTRODUCTION TO "BISMARCK": His Authentic Biography." See HEZEKIEL.

TOURGEE, ALBION W.

FIGS AND THISTLES. A Western Story. A book of peculiar interest just now. The war chapters are exceedingly graphic, while the combined romance of Love, Law, Larceny, Life in Washington, Congressional Legislation, and the conflicts of strong characters make a very striking and realistic picture of American life, centering in the Western Reserve, the home of Wade, Giddings, and Garfield. 12mo. Frontispiece Illustration. Cloth, $1.50.

"A keenly characteristic American novel, full of the excitement of conflict among strong characters."—Danbury News.

"A new and stirring novel of American life. . . . This book cannot fail to sustain and extend the author's name as a popular writer of fiction."—Columbus Sunday Morning News.

"Although full of lively incident, and having a dramatic, skillfully constructed plot, the strength of the book mainly lies in the graphic pictures, full of vitality and humor, which it contains of life and character in the great Buckeye State. Judge Tourgee has shown himself, in his previous stories, an exceedingly clever delineator of men and manners, but we are inclined to think that 'Figs and Thistles' is the best book which he has yet given to the public."—Philadelphia North American.

"The writer has proved himself a bold and vivid delineator of the possibilities and opportunities of Western life and of its dramatic events. The story is simple but ingenious in plot, populous with characters and crowded with incident. It is rich in the hearty humor of the West and full of the attractive contrast of light and shade in the depiction of scenes of the village and the fireside."—Toledo (O.) Journal.

A FOOL'S ERRAND. By One of the Fools. The famous Romance of American History. 16mo. Cloth, $1.

"It is nothing less than an extraordinary work. In matter, it is intensely interesting; in manner, it is forcible and vivid to a rare degree. English literature contains no similar picture, as, indeed, probably no material at once so picturesque and so terrible has ever been offered by any society with which English writers have dealt."—International Review.

"One of the most notable books that have appeared in this country for many years."—New York Times.

"The sated novel-reader will find it fresh and thrilling."—Boston Daily Advertiser.

"The story is brilliant and fascinating—evidently a leaf from experience."—Chicago Evening Journal.

A FOOL'S ERRAND AND THE INVISIBLE EMPIRE. Comprising Part I., "A Fool's Errand," being the same as the preceding, enlarged, carefully revised and supplied with some new matter, more fully completing its artistic proportions; and Part II., a concise review of recent events at the South, showing the elements on which the tale is based, including also an account of the rise, extent, purpose, methods, disguises, secret oaths, and mysterious deeds of the redoubtable Ku-Klux-Klan, all fully authenticated from sworn documents never before grouped for the general reader. Complete in one volume. Large 12mo, 519 pages. Sixteen illustrations from original models. Cloth, $2. (Subscription.)

"It is the most faithful picture of the social, moral, and political condition of the South that has ever been drawn. . . . . I recognize three fourths of the characters who figure in this history, though they appear under assumed names. . . . The author has set down naught in malice, but has given to the world a faithful picture of the South since the war which all his countrymen, North and South, should read and study."—Thomas Settle, Judge of the U. S. District Court of Florida.

[Judge Settle is a Southron born, of one of the oldest families in North Carolina.]

"The historian of the future will study 'A Fool's Errand' and its justificatory documents with an interest far deeper than that which affects the thousands who read it in our day. I am specially pleased that Judge Tourgee has collected the documents which justify the vivid pictures of the novel while they were accessible. These documents will have a value far beyond the life-like and graphic representations of the novel founded upon them. The 'Fool's Errand' has often been compared with 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' but, as giving a real insight into the political, moral, and economical bearings of the institution of slavery, 'A Fool's Errand' is, in my judgment, greatly superior to Mrs. Stowe's world-renowned book."—M. B. Anderson, President of the "University of Rochester."

BRICKS WITHOUT STRAW. A Novel. This is the complementary work to "A Fool's Errand," filling out the picture that was broadly sketched in the former. Handsome 12mo. With Frontispiece Illustration. Cloth, $1.50.

"A greater work than 'Fool's Errand."—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser."

"Ought to be widely read and inwardly digested."—N. Y. Times.

"We have read the book, from beginning to end, with absorbed interest. It is as marked in its clear and trenchant style, its literary skill, and its comprehensive philosophy, as is the 'Fool's Errand,' which lifted its author into such a wide and deserved popularity."—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

"The importance of the matter of the book demands, and the fascination of the form in which it is presented insures, a perusal by a large percentage of the population of the entire land."—N. Y. Evening Mail.

THE HUNDRED GREATEST MEN.

LIVES AND PORTRAITS OF THE HUNDRED GREATEST MEN OF HISTORY. The List, selected by consultation with the leading scholars of the present day. The Portraits, reproduced from rare and choice engravings in the famous Didot Collection of Paris, the Drugulin Collection in Leipsic, the British Museum, etc. The Lives, terse condensed Biographies, carefully prepared from the most authentic sources. In eight Grand Divisions, representing Poetry, Art, Religion, Philosophy, History and Criticism, Science, Statesmanship and War, Invention and Discovery. General Introduction by RALPH WALDO EMERSON; Introductions to the Eight Grand Divisions by MATTHEW ARNOLD, FROUDE the Historian, DEAN STANLEY, President NOAH PORTER of Yale College, Professor TAINE, ERNEST RENAN, MAX MUELLER, Professor HELMHOLTZ. Issued in Eight Folio Volumes of Plates and Text (10½ by 14 inches) in Portfolio, at $7.50 per vol. (Subscription.)

"One point of great merit should be noticed. The portraits are really fine reproductions of the most excellent engravings of the best portraits. The names of Nanteuil, Raphael Morghen, and Longhi will suffice to show their character. . . . Mr. Emerson's Introduction is no perfunctory work. It will rank as one of his best essays."—N. Y. World.

"A work of some magnitude and of exceptionally brilliant promise. . . . Here are men of which the world does know something, and is ever eager to know more. A brilliant company truly, these men of every country and of all time, citizens of no mean city, for the ground they once touched is ennobled forever. . . . That the publishers have spared no pains to do justice to the undertaking is plain even from a cursory inspection. Paper, letter-press, portraits are all the best of their kind."—London Times.

VAN DYKE, T. S.

AN EARTHLY PARADISE; or, THE ROMANCE AND REALITY OF RIFLE, ROD, AND GUN IN CALIFORNIA. A sporting tale, accurate in detail, and very interesting; giving a trustworthy account of the various kinds of hunting and fishing on the Pacific coast. The author has had long experience, not only in the fields he describes, but in writing of sporting matters. As a descriptive writer he has much ability, and the exciting incidents of the story, as well as the scenes of the hunting exploits narrated, are most vividly portrayed. 12mo, cloth, $1.50. (In Preparation.)

VERDI, TULLIO SUZZARA, M.D.

MATERNITY. A popular Treatise for Wives and Mothers. Seventh edition. 1 vol. 12mo. $2.

A monitor to young wives, a guide to young mothers, and an assistant to the family physician. It deals skillfully, sensibly and delicately with the perplexities of married life, treating of the needs, dangers, and alleviations of the duties of Maternity, and giving extended, detailed instructions for the care and medical treatment of Infants and Children.

"This book merits an extensive circulation."—U. S. Medical and Surgical Journal (Chicago).

CHEVALIER WIKOFF'S MEMOIRS.

WIKOFF, HENRY.

REMINISCENCES OF AN IDLER. By HENRY WIKOFF, author of "My Courtship and its Consequences." "Adventures of a Roving Diplomatist," etc. Small 8vo. 604 pages. Extra Cloth, beveled boards. With Steel Portrait. $1.75.

"Mr. Wikoff (who bears the title of 'Chevalier' as Knight Commander of a Spanish order—an honor conferred in recognition of some skillful service to royalty) has been a familiar figure for more than forty years in Europe and America, and his 'Reminiscences' deal with almost everybody of note that anybody ever heard of."—Literary World.

"The charm of this book, which blends autobiography with reminiscences of noted persons, and not a little rapid and interesting history, is that it is written in a simple, good way, and never presents us with an anecdote or a reminiscence that is not interesting. The 'Chevalier' is never dull."—Hartford Times.

"Has at once taken its place among the most racy of recent memoirs. . . . Being a man of fortune and excellent social position, his opportunities for observation have evidently been unusually good, and his use of them is proved by his very readable book to have been both apt and admirable."—Buffalo Courier.

GIVEN AWAY

TO EACH SUBSCRIBER 1880.

TO THE

Phrenological Journal.

This publication is widely known in America and Europe, having been before the reading world forty years, and occupying a place in literature exclusively its own, viz.: the study of Human Nature in all its phases, including Phrenology, Physiognomy, Ethnology, Physiology, etc., together with the "Science of Health," and no expense will be spared to make it the best publication for general circulation, tending always to make men better physically, mentally, and morally. Parents should read the JOURNAL that they may better know how to govern and train their children. Young people should read the JOURNAL that they may make the most of themselves. To each Subscriber is given

THE PHRENOLOGICAL BUST.

This bust is made of Plaster of Paris, and so lettered as to show the exact location of each of the Phrenological Organs. The head is nearly life-size, and very ornamental, deserving a place on the center-table or mantel, in parlor, office, or study, and until recently has sold for $2.00. This, with the illustrated key which accompanies each Bust, and the articles published in the JOURNAL on "Practical Phrenology," will enable the reader to become a successful student of Human Nature. One of these heads should be in the hands of all who would know "HOW TO READ CHARACTER."

TERMS.—The JOURNAL is now published at $2.00 a year (having been reduced from $3.00), single numbers 20 cents. When the Premiums are sent, 25 cents extra must be received with each subscription to pay postage on the JOURNAL and the expense of boxing and packing the Bust, which will be sent by express, or No. 2, a smaller size, will be sent by mail, post-paid. To those who have the Bust, or prefer it, we will send the new Book Premium, HOW TO EDUCATE THE FEELINGS. Send for Circular.

Send amount in P. O. Orders, Drafts on New York, or in Registered Letters. Postage stamps will be received. Agents wanted.

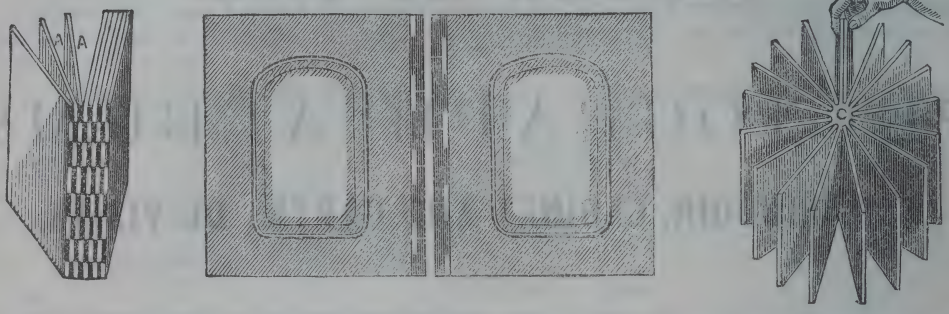
SEASON OF 1880.

PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS

FOR BOUDOIR, CABINET AND CARTES DE VISITE.

The increased demand for Photograph Albums during 1879 induced us, during the latter part of the year, to add considerably to our styles and patterns, to improve the mode of binding (by adding the celebrated and favorite vellum-cloth guard-joints), and at the same time to lower our prices, and thus bring a superior American-bound Album down to a figure as low as, or even lower than, that of the flimsy and worthless Foreign Albums with which the trade has been so expensively disappointed during the past few years.



The fact that these alterations have met with such splendid success has proved an incentive to redouble our efforts in the greater improvement of the variety, attractiveness and salableness of our line of goods. We have discarded old and inferior styles, and have adopted a variety of new and brilliant designs, thus ensuring for the Jobber and Retailer ready sales with profitable returns.

We return thanks to those who have so liberally favored us with their orders in the past, and solicit a continuance of the same. Of any others we would but ask an examination of our line before placing any orders for imported and domestic Albums, feeling confident that we will furnish a better variety of durably-bound and elegantly-finished Albums at lower prices than can possibly be obtained from any other house in America or Europe. The great mass of Foreign Albums imported into this country are trashy goods, and greatly inferior to ours in style and durability. They are totally unfitted for use as a Photograph Album, and fall to pieces with very little handling. Competent judges have pronounced ours to be the cheapest and most desirable Albums ever offered to the public.

We use Gold Leaf only in gilding the sides and edges of all our Albums, and the best quality of Leather and other materials in their manufacture, thus producing a book that will give genuine satisfaction in handling to the Jobber, Retailer and Customer.

The trade will notice that we have made a change in our system of numbering. We have classed together under the same number all books similarly bound and finished, distinguishing the different patterns by letters. There are four patterns of No. 3 Album, distinguished by the Letters A, B, C and D. They are all the same size and price, the difference being that each letter designates a different pattern. The same system is carried out through the balance of the Album catalogue. Thus, No. 100, A to E, denotes five patterns; No. 201, A to G, denotes seven patterns. We therefore give you the choice of from two to seven patterns of the same grade and character of Album, at the same price. Please use care, in ordering, to designate clearly the number and letter—for instance, No. 3 C, 200 F, 300 B, etc. Unless orders are specific, a general assortment of the different numbers will be sent.

HOLMAN'S
PATENT FLEXIBLE CHAIN-BACK ALBUMS.

The "PATENT CHAIN-BACK PHOTOGRAPH ALBUM" is universally considered to be the best, strongest, most durable and elegant, and in fact the only perfectly constructed, Album that has ever been made in the world. It successfully defies all rivalry and competition for strength combined with beauty, which is so desirable in a Photograph Album.

We were the first to manufacture the Flexible Chain-Back, and after great experience and the aid of improved machinery and other facilities, we are enabled to offer these unequaled Photograph Albums cheaper than any foreign or domestic make that bear any comparison with them. All of the stock used in their manufacture is of the finest grades, the cards being beautifully lithographed in various tints and gold, producing a rich and beautiful effect. The Bristol Board Card and Turkey Moroccos are the best selection from the finest goods manufactured. In short, we have spared no expense on the materials and workmanship to produce the very best Photograph Albums ever offered to the American public.

The vast superiority of the "PATENT FLEXIBLE CHAIN-BACK ALBUM" over all others heretofore manufactured will, upon the slightest examination, be apparent to all.

The links will not break nor cut by opening and closing the book, as each link forms a half circle around the edge of an intervening leaf when the book is closed, and is nearly straight when the book is opened.

The leaves are interlocked in such manner that they are held firmly in their places, and cannot slip over each other, or move in any other direction than the way intended for opening and closing the book, and when opened will lay perfectly flat, without regard to the part of the book which is opened.

The back, although possessing greater strength, is more elastic and flexible than that of any other Album now offered to the public, and is constructed in such a manner that it will always keep its original shape, so long as it is not torn to pieces, thus presenting a neater and more beautiful appearance when opened than any other Photograph Album made. All the clasps, corner-pieces, etc., on these Albums are nickel plated.

God's glory is magnified by his works, and by his love to man.

To the chief Musician upon Gittith, A Psalm of David.

O LORD our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth! who hast set thy glory above the heavens.

2 Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength because of thine enemies, that thou mightest still the enemy and the avenger.

3 When I consider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained;

4 What is man, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him?

5 For thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and hast crowned him with glory and honour.

6 Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all

9 The LORD also will be a refuge for the oppressed, a refuge in times of trouble.

10 And they that know thy name will put their trust in thee: for thou, LORD, hast not forsaken them that seek thee.

11 Sing praises to the LORD, which dwelleth in Zion: declare among the people his doings.

12 When he maketh inquisition for blood, he remembereth them: he forgetteth not the cry of the humble.

13 Have mercy upon me, O LORD; consider my trouble which I suffer of them that hate me, thou that liftest me up from the gates of death:

14 That I may shew forth all thy praise in the gates of the daughter of Zion: I will rejoice in thy salvation.

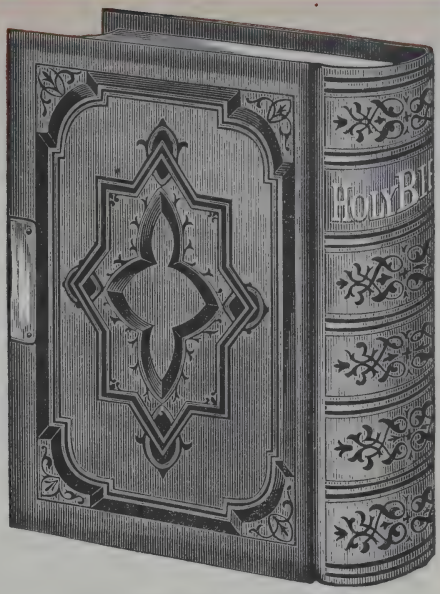
3. Ich nahm Ephraim bei seinen Armen, und leitete ihn; aber sie merkten es nicht, wie ich ihnen half.[2]

4. Ich ließ sie ein menschliches Joch ziehen, und in Seilen der Liebe gehen, und half ihnen das Joch an ihrem Halse tragen, und gab ihnen Futter,

5. Daß er sich ja nicht wieder sollte in Egyptenland kehren.[3] So ist nun Assur ihr König geworden;[4] denn sie wollen sich nicht bekehren.

6. Darum soll das Schwerdt über ihre Städte kommen, und soll ihre Riegel aufreiben und fressen, um ihres Vornehmens willen.[5]

7. Mein Volk ist müde sich zu mir zu kehren; und wie man ihnen prediget, so richtet sich Keiner auf.[6]



8. Was soll ich aus dir machen, Ephraim? Soll ich dich schützen, Israel? Soll ich nicht billig eine Adama aus dir machen, und dich wie Zeboim zurichten?[7] Aber mein Herz ist anderes Sinnes, meine Barmherzigkeit ist zu brünstig,[8]

9. Daß ich nicht thun will nach meinem grimmigen Zorn, noch mich kehren, Ephraim gar zu verderben; denn Ich bin Gott und nicht ein Mensch, und bin der SEASON 1880.

TO THE TRADE.

In presenting our new Catalogue, we desire to call attention to the change in prices of the several editions of our Family and Pulpit Bibles. Our beautiful antique and paneled Bibles now surpass anything heretofore presented to the trade, and are without doubt the cheapest and most desirable lines of Family and Pulpit Bibles in the world.

We refer with pride to the many new and elegant designs which we have introduced in our medium and finer editions. Our unexcelled facilities for manufacturing, enable us to offer these lines of Bibles, which, for attractiveness, salability, durability and cheapness, are unparalleled by any other Bibles of like size and quality, and will bear favorable comparison with the best London and Oxford Bibles, and are offered at nearly one-half their prices.

We ask attention to our revised price list of Photograph Albums, wherein we have added many new and improved styles. We are now able, and determined to compete as to style and prices, with those of the best and most celebrated foreign manufacture.

NEW FAMILY BIBLE. Pica type.

This edition now offered is the first impression from entirely new stereotype plates; the type is large and distinct and presents the most readable text, and must become a popular Bible for the masses of the community. It is intrinsically the cheapest and most salable Bible in the market; the prices are so low as to place a copy within the reach of every family in the land.

NEW QUARTO REF. BIBLE. ANTIQUE TYPE.

The type selected is superb, being antique in style and name; it is the only Quarto Bible in which this unique or old style of letter is used. It presents to the eye of the reader a clear and pleasant appearance. We are thus enabled to print from seven sets of the newest and best Bible plates in this country.

NEW ROYAL BIBLE. Marg. ref.

The new Royal Bible is printed from Pica type, leaded, on fine white paper, and presents to the eye of the reader a clear, open appearance. To persons who make the Scriptures a constant study this edition is unexceptionable.

CROWN QUARTO REF. BIBLE. Pica type.

This magnificent Bible is printed from large-face type, with marginal references, and rules around each page. The marginal references can be relied upon as the most accurate, and gotten up regardless of expense; the size is compact and at the same time readable, and is eminently adapted for family devotion, and will supply the wants of the Bible-reading community, who have heretofore resorted to the London and Oxford editions.

PULPIT OR TEXT-BIBLE. Large Pica

This superb edition is printed from new electrotype plates, and is pronounced by eminent authorities to be the best and handsomest Pulpit or Text-Bible ever made in this country; the type is large, clear and distinct, and for pulpit or church use is superior to any other American edition.

NEW PICTORIAL GERMAN REF. BIBLE.

This new and beautiful edition of the Holy Bible in the German language is printed from large, clear letter from an entirely new set of electrotype plates, on fine white paper, and for typographical appearance is unequaled by any other edition published in this country.

ENGLISH MARGINAL REF. BIBLE. Large Pica.

This unequaled and magnificent edition is offered with a view of meeting a demand by those of refined taste, who heretofore have been dissatisfied with all other than foreign editions. It has been produced without regard to expense. The marginal references are in beautiful, large and readable letter and believed to be without an error, and it is without doubt the most beautiful Bible ever issued from the American press.

MR. ALDRICH'S NEW STORY.

THE STILLWATER TRAGEDY.

1 Vol. 12mo. $1.50.

Mr. Aldrich's skill is shown at his best in this story. — New York Times.

The tale is marked by Mr. Aldrich's fine simplicity of style and lightness of touch. — Springfield Republican.

Exquisitely graceful and witty, thoroughly artistic, eminently interesting; and, like everything of Mr. Aldrich's, delightfully clever. — Hartford Courant.

 For sale by Booksellers. Sent, post-paid, on receipt of price by the Publishers,

MR. HOWELLS'S NEW STORY.

THE UNDISCOVERED COUNTRY. $1.50.

This remarkable story, while appearing in the ATLANTIC MONTHLY, attracted the eager attention of readers by its skillful treatment of Spiritualism and Shakerism, by its deeper and broader range than Mr. Howells's previous stories have attempted, and by its constant charm of description and of style. It can hardly fail of a great popularity.

MR. HOWELLS'S OTHER WRITINGS.

☞ Reduction of Price from $2.00 to $1.50.

The Lady of the Aroostook. 12mo, $1.50.
Mr. Howells has done much for American literature; in this story he also does much for American social life, and with exquisite grace and delicacy makes plain how purer is the atmosphere that is breathed by the American girl than that which pervades the Continent. Wholesome truth, easy narrative, and the daintiest humor combine to make the novel delightful on every page. — Hartford Courant.

Their Wedding Journey. 12mo. Illustrated by Hoppin. $1.50. The Same. "Little Classic" style. $1.25.
With just enough of story and dialogue to give to it the interest of a novel, it is also one of the most charming books of travel that we have ever seen. It is like hearing the story of his summer travel from the lips of an intimate friend. — Christian Register (Boston).

A Chance Acquaintance. Illustrated, 12mo, $1.50. The Same. "Little Classic" style. $1.25.
One can hardly overpraise the charm and grace with which Mr. Howells has invested the "acquaintance," and the exquisite delicacy with which he has treated the love into which it ripened. His observation is close and accurate; his knowledge of women is simply marvelous; he is an artist in his description of scenery. — Boston Advertiser.

A Foregone Conclusion. 12mo, $1.50.
Mr. Howells has before this given us charming stories; but in this last book we have a very noble tragedy. There is the same grace of style, the same delicate portraiture and fine humor, as in his earlier works. But in this one he has laid hold of far deeper elements of character and life. . . . . The kind of power it displays is rare, not alone in American, but in any literature. — Christian Union.

Italian Journeys. 12mo, $1.50.
The reader who has gone over the ground which Mr. Howells describes will be struck with the lifelike freshness and accuracy of his sketches, while he will admire the brilliant fancy which has cast a rich poetical coloring even around the prosaic highways of ordinary travel. — New York Tribune.

Suburban Sketches. 12mo, Illustrated, $1.50.
A charming volume, full of fresh, vivacious, witty, and in every way delightful pictures of life in the vicinity of a great city. — New York Observer.

Venetian Life. Including Commercial, Social, Historical, and Artistic Notes of Venice. 12mo, $1.50.
Mr. Howells deserves a place in the first rank of American travelers. This volume thoroughly justifies its title: it does give a true and vivid and almost a complete picture of Venetian life. — Pall Mall Gazette.

☞ The above eight volumes, in a box, tastefully bound in cloth, $12.00.

Out of the Question. A Comedy. "Little Classic" style. $1.25.
This seems to us one of the most charming of all Mr. Howells's works. — Boston Advertiser.

Poems. "Little Classic" style. $1.25.
In his prose, Mr. Howells is a poet; in his poems there is all the grace of his prose, and a deeper sentiment concealed beneath the melodious lines. — Cleveland Herald.

A Counterfeit Presentment. A Comedy. "Little Classic" style. $1.25.

The Parlor Car. Farce. Vest-Pocket series. 50 cents.

A Day's Pleasure. Vest-Pocket Series. Illustrated. Cloth. 50 cents.

ARLINGTON { THE BRITISH CLASSICS EDITION. } ARLINGTON

Elegant in Style. Moderate in Price. Type Large. Paper Fine. Binding Excellent.

ROBINSON CRUSOE;

His Life and Adventures.

A New, Complete and Unabridged Edition. 480 pp. 12 mo. 7 full page illustrations, by Thwaites and others. Everything is first-class—the print very plain, the paper good, the binding strong and handsome. Price One Dollar.

Every language written by man, it is said, has been enriched by a translation of this immortal work.—Every boy—aye, and every man too—has felt a thrill of pleasure as Robinson safely reached shore on his rudely built raft; has watched the solitary man in his walks, as attended by his tamed goats and his wonderful "Poll," he marched, gun in hand, to view the shores of his island home—monarch of all he surveyed; and felt his heart bound, as Crusoe at last espied the bark that was to bear him to his native land. Every father that has read this book, full of the fiction, more true than truth—owes it to his little ones to place this entrancing book in their hands. It will yield them pleasures that have no after stings.

ARABIAN NIGHTS' ENTERTAINMENTS;

Or, The Thousand and One Nights.

New and Complete Edition. 480 pp. 12 mo. 6 full page Illus. Price One Dollar.

These wonderful Stories have outlived the palaces of the Caliphs, and thousands of the fair slaves of the Harem have turned to dust in the Valley of Sweet Waters, since these strange tales were first told. Yet they are as fresh to-day as the ever blooming roses f Cashmere. No child is too simple, no man too wise, to feel his heart glow with admiration or chill with fear as he follows the fortunes and misfortunes of the vast number of characters that figure in these entrancing pages. Aladdin still rubs his wonderful lamp, Sinbad still gathers the diamonds, and the Three one-eyed Calenders still appear upon the enchanted scene. That man is to be pitied that cannot renew his youth by reading this book of wonders.

BUNYAN'S PILGRIM'S PROGRESS.

The Pilgrim's Progress from this World to that Which is to Come. By JOHN BUNYAN. 450 pp. large 12 mo. 10 Full page Illustrations. By J. D. WATSON. Price One Dollar.

Next to the Bible this is the book dear to every Christian heart. If ever in later times a ladder reached to and from heaven, surely one reached from the prison of poor John Bunyan to the throne of Grace.—His book is not merely religious; it is religion. It is a peculiarity of this book that while the most erudite divine, the most learned legalist, the most exquisite poet can read and re-read it, with ever recurring pleasures and profit—the smallest school-boy will fasten on its pages with large-eyed wonder, and seem to see Christian, sin burdened, valiantly pushing forward to win the crown of glory. The gates, and the castles—the valley and the lions are to him veritable things, and the seeds thus implanted, germinate into noble deeds in after life.

MOORE'S WORKS.

The Poetical Works of THOMAS MOORE, Complete and Unabridged. Reprinted from the orignal edition, with Explanatory Notes. 800 pp. large 12 mo. Price One Dollar.

Every person with one note of music in his soul should own a copy of this book. Though in one respect Moore is a universal poet, in that his works are household treasures in almost every home; yet is he, par excellence, the Poet of the Emerald Isle. Who has ever so eloquently appealed to patriotism—"Let Erin Remember the Days of Old;" who so pictured her natural beauties—"There is not in this Wide World a Valley so Sweet;" who so evoked the Spirit of the sad past—"The Harp that Once." Indeed pages might be written in pointing out his beauties. Beauties understood by the bare-footed girl that steps lightly over the clover blossoms, and that made even the saturnine Byron break out with his "Here's a Health to thee, Tom Moore."

DANTE.

The Vision of Hell, Purgatory and Paradise. Translated into English Verse, by H. T. CARY, A. M. With copious Explanatory Notes, and a Chronological View of the Age of Dante. 400 pp. large 12 mo. Price One Dollar.

This is the best English translation ever made of this marvellous creation. The author was one of the most learned as well as one of the most original writers the world has known, and it needed a man like Cary—a prodigy of wisdom—to properly translate and elucidate this world famous book—Miltonic in its grandeur of conception. No man can pretend to be well informed who has not perused this great world classic. It is to literature what the Roman Pantheon is to archetecture. It is not only the great Poem of Italy—it is the great History of Italy. We learn more of its Virtures and its Vices—its heroes, and its villains, than we can glean from pages after pages of its so-called annals.

BURNS' POETICAL WORKS.

The Complete Works of ROBERT BURNS. A New Edition, Unabridged, with Explanatory and Glossarial Notes, and a Memoir of the Author. 500 pp. Price One Dollar.

As long as the daisy blossoms and the heather blooms in Bonnie Scotland, the memory of her "peasant poet" will endure. Aye and should endure. He has not only sung of the witching hour "When Coming through the Rye," of "Mary in Heaven," of the "Banks and Braes o' Bonnie Doon," "Scots wa hae wi' Wallace Bled"—but he has enforced grand truths that "Rank is but the Guinea's Stamp, a Man's a Man for a' that;" and in his best lines has produced a reverence for the Bible and a lover of virtue.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE LITTLE ONES!

Five Genuine Juveniles!

The Kind of Books Boys and Girls want to Have.

PRETTY STORIES—PRETTY PICTURES AND PRETTY BINDINGS.

Something to Make Home Happy! Rare Treat for the Juveniles!!

"THE CHRISTMAS STOCKING,"

By "COUSIN VIRGINIA."

This, although a new book, is full of the true home-like spirit that filled the story books of our childhood. The CHRISTMAS STOCKING is crammed with the most delightful tales that fancy ever painted. Boys and Girls, as well as all kinds of cunning and interesting animals, figure in the different chapters. What rare, seasoned humor, is crowded into "The Dog's Story," "The Experience of a Chicken Bone," "The Bat's Story," "The Sunbeam's Story," "The Rat's Family," "Jack's Circus," "How the Canary Bird Caught Cold," and, indeed, every page is alive with innocent fun and frolic. Almost every sentence brings a happy smile, except where occasionally a sweet, tender sentiment makes a few precious tears drop into the pretty dimples.

The children that get this CHRISTMAS STOCKING for their holiday gift, will be all the happier and better for it. One large elegantly printed 12 mo. vol., cloth, with a superbly designed and engraved cover in black and gold, illustrations. Sent by mail, post paid, on receipt of price, $1.

MERRY'S GAMES AND PUZZLES.

The prettiest garden is not more full of Flowers, than is this book of Pictures and Stories. And Such Pictures! all full of life and fun; and Such Stories! fairly boiling over with interest. Such a lot of Games and Puzzles, too, as will keep a home circle pleasantly perplexed for hours, except when loud laughter breaks forth as some little wise head solves the intricate riddles. 'Tis such a book as this that keeps the young folks, well pleased, in-doors during the long stormy winter nights.

Richly bound in cloth, black and gold. Price $1.

Santa Claus and his friend, St. Nicholas.

This Book—as its title plainly shows—is one of those delightful works that gladdens a Child's little heart even to look at. The pretty gilded cover, like the fairy frostings on a Christmas Cake, tells of the rich dainties inside. There are a large number of Very Pretty Pictures of interesting scenes; very many Nice Stories; and some of the sweetest bits of Poetry ever written.

This Book is just the thing for a Holiday Gift as it will be carefully kept, and read, and re-read by the lucky child who receives it. Bound in the latest syle of cloth, gilt. Price $1.

FLOWERS FROM FAIRY LAND.

— CONTAINING —

Elegant Poetical Versions of "BEAUTY AND THE BEAST," "LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD," "BLUE BEARD" and "JACK THE GIANT KILLER."

Embellished with Eighty Elegant Engravings, designed by Alfred Crowquill.

The above work is one of the finest of its class in every particular. While it retains all the facts of the undying Fairy Tales that have delighted millions in the past, it gives a new and animated version of them from the pen of one of the best versifiers and most charming story-tellers of our time—ALBERT SMITH.

The numerous Pictures are the very embodiment of fairy fancies—wildly grotesque and full of a subtle humorous power, just suited to the strange imaginings. The artist, ALFRED CROWQUILL, is known as one of the great artists of his age.

In printing and binding this book excels most books of its class. 12 mo. cloth, gold. Price $1.

STEPPING STONES for LITTLE FEET;

Or, Easy First Lessons in Reading.

With Numerous Handsome Engravings.

In this book the young child is taken tenderly by the hand, as it were, and led by a succession of gentle steps from the first letter of the Alphabet upwards, until simple words are spelled, and then the very easiest sentences are reached. So that almost before the child realises it, quite an acquaintance with good spelling and plain reading has been acquired.

Such a book has long been needed. Mothers who try to teach their little ones the rudiments of useful learning will be greatly pleased with this invaluable aid in their lessons.

This book is very handsomely printed, and the cover is unusually attractive. Cloth, full gilt. Price $1.

GIFT BOOKS

Beautifully Illustrated and Bound in Boards with Superb Cover in Brilliant Colors, from Artistic Designs.

A B C Made Easy

—OR—

LITTLE LESSONS FOR LITTLE CHILDREN.

Handsomely Illustrated.

Parents and Teachers alike know well how hard it is to gain the attention of Children to the very first rudiments of book-learning. The little fingers will itch to grasp every object that pleases their little eyes. Now the intention of this Book is to attract, and fix the notice of even the smallest child to the necessary but simple lesson before it. So well is this done that Children take a positive pleasure in learning from this little Book, which is at once practical and plain.

Its general appearance is such as to make its little owner proud of it. Price 30 cents.

THE CHILD'S OWN STORY BOOK.

A Pretty Book full of Pretty Stories, and Pretty Pictures.

If Little Bo-Peep had only owned such a nice Book as this he never would have troubled about his "Lost Sheep," but would have sat on the new-mown hay and read it from beginning to end; for this is just the kind of Book to take with the youngsters. It is as far from being silly as it is from being dull. It is made up by one who knew exactly what would catch a child's fancy, and dot its little merry face with dimples. Every page is full of pleasant thoughts as the chirp of a cricket or the notes of a robin.

Well bound in boards, square paper, with rich chromo cover. Price 30 cents.

SANTA CLAUS' GIFT BOOK.

A Collection of Rare Pictures and Stories for a Holiday Gift.

There is not one dull page in this pretty book. It is flooded with the sunshine of good nature. Every little story—every attractive Picture is calculated to make little Boys and Girls wiser and happier. Each of the stories would make a nice book of itself. But here you find a lot tied up together like a bouquet of sweet wild flowers, that one never tires of looking at and admiring. A very pretty colored cover, square paper, strongly bound in boards. Price 30 cents.

OUR CHATTERBOX.

A Holiday Offering to Everybody's Little Ones.

This is a collection of real nice Stories, with suitable Pictures. It is got up with the view of attracting and pleasing the little ones. Nice tit-bits of Poetry are also in its pages; all written with the one object, to make a real Child's Book, such as a Child would get into a corner and look at and read with wide-open mouth and eyes, and forget for the moment that there were such things as dolls, tops or drums in the world.

Exquisite colored cover, square paper, strongly bound in boards. Price 30 cents.

HOME LESSONS;

—OR—

Playing at School.

A Regular Series of Little Lessons in the Alphabet, Spelling and Reading; with Many Pictures.

With the assistance of this little Book a Mother can teach a Child all the first degrees of learning. Every page is made attractive, at the same time that it is instructive. The young mind is brought into liking its little Book by many pretty illustrations; while the attention thus gained is turned to usefulness by the charm of the style and the easy way in which the pupil slowly, but surely, goes on in the path of learning; its little feet stepping on flowers instead of thorns, as it advances.

Large square paper, with richly colored cover. Price 25 cents.

CHAMBER'S
Information for the Million.

A Book of Facts and Useful Knowledge.

This valuable volume is the most exhaustive, yet the most compact compendium of general knowledge ever issued. The subjects are those in which every one is interested, yet few comparatively have an intelligent understanding of the "Whys" and "Wherefores" relating thereto. The information is given in plain intelligent language, and is adapted to the use of the ordinary reader. The information also has a practical use. In this age of activity and competition, the Author recognizes the fact that all knowledge should have a decidedly practical bearing. Much of the information in this volume can, therefore, be used by many in the practical pursuits of every day life, and be made a source of pecuniary profit.

The "Perfect" Shakespeare.

THE WORKS OF SHAKESPEARE,

Carefully prepared from the earliest and more modern editions, selected where commentators have differed as to the Sense of obscure or doutful passages, from those readings which the ablest critics believe to be the most Shakesperean and best suited to a popular edition, Illustrated with Thirty Large Engravings, designed by Mr. JOHN COXEN, the celebrated artist and engraver, and a steel portrait of Shakespeare.

We have used the term "Perfect" as applicable to this edition, and any one that will examine it will see that it well merits the title; and, indeed, is the only edition that fully deserves the title of "Perfect."

There are numerous editions of this wonderful writer's works, got up in all styles, and at every price. But, unfortunately they are all more or less faulty.

From some editions many of the strongest passages are omitted in deference to squeamish namby-pambyism. In other editions some fanciful critic has tried to improve the language of the mighty master—as if a rushlight could add lustre to the blazing beams of the noonday sun.

In other editions, again, many scenes are transposed, till the plays are made, like Joseph's coat, a thing "of shreds and patches."

BUT IN THIS EDITION, THE "PERFECT" SHAKESPEARE,

All the Poems—all the Plays—all the Characters—all the Language—are given unabridged, clear and "perfect" as they originally sprang from the august brow of this Jove of Poets—the sublime Shakespeare.

It is not necessary at this late day to say aught in praise of Shakespeare's works; for they are universally admitted to be the grandest efforts of any human mind. Works that have been eulogized by Ben Johnson, by Dryden, by Addison, by Milton (Prince of Poets) who has beautifully written of him as

> "Sweetest Shakespeare—Nature's child—> Warbling his native wood-notes-wild."

needs no eulogy from meaner men.

If you have but One Book let that Book be "Shakespeare."

It is an epitome of all human Passions, Motives, Actions and Expressions.

None are too low; none too high to miss being instructed as well as delighted by the Plays and Poetry of Shakespeare.

Even if a person is not easily moved by "concord of sweet" words, it is a matter of

Necessary Polite Education

to be well informed about the works of "the sweet Swan of Avon." For one can hardly take up a book, listen to a conversation, or even hear a sermon, but that he will see or hear characters alluded to, or lives quoted from the peerless author of whom Dr. Johnson has truly said: "That the stream of time which washed away the perishable fabrics of other poets, passed harmlessly by the adamantine fame of Shakespeare."

You can Learn the English Language from Shakespeare alone.

The great Hungarian Patriot, Kossuth, who spoke English with the eloquence of a Clay or a Webster, says that, while in prison, he learned all that he knew of English with no other book than a "perfect Shakespeare."

The "Perfect" Shakespeare

Is in every respect the best edition. Every word of the original is in it. It is printed from new, clear, easily read type. It is a fine, large, handsome book—an ornament to a parlor table. It is embellished with many striking illustrations.

It is Sold for the Exceedingly Small Sum of $1.50.

The Perfect Shakespeare, in addition to the whole of Shakespeare's Comedies, Histories, Tragedies and Poems, all that he ever wrote, contains the full text of Shakespeare Will as recorded in the office of the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, and also a complete explanatory glossary of all the unusual words or phrases occuring in his works, making one Handsome Quarto Volume, Bound in the best English Cloth with artistic designs in Black and Gold on Back and Side. Price One Dollar and Fifty Cents.

HEROES, CONQUERORS. STATESMEN, AUTHORS, ARTISTS, HUMORISTS MISERS, MOUNTEBANKS, KINGS, QUEENS, JUGGLERS, &c., &c. and Other Curiosities of Human Nature.

THE WHOLE COMPILED FROM THE MOST AUTHENTIC SOURCES.

ILLUSTRATED WITH NEARLY 300 ENGRAVINGS BY FREDERICK BLUNT ALLEN, A. M.

THIS is a real Cyclopedia of useful and Entertaining Information, It gives all the reliable facts known about all those wonderful individuals who stand out prominently in the world's History; persons about whom everybody has read or heard, and yet whose real history so few are acquainted with. In society one is continually hearing some allusion to one or more of these personages; while almost every page of popular literature contains some reference to their actions or characters. Lives of all these famous characters have been printed in separate volumes; and as there are complete histories of nearly 200 persons in this book, all their Lives in separate volumes would cost at least two hundred dollars! But here the reader has all the well verified incidents of their history in One Fine Volume of 800 Pages for $2.50.

There has been hardly any person living in history or tradition at all notorious or eminent, whose career is not told of in this book. Such great historical characters as Frederick the Great, Maria Theresa, the Duke of Alba, Massaniello, Catharine of Russia, Admiral Coligny, Peter the Great, Napoleon, Sobieski, and many others of a like quality, who have figured as conquerors and creators or desolators of kingdoms. To such, space is given proportionable to their deeds. All the great discovers and travelers, such as Drake and Bruce, have their travels and voyages described in animated, and always truthful terms. The Jonathan Wilds and Jack Shepherds are told of, not in a way to make any one emulous of rivaling their daring but criminal deeds, but as showing certain states of society and various grades of character. All the notorious beggars and misers have their histories here given, reading an impressive lesson that thrift and prodigality, carried to excess, produce the same results. dirt, privation and misery. All the men, famous for strength, agility, or endurance; all persons living to a great age, all noted criminals of whatever grade; Poets famous for their grand works, eccentric lives, or melancholy deaths; Monarchs of all grades, from Titus Vespasianus, the Emperor of Rome, to Bamfield Moore Carew, King of the English Gypsies; Lives of Lambert and the Living Skeleton: Admirals, such as Nelson, and our own Farragut; Lives of such modern millionaires as Astor, Vanderbilt, and Stewart.

In this book is recorded the acts and utterances of the leading persons who have figured in the world since the introduction of printing. These characters are the individuals of whom we almost daily hear or read. Conversation and literature are full of references to their names, deeds, or thoughts To be ignorant of them and their doings is to confess one-self a perfect ignoramus, unfit to mingle in society with its well-informed members. It is to stand mute where every one else is at least objecting or assenting to the subject under discussion. This is the most successful—the most perfect—compilation of the wonderful histories of these remarkable people that has ever been made. While every item of their life-history is compressed into one fine large volume, not a single iota of their eventful careers is omitted. An industrious reader might spend a whole year consulting hundreds of volumes of biographical cyclopedias. and he would not be as fully informed as he will be after perusing this book.

Here is a brief list of a few of the remarkable characters described:

Chancellor Bismark; Emperor William of Germany;
Henry Ward Beecher; Senator Jones of Nevada;
Diemounez; Charles XII.; Murat; Suwarrow:
Trajan; Angoreau; Titus; Ney; Gustavus Adolphus;
Robert Burns; Samuel Johnson; Gray; Pope;
Prior; Byron; Camoens; Petrarch; Allan Ramsay:
Mungo Park; Belzoni;
Morland; Barry; Fuseli; Hogarth; Opie.
Charles Dickens; Geo. Washington; Thomas Paine;
David Hume; William Penn; Moll Cut Purse;
Margaret Finch, Queen of the Gipsies,
John Bigg, the Dinton Hermit;
Dolly of the Chop House; Patie Birnie the famous fiddler; Old Parr;
Thomas Gay the Miser; Crazy Crow, Porter of Dublin Theatre;
Mathew Hopkins, Witchfinder-General; Countess of Desmond;
Owen Farrell the Irish Dwarf;
Sarah Mapp, the remarkable Bone Setter; Peter, the Wild Boy; Baron Trenck; Daniel Dancer, the Miser; John Guttenburg and John Faust, the inventors of Printing;
Thomas Topham, the strong man;
Jacob Hall, the celebrated Rope Dancer;
Mrs. Christain Davies, commonly called Mother Ross.
Cardinal Richelieu Clement XVI.
Dr. Erasmus Darwin.

But it would take page after page merely to give the names of the wonderful persons of all kinds and varieties—mental and physical wonders—who figure in this extraordinary volume. Not mere sketches, but every particle of the private as well as public history of these world-renowned people much of which is suppressed in the histories written by partial friends and paid eulogists.

The characters brought to view in this volume are among the most remarkable, and many of them the most eccentric which have ever appeared on the great theatre of human action. Their virtues and failings are described with impartiality; and they are made to pass in succession before the reader like the figures in a long procession. The portraits of nearly all of them are given by way of embellishment, and many of the scenes of their eventful lives are presented by the skill of the artist. The publishers believe that this work will Prove an acceptable addition to the libraries of all who are fond of the curiosities and eccentricities of Human Nature.

IN SHORT—

there is not a man or woman—royal or plebian—hero or coward—beggar or millionaire—fat or lean—generous or mean—giant or dwarf—statesman or politician—learned or ignorant—who has attained a glorious celebrity or an infamous notoriety, but whose minutest acts and thoughts are chronicled in these surpassingly interesting, nay captivating pages.

THE GREAT AND ECCENTRIC CHARACTERS OF THE WORLD

contains nearly 800 large octavo pages, and is illustrated with about 300 fine engravings. It is well printed from good readable type on fine paper, and is strongly bound in the best English cloth, with gilt back and side, forming a handsome, durable and valuable volume of the most interesting character. It is equal in size, bulk or quality to most $5 books, but is sold at the marvelous low price of

TWO DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS.

If a person has nearly every other book he still needs this. With this he can do without most other volumes.

A work having such a general interest as the

The Great and Eccentric Characters of the World,

to the Public at large, makes it one of the best books ever offered to agents. Scarcely any person can be found who will not be interested in some portion of it, and when the cheapness is made known very few will refrain from purchasing it.

To men or women who desire to engage a portion or all their time in soliciting orders, we offer extraordinary inducements, and we are confident they will find it an exceedingly remunerative business.

NASSAU EDITION
—OF—
STANDARD CLASSICS.

At once the BEST and CHEAPEST Edition ever published.

Large Type—Fine Paper—Handsome Illustrations.

ROBINSON CRUSOE; His Life and Adventures.

A New, Complete and Unabridged Edition. 480 pp. 12 mo. 7 full page illustrations, by Thwaites and other great artists. Price 30 Cents.

As it is universally admitted that "everybody has read, will read, or ought to read Robinson Crusoe," we need only refer them to this most superior edition; equal in all respects to any, and much lower in price.

THE ARABIAN NIGHTS' ENTERTAINMENTS; Or, The Thousand and One Nights.

New and Complete Edition. 480 pp. 12 mo. 6 full page illustrations. Price 30 Cents.

In the passing centuries since this wonderful book was written thousands of books have been written, read and forgotten and buried beneath the dust of centuries, while the Arabian Nights is still the delight of the young and the instructor of the old.

BUNYAN'S PILGRIM'S PROGRESS.

The Pilgrim's Progress from this World to that Which is to Come. 450 pp. 12 mo. 10 full page illustrations. By J. D. WATSON and others. Price 30 Cents.

This is one of the few books that the world will never willingly let die. While such giant minds as Johnson and Macauley never tired of reading this great book, its allegories are so plain and spirited that children enter into the spirit of the inspired "Tinker of Bedford."

MOORE'S POETICAL WORKS.

The Poetical Works of THOMAS MOORE, Complete and Unabridged. Reprinted from the original edition, with Explanatory Notes. 800 pp. large 12 mo. Price 30 Cents.

Whether Moore is considered as the translator of Anacreonic Odes, the author of the Irish Melodies, or of the exquisite Lalla Rookh, he is in each and all unapproachable. His works are found alike in the boudoir of fashion and in the plain parlor of the humble.

DANTE.

The Vision of Hell, Purgatory and Paradise. Translated into English by H. T. CARY, A. M. With copious Explanatory Notes, and Chronological View of the Age of Dante. 400 pp. large 12 mo. Price 30 Cents.

Dante is admitted to be one of the ever illustrious trio which Homer and Virgil complete. His wondrous book appears more like a revelation than an invention. We positively seem to hear the groans of the damned, and see their terrible writhings. The grand lessons taught by this book are indelibly burnt into the heart.

BURNS' POETICAL WORKS.

The Complete Works of ROBERT BURNS. A New Edition, Unabridged, with Explanatory and Glossarial Notes, and a Memoir of the Author. 500 pp. large 12 mo. Price 30 cts.

Burns has been justly called the "Poet of Humanity." His Cotter's Saturday Night and other long poems are filled with noble sentiments, nobly expressed; while his Songs are sung in every clime wherever the English tongue is used, whether by the side of the banks and braes of his own Bonnie Scotia, in the wilds of Canada, amid the pinnacles of the Himalays, and in the cabin and forecastle of every vessel that bears the flags of the greatest maratime nations over the most distant seas.

POPE'S POETICAL WORKS.

The Poetical Works of ALEXANDER POPE, with copious Explanatory Notes and the Fine Original Illustrations. Together with a Memoir of the Author. 500 pp. Price 30 cts.

The "Essay on Man" and "The Rape of the Lock" would have made the reputation of a lesser Poet, but they are but two bright stars in the constellation of brilliant poems written by this matchless master of poetic composition.

OUR LIBRARY

OF

Choice Romance, Fiction and Adventure!

A rare treat for lovers of the Romantic, the Marvelous and the Astounding.

TERENCE TIERNEY, ADMIRAL.

This work, by the celebrated BANIM, has received the endorsement of both press and people as the best delineation of Irish character, in its brighter phases, ever published. We know this is saying a great deal, but we are backed in the assertion by over 30,000 intelligent readers, who have bought and read the work. Keep the ball rolling, until 100.000 hearts will be made glad, and 100,000 mouths will expand in hearty guffaws over the pages of "Ould Terrence Tierney." Price 10 cts.

THE CABIN BOY; A Tale of the Wide Ocean.

BY CAPTAIN L. C. KINGSTON.

Since the advent of "Robinson Crusoe," we will venture to say that no more startling narrative has been issued from the press than this Tale of the Wide Ocean, by a well-known and popular author. From the first leaf to the last, incident, adventure, and fun crowd each other so rapidly, and yet so naturally, that it is impossible, once you have dipped into its pages, to put it aside until you have followed the fortunes of its principal characters to the end. It would be impossible to give a synopsis of this gem of stories, from the fact that it is so wonderfully condensed that there is not a line in the entire one hundred pages which could be dispensed with. It is charming, fresh and vigorous, and written only as an old salt could write. Price 10 cts.

THE PEEP O'DAY BOYS; or, Wild Life on the Mountains.—By M. BANIM.

BANIM's stories require no puffery or elaborate advertising to introduce them to the public notice—they carry a convincing weight in themselves, and charm the reader no less by their startling situations and thrilling episodes—always true to nature, however—than by the tissue of quiet humor, artistically woven through even the darker lines of his productions. In this he has excelled himself. Every page teems with fun, fights, and frolic of such a character as none but the light-hearted sons of Erin can indulge in. Whoever fails to read the "Peep O'Day Boys," will miss a great literary luxury. Price 10 cts.

CAPTAIN DOE; The Mountain Chief.—By JOHN BANIM.

This is a novel which for entrancing interest has never been surpassed. The thrilling incidents and romantic adventures, the heroic deeds and dastardly actions, interspersed with some tender love scenes, show a keen insight into the Irish character. The marvellous adventures of CAPTAIN DOE, at once the terror and pride of the mountains, are detailed in BANIM's most charming language. By all means get this book. Price 10 cents.

CLERK BARTON'S CRIME; or, The Adventures of a Night.—A TALE OF NEW YORK LIFE, HIGH AND LOW.—By STEELE PEN.

In an experience of over twenty-five years as reader for the weekly press, and gleaner of manuscripts for eminent publishing houses, the writer of this announcement honestly asserts that no story equal in power and originality to CLERK BARTON'S CRIME has ever passed through his hands. The plot is well laid, and our hero carried through numberless striking scenes, exemplifying the old adage that "True love never did run smooth." There are mysteries of this great city exposed that, to those who are unacquainted with city life, would never dream of such things existing. Price 10 cents.

Each of the above books is full of absorbing interest. There is not a dull or insipid line in the whole five books. We will send them by mail, post paid, to any part of the world for 10 cents each.

DR. BLACKBURN, The Yellow Fever Fiend.

A Tale of the Great Southern Rebellion. Full of exciting scenes occurring during the war.—Price 15 Cents.

HIGH AND LOW; or, the Pains and Pleasures of a Life.—By T. H. KEPPEL, Author of the Great Prize Story, "THE OAK AND THE BRAMBLE."

A very thrilling novel, 144 pp., 8vo., illustrated. Price 25 cents.

GREAT STORIES BY GREAT WRITERS.

Being the best collection of the best Novelettes and the best short Tales that ever appeared in one book. 8vo., illustrated. Price 25 cents.

BUFFON'S Natural History
—OF—
MAN, THE GLOBE,
—AND OF—QUADRUPEDS.

—WITH ADDITIONS FROM—

CUVIER, LACEPEDE, and other EMINENT NATURALISTS.

ILLUSTRATED WITH NEARLY 200 FINE ENGRAVINGS.

Two Volumes in One.

There are not half-a-dozen books launched upon the sea of public favor that have more proudly floated through the changing years than BUFFON's great, admirable, unequaled work. Year after year tens of thousands of this matchless book are printed and sold. Of course our large sales of this book have excited the envy and the cupidity of other publishers, who have had books written on the same subjects—seeking to take the place of BUFFON. They might as well seek to deaden the boom of Cathedral peals by the tinkle of cow-bells. Either they produce a dry, harsh volume, full of details of lengths and breadths of bones, of muscles and of sinews; or going into the opposite extreme. They have treated Natural History not as a study, but a jest; and got up books teeming with dubious anecdote of Monkeys and Macaws. Now it should be known that

Buffon's Natural History

Has never been approached for the extent and accuracy of its descriptions of all kinds of Creatures, Birds, Animals, Fishes, their habits, their formation, mode of breeding, rearing their young, etc., etc.

Every creature named by Adam—from the towering Elephant to the shrinking Field Mouse—as the long procession filed before him, is told of with accuracy. The style of BUFFON has never been equalled—grand, noble, sublime, or simple and plain—always fitting exactly the subject under description.

The inquisitive little child will sit listening for hours to the beautiful descriptions, while the "most learned Thebian" will return again and again to the fascinating pages, which perhaps first fostered in his mind a love for learning.

BUFFON'S NATURAL HISTORY is a book that is never out of place. It affords delight and instruction alike to the wood-cutter's boy poring over its pages by the flame of pine knots, and to the rich boy when its pages are illuminated by the light of gas or of wax candles.

No book can be better for a present—if you desire the receiver to think often of you and your gift—for it will be so often read that it will continually recall the giver.

Buffon's Natural History

Has been translated into almost every language, and will ever retain its freshness and popularity.

A LIBRARY OF MEDICAL AND HIGIENIC KNOWLEDGE AT TRIFLING COST.

HOW TO LIVE A HUNDRED YEARS.

A Practical and Reliable Guide to Health and Longevity.

WITH PLAIN AND SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONS FOR IMPROVING THE MEMORY.

Making it Retentive, Capacious, and Reliable.

BY M. LAFAYETTE BYRN, M.D.

In this little work the eminent author not only gives rules for attaining a great and green old age, but he gives specific directions for avoiding and divesting advanced age of its usual ailments and debilities, so that life may be enjoyable and sweet to its utmost limit. We see every day examples of premature old age: persons who ought to be in the hey-day of life and vigor, but who are, by a combination of circumstances, completely prostrated by diseases of various kinds that torment the sufferer in a thousand ways, and finally absorb his life. This unhappy condition might be entirely obviated by following the simple and common-sense methods here laid down by the author.

Dr. BYRN's observations on the Art of Improving the Memory must be appreciated by thousands of persons to whom a treacherous and unreliable memory has been their especial bane. The rules given are the result of years of attention and study of the subject, and can not fail to make

A Bad Memory Good, and a Good Memory still better.

This portion of the book will be of special value to every business man and student in the country; and the hints given relating to study, aspirants to the platform, clergymen, and public speakers, are of the greatest value, being the results of practical observation and experience. Price 15 cents.

THE SECRET OF BEAUTY;

OR, HOW TO BE HANDSOME.

BY M. LAFAYETTE BYRN, M.D.

This little treatise is just such a pertinent practical brochure as the public might expect from so practical, observant, and polished gentleman as the author. To every lady or gentleman, young or old, its value is priceless. No one can fail to derive some benefit from it. Rules are given

To Improve the Complexion.---To Preserve and Beautify the Teeth.---To Brighten and Preserve the Eyes.---To Beautify the Form.---To Make the Face and Lips Rosy. To Dress with Taste.--Ladies' Dress.--Gentlemen's Dress.--To Make many kinds of Perfumes, Toilet Preparations, and Personal Requisites.

With much other very useful and indispensable information, suitable for all classes and conditions. Price 15 cents.

A SCIENTIFIC TREATISE ON

STAMMERING AND STUTTERING,

AND ITS CURE.

BY M. LAFAYETTE BYRN, M.D.

We have here this difficult subject treated so intelligently and plainly that any person interested can read and learn the causes of the peculiar and distressing impediments in his speech: why it is that he can speak some words plainly and easily and others not at all; why it is that some stammerers can speak fluently words beginning with B, P, Sp, &c., and can not utter words beginning with C, K, Q, &c.; why it is that one day he can converse quite well, and on another can talk only with great hesitation and difficulty;—in short, it thoroughly explains the different causes that produce stammering, and then proceeds to make plain the means of cure, so that any person with a determination to succeed, by following the instructions given, can cure himself of this most unhappy affliction, and at no expense but the cost of the book.

In Parts II. and III. are given all the Secret and "instant" cures—averaging in price from $10 to $75,—such as are practised by the "professional" curers of stammering. Therefore, possessing this little work you possess a full knowledge of the causes of stammering, and all that is known for its prompt and permanent removal. Of the value of this work we have received some very gratifying letters of commendation from those who have found cures for themselves in its pages, and which would be given here did space permit. Price 25 cents.

THE ART OF BEAUTIFYING AND PRESERVING THE HAIR;

OR, HOW TO MAKE THE HAIR GROW.

BY M. LAFAYETTE BYRN, M.D.

This is the only exhaustive and scientific work on the Hair published. Dr. BYRN has devoted much time and attention to the Hair and its diseases, the results of which he here presents to the public. This work must not be confounded with an advertising pamphlet, which sets forth the claims of some advertiser's nostrum. All who value this beautiful ornament of the human body will cherish and esteem this practical work for its counsels in caring for and curing the ailments the hair is subject to. Price 25 cents.

Crabb's Handy Cyclopedia;

— OR —

An Explanation of Words and Things connected with all the Arts and Sciences.

By GEORGE CRABB, A. M.,

Author of "English Synonymes," "Technological Dictionary and Historical Dictionary." Illustrated with numerous Engravings.

New Edition, with all the Latest Improvements.

This is a capital book, supplying in a handy volume, clear descriptive (often with an illustrative picture) of almost any and every thing or object that any person wants to know. It is alphabetically arranged, and for people who have not the means to purchase great, many-volumed Encyclopedias, and yet wish to be thoroughly posted, this is just the work for them.

IT DEFINES

Ornithology, Fishes, Animals, Law, Agriculture, Sporting, Mechanics, Geometry, Metal Casting, Architecture, Grammar, Type-setting, Painting, Music, Sculpture, Commerce, Chemistry, Naval Matters, Medicine; in brief, everything pertaining to everything in Nature, in Art, in Law, in Religion, all that we see, hear, feel and think. All that we can possibly want to inquire about.

All these things are clearly described and defined; of course at more length, and with more particulars than can be given to such subjects even in the best defining Dictionaries.

CRABB'S HANDY CYCLOPEDIA is, in truth, a Portable Library of Reference, equally valuable and useful to the Lawyer, the Doctor, the Soldier, the Sailor, the Editor, the Mechanic, the Farmer, the Machinist.

And, indeed, to every person that wants to lessen his ignorance and increase his knowledge, have Crabb's Cyclopedia within reach and you will never be at a loss to answer any question upon even the most opposite of themes or topics. This Book will make the most Ignorant comparatively well-informed while the best informed can draw copious draughts of useful knowledge from the vast diversity of accurate learning to be found in these instructive pages.

Apart from other expenses the Engravings alone cost upwards of $5,000; so it will be seen that no expense was spared in making this book far ahead of everything of its class.

One strongly bound vol., cloth, gilt. Price One Dollar.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS

— OF —

A NATION'S LIFE;

— OR —

The Patriots and Statesmen of the United States.

Containing Lives of all the Signers of the Declaration of Independence; Constitution of the United States, with all Amendments; The Inaugural and First Annual Addresses of each of the Presidents from Washington to Hayes, inclusive.

— TOGETHER WITH THE —

FAREWELL ADDRESSES OF GEORGE WASHINGTON and GEN. JACKSON,

With the Lives of all the Presidents.

This book is a Catechism of Politics and State-craft; without a thorough knowledge of its contents no politician can pretend to discuss affairs of either the States or the Nation. To the patriot it is more than the Catechism—it is the Bible of his political faith. In it he finds accurately recorded all the heroic actions and wise maxims of the great and good Founders of the Great Republic. Every line of the famous Constitution and its several amendments, the Inaugural Addresses of all the Presidents and their first Annual Addresses; papers which mapped out the policy intended to be pursued by the writers. No more valuable and instructive State papers were ever written. They are not only pregnant with wise counsels and just deductions, but they are models and examples of powerful reasoning and finished composition.

The Interesting Lives of our Great Presidents are fraught with instructive lessons which every aspiring citizen should mark, learn and inwardly digest. A seaman might as well attempt to navigate the stormy Atlantic without chart and compass as an American try to sail amid the rocks and quicksands of political life without a thorough knowledge of the teachings of this remarkable book. All American Political History and teaching are compressed into these instructive pages. Even those who possess large libraries will find this a Political Ready-Reference which will save them much trouble and time.

How to Write a Letter,

A COMPLETE LETTER WRITER,

FOR LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.

This Book is not a collection of letters and examples, as is generally the case with all "Complete Letter Writers" now in use, but it is a book which actually tells how to write a letter upon any subject out of the writers' "own head." It gives much very necessary information relating to

PUNCTUATION, SPELLING, GRAMMAR, WRITING FOR THE PRESS, LEGAL IMPORTANCE OF LETTERS, LOVE, COURTSHIP AND MARRIAGE.

It also contains the Art of Rapid Writing, by the abbreviation of longhand, and a DICTIONARY OF ABBREVIATIONS.

This Book is worth its weight in gold to all. No one can fail to be benefited by some of the information it contains. It contains all the points and features that are in other Letter-Writers, with very much that is new, original, and very important, and which cannot be got in any other book.

Price 25 Cents.

THE AMERICAN BOOK OF

GENTEEL BEHAVIOR,

A complete Hand-Book of Modern Etiquette,

FOR LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.

A perusal of this work will enable every one to rub off the rough husks of ill-breeding and neglected education, and substitute for them gentlemanly ease, and graceful, ladylike deportment, (as the case may be), so that their presence will be sought for, and they will not only learn that great art of being thoroughly at home in all societies, but will have the rarer gift of making everybody around them feel easy, contented and happy.

This work is fully up to the requirements of the times; it describes the etiquete of our very best society.

It teaches, (what all should learn):—

How to enter a room, and how to leave it.—How to accost or notice Ladies or Gentlemen in the Street.—How to Dress well, and yet not garishly.—How to give and receive Introductions.—What kind of Cards to have, and how to present or send them.—The proper mode of giving Presents.—How to shake hands and bid good-bye.—How to begin, conduct, and end a Conversation.—How to accompany acquaintances on the Promenade.—How to seek a Partner in the Dance, or how to decline an Invitation.—How to behave at Dinners, either as Host or Guest. How to behave during Courtship and Marriage.—How to 'play the affable' at Church, at Parties, &c.

OFFENBACH'S
DANCING WITHOUT A MASTER,
AND BALL-ROOM MANUAL.

Dancing as an elegant accomplishment has ever stood prominent, because no other art or exercise can give the individual that graceful demeanor and easy deportment so essential to a correct appearance in cultured society. As it is not always convenient to have recourse to a teacher of dancing, this work aims to supply the deficiency. In this it has been very successful. By a series of practical and lucid instructions the art of dancing is so simplified that any one can become proficient in the art

WITHOUT THE AID OF A MASTER.

In addition to specific detailed instructions as to how to dance, it gives some very valuable information relating to Organizing a Ball.

Ball-Room Toilet.
Etiquette of the Ball-Room.
Managing and Arranging the Ball-Room.

All the Popular Dances are given, and the whole is illustrated by numerous cuts and diagrams, making the art so simple that the most ignorant can become expert in it. Price 25 cents.

BURNS' GUIDE TO PHONIC SHORTHAND

Being a Concise yet Full Exposition of the Elements of the Latest and Most Improved Method of Stenographic Writing;

And Illustrated by Numerous Plates, having Printed Keys for the use of Students.

"BURNS' GUIDE TO PHONIC SHORTHAND" is based wholly upon a system that has been reduced to every-day practice. The signs are all constructed on simple plans; and, while capable of being written with extraordinary quickness, can be read easier than the plainest print copy. Instead of confusing eyesight and intellect with a vague mass of complex signs, intended to represent useless letters, each sign plainly indicates a sound; and as the sounds in all languages are few, and the conglomeration of letters endless, it stands to reason that this phonic method is incomparably easier of acquisition than any of the old methods.

A boy of twelve by this method will learn in a week what it would take an adult a year to learn by the obsolete way.

All the leading stenographers are fast dropping their old style to use "Burns' Phonic Shorthand."

It is hardly necessary to point out the advantages of Phonic Shorthand writing. Every young man about to start in the world will find this art of immense service to him. To say nothing of its absolute necessity to an editor, a press or legal reporter, it is valuable to clerks, lawyers, travellers, and merchants. In short, a man in any profession thoroughly posted in Phonic Shorthand, has his capacity for business almost doubled, if it is merely to record at once in his memorandum-book transactions and conversations and agreements. Price 25 cents.

THE AMERICAN Horse-Owner's Guide
AND PRACTICAL FARRIER AND DOCTOR.

There is no one who owns, cares for, or works a horse, who can afford to be without this work. It is just the handy, complete, and practical manual that has long been needed by horse-owners. It is written by a well-known veterinary surgeon and horse-dealer of great experience, so that no matter of importance relating to the horse in all stages of its existence is neglected. This work thoroughly informs you about—

The kind of Horse to buy.
To detect Horse-Jockey Tricks.
To manage a Horse. To shoe a Horse.
To break and train Horses.
To cure all kinds of Horse-Diseases.

There is nothing relating to BUYING, BREEDING, REARING, TRAINING, SHOEING, FEEDING, TAMING, BREAKING, AND DOCTORING HORSES, but is thoroughly detailed. In addition, is given the Art of Training and Taming Horses by a new method. And it tells—

How to make a Horse lie down.--To Catch a Wild Horse.--To Drive the Wildest Horse.--To Teach a Horse to Pace.--To Make a Horse stand.--To Make a Horse sit on its Haunches.--To Make a Horse come down for Mounting.--To Make a Horse follow you.—To make a Horse Stand Still without Hitching.—To Break Horses to Ride.—To Prevent a Horse Running Away.

This great practical work on the Horse is only 25 cents.

JOLLY TIT-BITS

Common Complaints,

AND

HOW TO CURE THEM.

A Practical and Reliable Family Doctor.

BY M. LAFAYETTE BYRN, M.D.

This most admirable treatise is deserving of a world-wide circulation. It is concise and practical, and adapted to the comprehension of ordinary men and women. Its use in accidents and all cases of sickness would save an untold amount of suffering. The whole lot of common ailments and injuries are detailed and treated in a plain, practical, and certain manner,—so that any one can, by easy reference to the book, apply the remedies. As a Book of Ready Remedies for the ordinary ills of life it should be in the hands of every person who is liable to an accident or subject to a disease.

In the treatment of Children's Complaints, as well as in the ailments of adults, the author has been especially careful to give those household remedies and appliances which can be generally procured in any household; and the directions are stripped of all unnecessary verbiage and medical technicalities, and tells what to do and how to do it in the plainest possible manner. This work is a Complete Compendium of Domestic Medicine and Surgery, and is just the handy manual to have near for ready reference in any emergency that may arise. Illustrated. Price 25 cents.

Grammar Made Easy.

A very interesting Book on a proverbially dry and uninteresting subject. The author has, with a tact and skill which shows him to be a thorough master of the subject, stripped the language of all unnecessary verbiage and gone right to the point and matter absolutely needed. It is, in fact, the golden grains of grammer sifted from the useless mass of chaff that it is usually invested with. The book is especially adapted for those who have arrived to years of understanding, but who have never had the opportunity of acquiring grammatical knowledge, and also for those who have in early years had some knowledge of it, but who have neglected or forgotten to practice it. By a perusal of this small manual, a person gets, with small effort, that which takes with the ordinary Grammars now in use, months of dry, tedious drudgery to get anything like a fair knowledge of the English language. It is a complete Manual of Instruction for Correct Speaking, Writing and Spelling, for Adults. Price 15 Cents.

How to Speak and Write with Elegance and Ease

A valuable little manual for the use of Readers, Writers and Talkers. It shows the most prevalant errors that the inexperienced fall into. The examples are made extremely plain and clear. In every case the correct forms are given. It should be the companion of every person, young or old, who desires to speak, write or read with precision and correctness. Price 10 Cents.

How to Pronounce Difficult Words.

There are few persons who have not at times been in doubt respecting the true pronunciation of a word they desire to use. Even those who have had the advantages of a liberal education are frequently confused and confounded by the uncertainty of the correct sounding of words they need to express their views. This uncertainty can now be avoided. By the aid of this book the hardest, words or or most difficult terms in the English language can be pronounced with absolute ease and accuracy. It contains also much useful information relating to the choice of words, and gives rules for pronouncing French, Italian, German, Russian, Danish, Norwegian and other foreign words that are constantly occurring in the current literature of the day. Price 10 Cents.

Slang and Vulgar Phrases and Forms.

A collection of objectional words, inaccurate terms, barbarisms colloquailisms, quaint expressions, cant phrases, provincialisms, perversions and misapplication of terms, as used in the various States of the Union. As a Dictionary of local peculiarities and State idiosyncrasies it is a curiosity, and deserves a place in every library. The whole collection is arranged, explained and corrected. Price 10 Cents.

The Art of Ventriloquism.

This Book contains simple and full directions by which any one can acquire this amusing art, with numerous examples for practice. Also, instructions for making the Magic Whistle, for imitating birds, animals and peculiar sounds of various kinds. Any boy who wishs to obtain an art by which he can develope a wonderful amount of astonishment, mystery and fun, should learn Ventriloquism, as he easily can by following the simple secrets given in this book. Price 10 Cts.

How to Live a Hundred Years.

A practical and reliable guide to Health and Longevity, with plain and specific instructions for Improving the Memory, making it retentive, capacious and reliable, by M. Lafayette Byrn, M. D. In this little work the eminent author not only gives rules for attaining a great and green old age but he gives specific directions for avoiding and divesting advanced age of its usual ailments and debilities, so that life may be enjoyable and sweet to its utmost limit. Dr. Byrn's observations on The Art of Improving the Memory must be appreciated by thousands of persons to whom a treacherous and unreliable memory has been their especial bane. The rules given are the result of years of attention and study of the subject, and can not fail to make a bad memory good, and a good memory still better. This portion of the book will be of special value to every business man and student in the country; and the hints given relating to study; and for aspirants to the platform, clergymen and public speakers, are of the greatest value, being the results of practical observation and experience. Price 10 Cents.

How to be an Orator.

At no period of our country's history was public speaking more in demand than at the present time. This book gives complete directions for composing a speech, illustrated by the various kinds of oratory. It should be in the hands of every one who is desirous of becoming proficient in the supremely useful and noble art of oratory. The instructions given will enable any one to appear with dignity and distinction before any audience. Price 10 Cents.

The Hand-Book of Good Manners,

And Guide to Politeness; embracing the usages and customs of good society in public and private life. This is the best work on Etiquette ever published. No antiquated customs or obsolete usages are here introduced, but everything is modern, and presented in a clear interesting and forcible manner. It is an authority on all matters relating to behavior and social intercourse of every kind. Among the subjects treated are—Dress, Introductions, Cards, Shaking Hands, Letters and Presents, Conversation, Morning Calls, Dinners, Carving, Balls, Evening Parties, Riding and Driving, Boating, Staying with Friends, Public Meetings, Pic-Nics, the Promenade, Love, Coutship and Marriage. With this book no one need be at a loss how to act in any emergency that may arise, or hesitate to enter into any society, without being subject to discomfort or embarrassment. Price 15 Cents.

Letter-Writing made Easy.

This book will be a delightful surprise to those who have had occasion to refer to some of the many "complete" Letter-Writers that are published. It is not merely a collection of letters or examples, but it enters into the difficulties of the writer, and tells him how to write his own thoughts. Its suggestions are of untold value to those who use or expect to use the pen, enabling them to write on any topic with ease, elegance, and freedom. Instructions are given for writing the Complimentary Note; the Friendly Letter; the Business Letter; Love, Courtship and Marriage; together with Hints on Writing for the Press; Hints on Spelling; Hints on the Direction of Foreign Letters; Hints on Punctuation; and a great amount of other information of value to that large class of persons who are constantly needing a work of this kind. Price 15 Cts.

Riddles, Conundrums and Puzzles.

We believe in making home happy, and whatever tends to promote this condition we welcome with joy. This book is chock full of the choicest, newest and best collection of Riddles, Charades, Enigmas, Puzzles, Rebusses, Conundrums, Anagrams, Transpositions, Paradoxes, Acrostics, Problems, and other entertaining matter ever put together within the covers of any book heretofore published. It is a real live inscrutible Sphinx, as inscrutible and mysterious as the fabulous Egyptian one of old. There is fun for the Mirthful, food for the Curious, and matter for the Thoughtful in abundance. Price 15 Cents.

Morsels of Mirth for Funny Fellows.

We warrant this book to be a sure cure for every aliment under and above the moon, sun, stars and comets. It is a complete medly of Irish, Dutch and Yankee Yarns, Blunders and Bulls. It contains the richest gems of wit, and most laughable puns, outrageous drolleries, ludicrous, burlesque and side-splitting jokes, the newest stories, the most comical sells, and the raciest jests; besides, there are lots of funny and irresistible pictures. Special Notice.—Unless you want to laugh and get fat, don't send for it. Caution.—Before buying, be sure to see that your buttons are O. K. and your ribs are not defective, because we assert positively and emphatically that we will not be responsible for damages. Price 15 Cents.

Love-Making Secrets;

Or, the Art of being Popular with the Ladies. A book that will gladden the hearts of thousands of both sexes. It will cause more hearts and hands to be united in wedlock than any other human instrumentality can do. No maiden's heart can be so obdurate or perverse as to resist the attentions bestowed upon it if performed in the manner here indicated. Full and Practical Directions are given how to Woo and Win the most Beautiful, the most Reserved, the most Romantic, the most Sentimental, the most Religious, the most Bashful, the most Poetic, the most Perverse, the most Educated, and the most Refined Girl that ever had two eyes to bewilder and confuse an Unfortunate Man. It also tells the Way to Court an Actress, Old Maid, Heiress, and a Widow; When Men and Women are adapted for Marriage; How to Choose a Wife; How to Live Happy, and Enjoy Unceasing Bliss in the Nuptial State. It also gives Important Counsels to a Newly-Married Pair. Price 15 Cents.

Confidential Advice to a Lover.

Showing the Qualifications and Essential Characteristics necessary in a Good Wife. A Complete Guide for the Selection of a Partner, and thereby securing Perpetual Happiness in the Conjugal State. There is not an individual that will not find in this extraordinary book many strange things regarding Love and Love-Making of which he was entirely ignorant. No book like it has ever before been written; and although some prudish persons may deem the "mysteries of sparking" too occult and dark a subject to be shown up in the full glare of day, yet, after perusing this work, they will unanimously say, "Well done," to the daring author. No man should think of Courting, much less Marrying, until he has carefully studied every line of this remarkable work. No one Who has studied this book and follows its directions will ever be cursed by wedding a false, dissolute, shiftless, ill-tempered, ugly woman. Price 15 Cents.

The Book of Nature.

A Complete Exposition of the Science of Life and Sexual Physiology. It contains information of the greatest importance to those contemplating marriage, as well as to those newly married. By M. Lafayette Byrn, M. D, This book is meant for those who want to learn all the fearful mysteries of mortal conformation, and all the purposes for which the human kind was formed, mindful, meanwhile, to investigate with the awe and modesty which nature's secrets should be approached and investigated. This book will bear pondering over. It contains everything worth knowing printed in other books, and an immense collection of facts made known by recent investigations and discoveries. If you intend to marry, read this book! It will instruct you in all you ought to know. If you are married, and happiness has not attended you, the why and wherefore may be found in this book. If you are happy in marriage, you may augment that happiness by consulting this book. This work is not meant to gratify mere curiosity; it is intended to be read by those who look upon marriage as the most vitally important concern of life, by entering into which a state of earthly happiness can be secured, or all joys disastrously shipwrecked. It should be kept and read in secret, not left to fall into the hands of the thoughtless and profane, who often turn the most secret and sacred themes into ridicule. Indeed, it will be apparent at once that a work of this character is not intended for promiscuous reading. It is not a book for the family circle or the drawing-room table. It is essentially intended for a private companion for those who earnestly and in good faith desire to search closely into the intent and nature of Conjugal Duties and Pleasures. This work is a plain and concise explanation of the seeming mysteries of generation, and of all the laws relating to the Production and Rearing of Healthful Children. Everything relating to the powers, the inclinations, the instincts, and the co-relations of womanhood, manhood and childhood; with all known facts as to Love, its properties, its powers, its impulses and its repulsions, are treated in a way that has never been equalled for ability. This book is the multum in parvo of the whole science of generation. Study this work and you have it all, from Aristotle to the present day. There are a great number of wonderful and extraordinary revelations made in this book that only those seriously intending Love, Courtship and Marriage should be made acquainted with. Price $1.

Tastefully printed and bound in the best English Cloth. Gilt back, with Steel Plate in each vol. Price per vol., 30 cents. Arranged in a handsome box, 22 vols. Price $6.50.

SOUTHEY.

The Poetical Works of ROBERT SOUTHEY. With a new Memoir of his Life. 288 pp. Southey was the founder, with Wordsworth and Coleridge, of that famous school of Poetry known as the "Lake."

HEMANS.

The Poetical Works of FELICIA HEMANS. With an Essay on her Genius, by H. T. TUCKERMAN, Edited by RUFUS W. GRISWOLD. 365 pp. Who has not heard of "Graves of a Household," "Cassabianca," "The Voice of Spring," and yet these are but seed pearls that garnish her laurel wreath.

POPE.

The Poetical Works of ALEXANDER POPE. With an account of the Life and Writings of the Author. 512 pp. Here will be found the collected works of the best known of English Poets. Whose versatile genius ranged from "The Essay on Man" to "The Dunciad." Every line as clear as if cut in sapphire.

MILTON.

The Poetical Works of JOHN MILTON. 546 pp. He excels all other writers in drawing his language from the "wells of English undefiled." Whether in the grandeur of his thoughts, the vigor of his expressions, or the harmony of his versification "none but himself can be his parallel."

ELLIOT.

The Poetical Works of EBENEZER ELLIOT, with an introduction by RUFUS W. GRISWOLD. 288 pp. In the strong, manly lyrics of ELLIOT, there are no Lydian measures, in which "low-browed baseness wafts perfume to pride." All is devoted to powerful appeals for justice and right to the lowliest.

YOUNG.

The Complaint; or Night Thoughts, by EDWARD YOUNG, D. D. 326 pp. Probably no poem in the language contains so many couplets or single lines which can be readily detached, and are so often quoted. While the whole poem is a constellation of diamonds, each line is a sparkling solitaire.

POLLOCK.

The Course of Time. A Poem. By ROBERT POLLOCK. 351 pp. This writer's poems bears something the same relation to poetry that Martin's pictures do to Painting. Occasionally harsh, crude unpolished. Generally lurid, grand, and awful.—He does not dabble in glittering generalities, but brings such as Napoleon and Byron, before that fierce light that beats upon the judgment seat.

NORTON.

The Poems of the Hon. MRS. NORTON, with a notice of the Author, by RUFUS W. GRISWOLD. 288 pp. This gifted poetess and most unhappy lady has written poems that will never die. Not by any means her best are the "Bingen on the Rhine," and "Love Not," in which this lovely grandchild of Sheridan pours out the wailings of a broken heart.

WHITE.

The works of HENRY KIRKE WHITE. Containing his Life, Poems, and Melancholy Hours. 414 pp. Although every poem that this ill-fated son of genius ever wrote is full of the plaintive notes of the dying swan, and his landscapes show withering flowers and shrivelling leaves; yet to many hearts these sad traits the more endear them.

THOMSON, GRAY AND GOLDSMITH.

In this volume of 436 pages are the poems which have given immortality to this trio of famous poets.

COOK.

The Poems of ELIZA COOK, comprising "Melaia," together with her miscellaneous pieces. 288 pp. This lady has written very many beautiful pieces, among them the fine tribute to Washington.

WORDSWORTH.

Poems from the poetical Works of WILLIAM WORDSWORTH. 288 pp. Wordsworth has gloriously lived in popularity. The native goodness of his heart, and the rare beauty of his style will always tend to render him popular.

HOWITT.

The Poems of MARY HOWITT, with a memoir. 320 pp. As long as the Thrush and the Black Bird carol, as long as the primrose and crocus bloom, so long will these beautiful pieces find admirers.

COWPER.

Poems of WILLIAM COWPER. With a new memoir, compiled from Johnson, Southey and other sources. 288 pp. The sadly clouded life of this great writer is one of the most interesting ever penned. From it we learned how he varied his theme from The Task to John Gilpin.

ROGERS.

The Poems of SAMUEL ROGERS, with a memoir. 350 pp. The poems of Rogers have all the intrinsic worth and fine cutting of an antique cameo. "His pleasures of Memory," are filled with such exquisite pictures as "Genivra."

MONTGOMERY.

The Poems of JAMES MONTGOMERY, with a memoir. 288 pp. The religious world hailed with pleasure the advent of a man of genius, who consecrated his talents to religion.

SCOTT.

The Poetical Works of Sir WALTER SCOTT, with his Life, by RUFUS W. GRISWOLD. 540 pp. That person is poorly read who has not hung over the captivating pages of the "Wizard of the North."

SIGOURNEY.

Poems of LYDIA H. SIGOURNEY. 256 pp. Mrs. Sigourney was undoubtedly the best of our native writers. Her choice of subjects was varied and her treatment of speech was marked by beauty.

MOORE.

Lalla Rookh: An Oriental Romance. By THOMAS MOORE. 288 pp. This subject just suited the magnificently ornate language of the great "Bard of Erin." He fairly revels amid the gorgeous profusion of pastures and roses, and depicts the loves and hates of the dusky children of the sun.

COLERIDGE.

The Poetical Works of S. T. COLERIDGE. Edited by HERMAN HOOKER. 256 pp. To be the author of "Genevieve," and "The Ancient Mariner." is glory enough for any poet, but in this volume will be found many other examples of genius.

CAMPBELL.

The Poetical Works of THOMAS CAMPBELL. Edited by RUFUS W. GRISWOLD. 288 pp. Full of such gems as "The Pleasures of Hope," "Ye Mariners of England." "Hohenlinden." No writer has ever written more stiring lyrics in praise of such patriots as "the patriot Tell, the Bruce of Bannockburn."

STERNE AND JOHNSON.

In this volume of 320 pages are included the finest and most characteristic productions of Lawrence Sterne and Samuel Johnson.

THE

Young Wifes' Own Cook Book,

A PRACTICAL AND RELIABLE GUIDE TO EVERY-DAY COOKERY.

By AN EXPERIENCED HOUSEKEEPER.

This work on Cookery has several noteworthy features entirely distinct from any heretofore published. It is arranged so that the Housewife can tell at a glance the time necessary

TO COOK ANY DISH OR ARTICLE OF DIET,

It also gives some practical hints and suggestions for selecting the various meats, vegetables, fish, &c., as well as directions for Preserving, Storing and Keeping them. It is strictly American. The fault of most Cook-Books is that too much matter is taken from English sources, hence many of the common dishes and edibles known to our country are unnoticed or neglected. The authoress has culled and tested everything worth having from foreign sources, and adapted them to the wants and habits of the American people. Special attention is paid to economy, and an effort is made to remove the reproache which justly clings to American cookery, of being extravagant and wasteful without being palatable and healthful. Full instructions are given to prepare all kinds of

PIES, PUDDINGS, CAKES, JELLIES, &c., as well as preparing and cooking all kinds of Meats, Soups, Graveys, Fish, Vegetables, &c., in an Economical and Appetizing Manner.

There is also much other information given relating to domestic economy and household comforts, including many important Receipts for Washing, Scouring, Cleaning, &c., and a variety of others equally useful and necessary to the housekeeper or cook. These features make this work the best, most practical and popular Cook-Book ever issued.

Handsomely Illustrated, Price 25 Cents.

THE

TAXIDERMISTS' GUIDE,

Or, the Art of Collecting, Preparing, Mounting and Preserving all kinds of Animals, Birds, Fishes, Reptiles, Insects, etc.

This is a truly valuable and indispensable work for the use of the Naturalist, Traveler, and Amateur, or any one who delights in observing the interesting and multifarious products of Nature. It gives plain directions for skinning, stuffing and mounting all animals, from a mouse to an elephant. Also, how to catch, skin, preserve and mount all kinds of birds, both land and water. Also the best methods of

PRESERVING BIRDS' NESTS AND EGGS.

IT ALSO TEACHES THE ART OF

Skinning, Preserving and Setting up Reptiles, Fishes and Molluscous Animals, including Tortoises, Turtles, Crocodiles, Lizards, Serpents of all kinds, Frogs and Toads. It also gives the best methods of Collecting, Preserving and Polishing all kinds of Land, Marine and Fresh-Water Shells; the art of Breeding and Rearing Insects, and Preparing Skeletons.

including a number of the best receipts used by the most eminent Taxidermists of Europe, for various articles used in the preservation and setting up of animals.

Illustrated by many first-class engravings. Price 25 cents.

GILBERT'S BOOK of PANTOMIMES,

ACTING CHARADES, PARLOR THEATRICALS, AND TABLEAUX,

Being the very best articles of the kind ever devised to amuse a household with instructive, captivating performances, in which young, middle-aged, and old "can all take a hand in." Illustrated with numerous Fine Engravings, showing exactly how everything should be done.

The fullest instructions are given as to the Dresses, Scenes, Positions, Lights, &c.

The publishers feel a just pride in presenting this book to the public, as they know it to be the best of its class ever printed. The numerous pieces are all by masters of their peculiar lines. Some of the pieces are deeply pathetic, stirring up every good feeling of the heart, and teaching priceless moral lessons in an affecting but pleasing manner. Numerous other pieces are brim full of fun of the heartiest and healthiest description. Wild, jolly, rollicking fun, that can be joined in by the youngest and the oldest alike. Here is a brief epitome of the contents of this charming book:—

Shadow Pantomimes; Ghosts, and How to Raise Them; The Gallanty Show; Compliments of the Season; Bandoline, the Bloodless; Wild Wolf of Tartary; Ever-so-little Bear; White Rose of the Plantation; Charades in Action;

50 Tableaux Vivants, or Animated Pictures, from the most simple to the most complicated.

Persons who have never seen any of these things acted can easily arrange them, so full and plain are the directions in this book. For Church Fairs School Exhibitions, and Parlor Entertainments, they are just the thing being easily produced and giving excellent opportunities for young and old to participate. The pictures are "too funny for anything," and, with the comic readings, are a full well of pleasure, even for perusal. Although this book contains 120 pages, the price is only 25 cents.

AMERICA.

A COLLECTION OF

Eloquent and Interesting Extracts

FROM THE WRITINGS OF AMERICAN AUTHORS.

By GEORGE B. CHEEVER.

This book is an absolute necessity to any one who wishes to be acquainted with the excellencies as well as the peculiarities of our great prose writers and orators. Here will be found specimens of some of the most exquisitely fine, grand, fiery, simple, o nate and effective writing and oratory that the language contains. It is full of "thoughts that breath d words th t burn." Any one that has carefully rea d this volume will be able to realize fully the splendi d God-given genius of those that have helped to crush vice, elevate patriotism and wreathe the pure brows of virtue with amaranthine flowers.

We append the names of some of the many authors whose best utterances appear in this work:

Adams,	Ames,	Kirkland,	Bancroft,	Marshall,
Big Elk,	Brown,	Norton,	Carter,	Cass,
Quincy,	Dana,	Dennie,	Du Buceau,	Dwight,
Emerson,	Fitch,	Flint,	Franklin,	Wayland,

—THE—

Poets of America

By GEORGE B. CHEEVER.

This work is one much needed. It contains all the most truly beautiful short pieces of American Poetry—the clear wheat winnowed of all chaff. We have only to give a list of the names of some of the contributors to this volume to show that its leaves are enriched by offerings of the very choicest poetical gems.

The work contains one or more poems by

Wilcox,	Bryant,	Dana,	Hillhouse,	Pierpont,
Brooks,	Halleck,	Norton,	Mellen,	Lewis,
Eastburn,	Doane,	Townsend,	Longfellow,	Woodworth,
Rockwell,	Everett,	Alston,	Graham,	McLellan,
Flint,	Goodrich,	Davidson,	Willis,	Whittier,
Sigourney,	Percival,	Garrison,	Brainard,	Gilman,
Sands,	Dawes,	Ware,	Peabody,	Gould,
Garrison,	Neal,	Pickering,	Huntington,	Frisbee,
Hale,		Sprague,		Thatcher.

There are numerous pieces, in addition, which appeared in various literary papers anonymously, and which have since become famous, and which it is impossible to find except in these pages. This book is, in truth, the most complete compendium of the best poems of our best poets that has yet been made. It must be remembered, too, that the majority of articles in this book were selected by the authors as, so to speak, the choicest arrows in their quivers.

One handsome volume, 12mo., cloth, 406pp. Price $1.

THE MOST USEFUL BOOK IN THE WORLD!

The Illustrated Pocket Pronouncing

Dictionary of the English Language

Over 30,000 Words Clearly, Plainly and Fully Explained.

Shows what Words Mean and How to Use Them in Writing and in Speaking.

Teaches, in truth, how to spell, understand and pronounce every needed word in the English language.

Learned, without obscurity; simple, without shallowness; cheap as the cheapest; good as the best. Exactly the book wanted by both teachers and students. Enlightens those who know little, improves those who know much. Every meaning is given from the highest authority. Every pronunciation is founded on the manner of the greatest Language Teachers. A like necessity for the Poet and the Mechanic, the Statesman and the Sailor, the Doctor and the Carpenter, the Student and the Farmer, the Preacher and the Laborer, the Teacher and the Pupil, and even the already well-informed Compositor will add greatly to his knowledge of spelling and dividing by a frequent reference to this—the very latest and most approved Book of Words. Hundreds of finely executed drawings fully illustrate things as well as words.

It is useless to try to sell what no one wants to buy. The first thing is to get an article that people really need. Necessary things come first, luxuries follow after.

A dictionary is as necessary to every house as a cooking stove or a sewing machine. Everybody now-a-days is obliged to write more or less. Everybody is supposed to have some education. To be unable to spell rightly when you pen a letter is to virtually expose your deficiencies. Still there are many sensible people who are not quite certain of the real way to spell words. Such or they may make themselves the laughing-stock of people who have little more education, or who have a dictionary to consult. The most excellent thoughts will often provoke laughter if one single word is misspelled. There are hundreds of words which one hears almost every day that are pronounced exactly alike, and yet their meaning is totally different. For instance, there is the word write, to make words with a pen, etc.; right, the reverse of wrong; rite, a religious act. See, even in these three words how ridiculous a misspelling would prove; "We will defend our writes;" "right my name; "rite or wrong." This is just a common case, but when it comes to words that are seldom used, it will be found that even those who in school were classed as good "spellers" have forgotten half the words which they then spelled correctly with ease. Then how few of those who are not writers by profession can recollect the exact definition or meaning of words, and are consequently liable to fall into errors by using some word closely resembling that which they wish to use; but which, unfortunately, has an entirely different meaning. Often, too, the minister and the lecturer will use a word familiar enough to him, but which might as well be Greek to an ordinary listener. A handy dictionary gives you the meaning, and this renders a whole passage easy of comprehension.

PEOPLE MUST HAVE A DICTIONARY TO REFER TO,

It requires no trickery or humbugging to get people to buy this dictionary. You only require to show it. Every right-minded man, woman, girl and boy almost hourly feel the need of it. It has been happily styled "The Dictionary of Dictionaries," as it gives many important meanings of words omitted in others. It gives you not only the exact spelling, the true meaning, but also the different endings and other changes that words take as they are used to express before, how and after. Indeed, with this dictionary at hand you feel no want of a grammer. Hundreds of thousands of this dictionary have found ready and well satisfied buyers. It is not merely that this book is cheap. A book may be that, and yet not worth having. It is that this book is the cheapest and the best ever printed. It often happens that a gentleman loses his sweetheart, or a lady her lover by using some word seemingly like, but altogether different in meaning from what was intended. How annoying to find you made an appintment with a temperunce man; or written about the quantity of quarts to be found in every town of Maine These may seem trifling, but they are sufficiently silly to make an otherwise good letter ridiculous. The most elegant penmanship only makes such blunders more perceptible.

No. 1.

Spirit Eye, The Indian Captive.

The heroine of this story is a young and beautiful maiden, a captive of the Red Skins, who by a most singular gift of second sight, became their great medicine, and held an unknown power over the Western tribes with whom she lived. As a picture of Indian life amid their native scenes it has never been surpassed.

No. 2.

MERCEDES; OR, THE OUTLAW'S CHILD.

The scenes of this strange story are laid in California, commencing some years before the gold mines were discovered, and brought down to the time "when mobs and murders were as plentiful as golden slugs;" when gamblers were reckoned right and proper men, and gambling hells were the saloons of fashion, and men of minds, manners and money amused themselves therein; when theatres outnumbered churches, and play-books Bibles; when courtezans were the acknowledged leaders of ton; when San Francisco rivalled her elder sisters, both of the Old and New World, in her "bowers of pleasure"—for here was the great nucleus of splendor and gratification in every sense. Fortunes were made in a single day. Men who had made fortunes in the mines came here. What wonder, then, if crime jostled crime in the streets.—What wonder if crime throve in the mart of opulence, or that midnight brawls disturbed the repose of the few who tried to be just?

Then arose the Vigilance Committee, taking judgment into their own hands, when the quivering bodies of flagrant offenders swung from the wide windows of the Committee Rooms in Battery Street, an awful example of the dues of evil. It will richly repay a perusal.

No. 3.

Norma Danton; or, The Lighthouse Murder.

A tale of New York City. This novel is a veritable history of life scenes in the great metropolis, being the history of two children, who were left orphans at a tender age under the guardianship of an unscrupulous uncle, who appropriated what rightfully belonged to the children, and then apprenticed them to a lighthouse keeper.

No. 4.

JUSTINA, THE AVENGER.

A tale of love and hate. The trials of the mother of our heroine will awaken the sympathies of every woman who has looked forward to a life of happiness and felt but its shadow. The history of Justina, her daughter, will thrill the reader with strange delight and admiration. Richard Carlton, the friend of Justina, is of the pure and noble type which shine like diamonds in the social circle.

No. 5.

The Mad Bard; or, The Mysteries of Melrose Castle.

An Historical Story of the time of Charles II, the king being one of the prominent characters. It is, altogether, a most thrilling romance of the time of Cromwell's accession to the throne of England. It shews the reaction in the morals of the people from the strict, unsympathetic sternness of the Puritans to the licentious and dissolute levity of the Cavaliers.

No. 6.

SPEAKING RIFLE, THE INDIAN SLAYER.

The hero of this story is a wild and singular being, a most extraordinary character, and an unrelenting foe to the Indian race, thousands of whom he destroyed single-handed while avenging the death of his parents. His wonderful adventures, exploits and privations whilst pursuing the objects of his vengeance are astounding, and cause the reader to thrill with horror, as well as fill him with wonder.

No. 7.

RIPPARD, THE OUTLAW.

Rippard was a convict who had been sentenced to penal servitude for life in the distant colony of Van Dieman's Land; but after six months escaped from the prison where he had been kept at work with fetters on his limbs. He fled to the bush, and had to battle with the aborigines in order to escape a fearful death at their hands. The perils he underwent while following the life of a bushman form an interesting portion of the work. The rascality of Jack Llynn, the kindheartedness of Robert Arden, the gentle disposition of Elien, the daughter of the emigrant's farmer, and the villainy and disgraceful end of Fitzherbert, make this story one as well worth reading as any in the series.

No. 8.

ANGELINE, THE OCTOROON.

A Love Story of the most marvelous and romantic nature. A rare addition to the love literature of the day.

Copies of the above Books sent by Mail to any address on receipt of Price.

No. 9.

MARIA OLLIVIERO, THE FEMALE BRIGAND.

The tales of the Italian Brigands are wonderfully and truly marvelous. Maria was the wife of a Brigand Chief, who was killed in battle while fighting by her side. She immediately assumed command, and thenceforth was the ruling spirit of the band, accompanying it in all their daring adventures, and participating in numberless heroic but lawless deeds.

No. 10.

Dare-Devil Dick; or, the Curse of Gold.

A Story of Land and Sea. This is a most singular story of a young man who was cursed by the power of gold, having had an immense fortune placed to his credit in a bank by a mysterious individual unknown to him; after which he became associated with gamblers and bad men, by whom he became involved in a duel, was wounded, became a wanderer, was impressed into the British Navy, where his career commences as DARE-DEVIL DICK, a dountless sailor, and one of the most daring, we might say reckless, fighting men in the British Navy, through whose means the "Santissima," a Spanish corvette, was captured loaded with an amount of doubloons, mordores, and pieces of Eight that would be astonishing even to the people of our own day.

No. 11.

BOTTLE-NOSE BEN, THE INDIAN HATER.

An Indian Story of early New England, wherein the heroine was captured by the Indians as the bonds of holy wedlock were about to be pronounced which would have made her a happy wife. It is especially interesting as being a history of the times when the Indians roamed wildly and almost uninterruptedly over the spots where now stand some of the choicest cities of the Atlantic States; and where the settler went to his bed in the nightly dread of having his house despoiled and all his family murdered before the sun again rose to enter upon its daily round. The story is full of interesting incidents, and will well repay the trouble of a perusal. Bottle-Nose ben is a remarkable character.

No. 12.

Quantrell, the Terror of the West.

A true Western Story of Quantrell, the Western Guerilla, who was for so long a time the scourge of the West. Dark and awful were the deeds of this daring, unscrupulous adventurer. Read it, ye lovers of the Bloody and the Terrible.

No. 13.

RAH-TAH-BAH, THE CHIHUAHUA CHIEF.

This book will be a rich treat to those who have been accustomed to read the Indian Stories now published. It is entirely a new field, among new scenes and new and comparatively unknown tribes. It is full of wild scenes, romantic adventures, tender love scenes and daring actions.

No. 14.

WALKER, THE FILLIBUSTER.

The remarkable and adventurous life of the "Blue Eyed Man of Destiny" is here portrayed with exactness. The hair-breadth escapes and marvelous exploits in Lower California and Nicaragua of that noted fillibuster and his companions, and the incidents of the lives of the old sailor and his son and daughter, add a piquancy to the story—especially the mysterious absence of the boy during his youth, and his subsequent career as an Indian Fillibuster.

No. 15.

THE TWO RIVALS; OR, MAN AND MONEY.

A translation from a celebrated French author. The fact of its being from the French will prejudice many against it, but we say it is a good book, displaying in vivid colors the power of gold over honest industry.

No. 16.

INEZ, THE FOREST BRIDE.

A wild and adventurous tale of Indian and Mexican life, wherein a beautiful Mexican girl becomes the heroine, and her roving adventures in the forest are truly delightful. There is a charming freshness pervades it, refreshing and exhilerating in the extreme.

No. 17.

THE FREEBOOTER'S PRIZE.

A Tale of the Ocean. The above tale is one of the most truthful and exciting which has ever characterized the adventures of any Past Middy of the British Navy. The adventurer leaving home in comparative poverty; his enlistment upon a war vessel; his desertion; joining his fortune upon the deck of a pirate; his re-desertion; his next appearance upon a merchantman; the merchantman's fight with the pirate; the Quaker Captain; the captain de juerre; his tremendous fighting; the chase; final capture of the pirate, and marriage of the hero, concludes one of the most daring tales that has ever been recorded upon paper, and which excites the admiration of all.

Copies of the above Books sent by Mail to any address on receipt of Price.

Common Sense

— IN THE —

KITCHEN.

Being a Complete Treatise on the Art of Cooking Every Variety of Food in Common Use,

In a Paletable and Digestible Manner, at Reasonable Cost. To which is added a CHAPTER ON THE ART OF COOKING,

—AND—

Two Hundred of the Most Valuable and Popular Recipes

Known for Domestic purposes. The whole forming a History of Domestic Knowledge and Useful Economy.

By W. A. HENDERSON.

Almost every Cook Book published belongs to one of two classes: Either they are fully descriptive of Breakfasts, Dishes and Suppers such as few but Kings could afford to give—or else they are devoted to platters of such mean and meagre fare that would only be partaken of by shiftless gabarbenzie (beggars). Now this book is not made for either of said classes, but for the great mass of Housekeepers—people in moderate circumstances who wish to live respectably and well—who desire to have good food, dressed in the most healthful and appetising manner—and served with inexpensive elegance. Glance at our outline of

THE BILL OF FARE spread out before the readers of "COMMON SENSE IN THE KITCHEN."

SOUP AND BROTH.

VERMICELLI,	PLUM PORRIDGE,	HODGE-PODGE,	CALF'S HEAD,
GRAVY,	A LA REINE,	PORTABLE,	MAIGRE,
GIBLET,	OX CHEEK,	TRANSPARENT,	TOMATO,

And over 40 more different kinds. In all of which every possible description is given to enable even a novice to easily and cheaply make the very best of Soups and Broths; and the very best cooks will here learn many things that they never knew before.

There are Several Hundred ways given for Cooking the following:

Boiling Meat, Fish and Poultry. Roasting Butcher's Meat, Game, Poultry and Fish. Baking Butcher's Meat and Fish. Broiling Meat and Fish. Frying Fish and Meat. Stewing Butcher's Meat, Poultry and Fish. Hashing Meat, Poultry and Fish. Fricaseeing Meat, Fish and Poultry. Ragout of Meat, Poultry and Vegetables. Gravies, Callisees, and every kind of Sauce. Made Dishes of Poultry in more than 40 ways. Made Dishes of Meat in more than 50 ways. Vegetables and Roots, every possible way. Boiled Puddings, 24 kinds. Meat, Poultry, Fish and Fruit Pies, Pancakes, Fritters, Tarts, Puffs, Cheesecakes and Custards. Cakes and Biscuits — every kind and quality, whether of simple "home-made," or such as is usually made by the most artistic pastry-cook.

The Art of Confectionery,

Explaining all about making Sugar Candies, Creams and Jams, Jellies and Syllabubs, Preserving Fruits, Ornamenting Confectionery, Pickling in all its branches, Potting and Canning Meats, making Possets and Gruels, making Wines and Cordials.

Also, The Complete Art of Carving, WITH ILLUSTRATIVE ENGRAVING, to which is added a very extensive and Valuable Lot of Receipes.

One look at the above sketch of contents of this work will convince any one that it is the most comprehensive Cook Book ever published. Every dish described may be relied on as having been tested in many families of excellent taste.

Very strongly and handsomely bound in cloth and gold. Price $1.00.

A FAMOUS VICTORY. By an Anonymous Author. 12mo., 368 pages. Price, 1.25

"It is written with much truth to nature, and its sharp hits at certain weaknesses of the national character are effective in no small degree."—Literary World, (Boston).

"Of the author's style it is scarcely possible to speak too highly. It is brilliant and captivating to a degree that would attract attention to the book, if the story it tells were far less interesting than it is."—Detroit Free Press.

"The scene of 'A Fool's Errand' lies chiefly in the South; that of 'A famous Victory' is laid wholly in the North. Both have been written by men who have had personal experiences which they have woven into the web of their respective romances; each is a keen observer, and the author of 'A Famous Victory' is the keener of the two."—Chicago Times.

ANDERSON. The Story of Aunt Lizzie Aiken. By Mrs. Galusha Anderson. 16mo., 226 pages, with portrait. Price, 1.00

"Mrs. Aiken seemed born to do a particular work, and has been happy in finding it to do. The story is gracefully told and is of uncommon interest."—The Advance.

"The record of a noble life which every one will be the better for reading. During the war a faithful nurse of the soldiers in the Western armies, and afterwards a city missionary in Chicago, the subject of this paragraph was one who constantly went about doing good."—Traveller, (Boston).

ARNOLD. Life of Benedict Arnold; His Patriotism and His Treason. By Hon, Isaac N. Arnold, author of "Life of Abraham Lincoln." 444 pages. Price, 2 50

"Documentary material has been brought out and diligently used, and the result is a valuable contribution to history, as well as an exceedingly interesting narrative of an extraordinary life."—The Standard.

"The volume is full of dramatic incident. * * Places are vividly described, events graphically characterized, personal relations between the men of the Revolutionary period and the mental laws of cause and effect, are finely traced."—Cincinnati Commercial.

"This is a kind of work we are glad to see, and of which we can hardly have too many. It is an endeavor to do justice to a side of Benedict Arnold's character, which the abhorance of his treason has caused the world to forget too much. For he was not only a gallant soldier, but previous to the act which made his name infamous, had been an ardent patriot, and rendered to the United States services which ought not to be buried in oblivion. —Evening Mail, New York.

CATON. A Summer in Norway. With notes on the Industries, Habits, etc., of the People, the History of the Country, the climate and Productions, and of the Red Deer, Reindeer, and Elk. By Hon. J. D. Caton, L. L. D. 8vo. 401 pages. Illustrated. Price, ... 2 50

"The tone of the book is frank, almost colloquial, always communicative, and leaves a favorable impression, both of the intelligence and good nature with which the author pursued his way through unknown wilds. * * They are excellent specimens of terse, and graphic composition, presenting a distinct image to the mind, without any superfluous details."—N. Y. Tribune.

CLARK. Diseases of Women. A Treatise on the Medical and Surgical Diseases of Women. By A. L. Clark, A. M., M. D., Professor of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women, etc. Bennett Medical College. 8vo., sheep. Illustrated. 401 pages. Price, ... 4 00

CORBIN. Belle and the Boys. By Mrs. Caroline F. Corbin. 248 pages. Price, 1 25

"This book places its author at once among the 'gifted few.'"—Sat. Eve. Herald.

"To the list of good domestic stories must be added 'Belle and the Boys.'"—Atlantic Monthly.

"It seems just the book to be appreciated by fair, sweet young girls, and brave manly boys. Handsomely printed and illustrated; it is one of the prettiest juvenile books of the year."—American Bookseller, N. Y.

——Rebecca; or a Woman's Secret. 12 mo., 389 pages. Price, ... 1 00

"We have read this absorbing story through, with a sense of wonder, admiration and delight. It is one of the most powerful compositions that the age has produced."—Methodist Recorder (Pittsburg).

COX. Tales of Ancient Greece. By the Rev. Sir G. W. Cox, Bart., M. A. Trinity College, Oxford. 12mo., Cloth. 372 pages. Price, extra gilt 1 50
Gilt edges, price 2 00

"It ought to be in the hands of every scholar and every school-boy."—Saturday Review (London).

"Admirable in style, and level with a child's comprehension. These versions might well find a place in every family."—The Nation (New York).

"Its exterior fits it to adorn the drawing-room table—while its contents are adapted to the entertainment of the most cultivated intelligence. * * The book is a scholarly production, and a welcome addition to a department of literature that is thus far quite too scantily furnished."—Tribune (Chicago).

CUMNOCK. Choice Readings for Public and Private Entertainment. Arranged for the exercises of the School, College and Public Reader, with Elocutionary Advice. Edited by Robert McLain Cumnock, A. M., Professor of Rhetoric and Elocution, Northwestern University. 12mo., 426 pages. Price..... 1.75

"Among the multitude of books issued for the same purpose during the past ten years, we know of none so complete in all respects, and so well fitted to the needs of the elocutionist as the volume before us."—Boston Transcript.

"As a reader, editor and instructor in his department, Prof. Cumnock has few equals and no superiors, and this book—the result of the combination of his forces—is unequalled by anything of the kind with which we are acquainted."—New York Christian Advocate.

CURTISS. Ingersoll and Moses. A Reply. By Rev. Samuel Ives Curtiss, D. D. 12mo., 118 pages. Price..... 1.00

"There is nothing dogmatical or violent in the style of this reply. It is calm, dignified, scholarly and fair throughout."—The Tribune.

"Dr. Curtiss has done his work well, and has shown his opponent to be equally destitute of scholarship and fairness."—Gazette. (Cincinnati).

CRANE. The Two Circuits. A Story of pioneer life. By J. L. Crane, with 25 Illustrations. 12mo., 502 pages. Price... 1.00

"It is racy in more ways than one. I hope it will have as good a run as its heroes and horses—better than some of the last. It shows the amusing side of the itineracy, perhaps to a too-amusing extent, still, the heroes and horses have bottom as well as speed. They work well, and show forth fruit accordingly."—Bishop Haven.

CRAWFORD. A Few Thoughts for a Few Friends. By Mrs. Alice Arnold Crawford. Square, 12mo. Price,..... 1.50

FOYE. Tables for the Determination and Classification of Minerals found in the United States. By James C. Foye, A. M. Price..... .75

GERMAN. (The): How to Give it; How to Lead it; How to Dance it. By two Amateur Leaders. Price..... 1.25

"A little volume that will be found of great value to the novice and very entertaining and instructive to the most expert dancer."—Boston Post.

"There is no point relating to 'The German' that is not treated in this work, which must become as necessary to the learners of that amusement as the 'Cook's Own Book' to a successful table."—N. Y. Tribune.

GRISWOLD. Apple Blossoms. A volume of Poems. By Hattie Tyng Griswold. 12mo., 195 pages. Price,..... 1.00

"There are few people who will not be pleased to learn that this little volume is by the author of that popular song 'Under the Daisies' knowing thereby that the contents must be as sweet as the name."—The Times.

GIBSON. The Foundations of Christianity. By Rev. Dr. J. Monro Gibson. 16mo., 204 pages. Price..... 1.00

"A strong book—new, modern, clear and vigorous."—Christian Union, (New York).

"Admirable in method, and vigorous and fresh in style throughout. As a brief and popular presentation of the fundamental truths, such as are apt to expand beyond ordinary ability to read in most hands, nothing more valuable has recently emanated from the press."—Evangelist, New York.

GILES. Maiden Rachel. A novel. By Miss Ella A. Giles. 12mo., 319 pages. Price,..... 1.25

"It has no plots and no incidents more strange than those we move in every day, but they are so prettily told that their familiar character makes them all the more enjoyable."—American Bookseller.

——Bachelor Ben. A novel. 12mo., 308 pages. Price..... 1.50

——Out From the Shadows. A novel. 12mo., 317 pages. Price..... 1.50

HABBERTON. The Jericho Road; a Story of Western Life. By John Habberton, author of "Helen's Babies," etc. 12mo., 222 pages. Cloth, Price..... 1.00

"Habberton's best book."—North American Review.

"That wonderfully clever story of the West."—The Advance (Chicago).

HALL. Poems of the Farm and Fireside. By E. J. Hall. 8vo., 114 pages; illustrated. Price..... 1.00
Full Gilt..... 1.25

HANSON. Aiōn. Aiōnios. An excursus on the Greek word rendered Everlasting, Eternal, etc., in the Holy Bible. By J. W. Hanson, D. D. 12mo., 174 pages. Price..... 1.00

"The author has collected a great mass of material bearing on the subject, and his treatment is, in the main, fair and able. The student will here find brought into convenient shape much that he needs to know."—Independent, (New York).

HAYES. Electro-Thermal Bath. Therapeutic use of Faradaic and Galvanic Currents in the Electro-Thermal Bath, with History of Cases. By Justin Hayes, M. D. 12mo., 112 pages. Price..... 1.25

HERFORD. The Story of Religion in England. By Rev. Brooke Herford. 12mo., 391 pages. Price..... 1.75

"It is a noble book; full of delicious and wholesome juices, and charged with a fine aroma. Mr. Herford has indeed a famous story to tell. * * * The book will be welcome to all readers who are generous enough to be just to all parties, and reverent enough to trace the hand of Providence through all the strange conflicts of humanity."—Christian Register. (Boston).

——How She Came Into Her Kingdom. A Romance. By C. M. C. 12mo., 337 pages. Price..... 1.00

"Certainly a remarkable romance."—Boston Advertiser.

"It is a novel of remarkable intensity and originality."—N. Y. American Bookseller.

"It is far above the average of works of its class, displaying great strength and tragic power."—N. Y. Graphic.

JORDAN. ‡Manual of Vertebrates. A Manual of the Vertebrates of the Northern United States, including the District east of the Mississippi River and north of North Carolina and Tennessee, exclusively of Marine Species. By David Starr Jordan, Ph. D., M. D., Professor of Natural History in Indiana University. Third Edition, revised and enlarged. Large 12mo., 406 pages. Price,..... 2.50

"Dr. Jordan has done himself great credit in the preparation of this volume, and his publishers have done no less. I can and shall heartily recommend the work as the best of its kind I know. The book must come at once into general use and prove of great service in spreading a knowledge of Natural History and inviting to its study.—Dr. Elliott Coues.

KIRKLAND. A Short History of France for Young People. By Miss E. S. Kirkland. 12mo., 398 pages. Price, 1 50
Full Gilt..... 2 00

"It may be commended as the best of its kind that has yet appeared."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

"A very ably written sketch of French history, from the earliest times to the foundation of the existing Republic."—Cincinnati Gazette.

"We find its descriptions uncommonly good, that is admirably simple, direct in style, without waste of words or timidity of opinion. The book represents a great deal of patient labor and conscientious study."—Hartford Courant.

"A spirited and entertaining sketch of the French people and nation,—one that will sieze and hold the attention of all bright boys and girls who have a chance to read it."—Sunday Afternoon, Springfield (Mass.)

"Miss Kirkland has composed her 'Short History of France' in the way in which a history for young people ought to be written; that is she has aimed to present a consecutive and agreeable story, from which the reader can not only learn the names of kings and the succession of events, but can also receive a vivid and permanent impression as to the characters, modes of life, and the spirit of different periods."—The Nation, New York.

—— Six Little Cooks; or Aunt Jane's Cooking Class. 12mo., 236 pages. Price,..... 1 00

"We have not seen in the whole range of our juvenile literature a more useful and attractive volume for girls than this,"—Chicago Tribune.

"While it is really an interesting narrative in itself, it delightfully teaches girls just how to follow practically its many recipes."—St. Nicholas, New York.

"A lucky stroke of genius, because it is a good thing well done. It has the charm of a bright story of real life, and is a useful essay on the art of cooking."—N. Y. Times.

—— Dora's Housekeeping. 12mo., 275 pages. Price,..... 1 00

"It occupies a hitherto untilled field in literature, and girls and their mothers will be equally delighted with it."—The Advance, Chicago.

"The story does not flag, either, and is enlivened with some good character-sketching. The house-wifely advice is sound, sensible and civilized. We cordially recommend these two books ('Dora's Housekeeping' and 'Six Little Cooks,') as containing almost the whole gospel of domestic economy."—The Nation, New York.

LAMARTINE. Graziella; A Story of Italian Love. Translated from the French of A. De Lamartine. By James B. Runnion. Small 4to, 235 pages, red line, tinted paper, full gilt, uniform with "Memories," "Marie" and "Madeleine." Price,..... 1 25

"The story of 'Graziella' is to be ranked alongside of 'Paul and Virginia,' high up in the world of purity, of love, and of beauty. * * * There is not sunshine enough, not tenderness enough, away from Italy and France to produce such a fragrant flower as this."—Prof. Swing in Alliance.

"'Graziella' is a poem in prose. The subject and the treatment are both eminently poetic. * * * It glows with love of the beautiful in all nature. * * * It is pure literature, a perfect story, couched in perfect words. The sentences have the rhythm and flow, the sweetness and tender fancy of the original. It is uniform with 'Memories,' and it should stand side by side with that on the shelves of every lover of pure, strong thoughts put in pure, strong words. 'Graziella' is a book to be loved."—Chicago Tribune.

LEE. Her Title of Honour. By Holme Lee. 12mo.; illustrated; 284 pages. Price,..... 1 50

"A faithful love was 'Her Title of Honor,' that the world with one mind accorded; very affecting and yet full of interest. The sublime faith of a perfect love is matchlessly depicted."—Racine Journal.

LOGAN. Physics of the Infectious Diseases. Comprehending a Discussion of certain Physical Phenomina in connection with the Acute Infectious Diseases. By C. A. Logan, A.M., M.D. 12mo., 212 pages. Price,..... 1 50

The author spent recently four years upon the West Coast of South America in an official position, which afforded him exceptional facilities for study and research. This region is remarkably exempt from infectious diseases, and the author attributes this to its remarkable physical features, which he fully describes and discusses.

MANNA. A Book of Daily Worship, Containing brief Scripture Lessons and Prayers for Individual and Family Use, for every day in the year. 12mo., cloth, 388 pages. Price,..... 1 25
Leather..... 2 00

"We find 'Manna' a very simple, earnest and eloquent manual of devotion. A single page comprehends each day's service, and includes a scripture reading and a prayer. The scriptures have been selected with reference to variety, and devotional, doctrinal and poetical influence, and the prayers are constructed to resemble in brevity, simplicity, and spirit, that immortal model, the Lord's Prayer."—Inter Ocean.

MASON. Mae Madden. A Story. By Mrs. Mary Murdock Mason, with an introductory poem by Joaquin Miller. 16mo., red edges. Price,..... 1 25

"We have read this little book with great pleasure. * * * It frequently reminds us of Mr. Howell's delicately-constructed stories, and in it, as in a mirror, we see reflected the true refinement and culture of the author's mind."—New Haven Palladium.

MASON AND LALOR. The Primer of Political Economy. In Sixteen Definitions and Forty Propositions. By A. B. Mason and J. J. Lalor. 12mo., 67 pages, cloth. Price,..... 60

"'The Primer' contains what ought to be known in regard to political economy by every school-boy and voter."—The Nation, New York.

"It is better adapted for the use of the youth of our public schools than any other work on the subject that we can call to mind."—Cincinnati Gazette.

"In point of style the work is a model for a text-book, and will do excellent service in training the pupils to accurate thoughts, and to the use of perspicuous language."—N. Y. Tribune.

McLANDBURGH. The Automaton Ear and other Sketches. By Miss Florence McLandburgh. 12mo., 282 pages. Price,..... 1 00

"The best idea we can give of the author's style and type of mind is to say that the work holds middle ground between the prose writings of Poe and those of Hawthorne. There is something of the vein and of the vivid powers of Poe, without his wildness and savagery."—Interior.

MILLER. First Fam'lies of the Sierras. A Novel. By Joaquin Miller. 12mo., 258 pages. Price,..... 1 50

"The life of the early California miners has never to our thinking been more effectively and accurately portrayed than here."—N. Y. Independent.

MITCHELL. ‡Student's Manual of Urinary Analysis; Chemical and Microscopical. Compiled, Translated and Abridged from the most recent French Authorities. By Clifford Mitchell, A.B., M.D. 24mo., 24 pages. Price,..... 50

MÜLLER. MEMORIES; A Story of German Love. Translated from the German of Max Muller, by Geo. P. Upton. Small 4to., 173 pages, red line, full gilt; uniform with "Graziella," "Marie," and "Madeline." Price,..... 1 25
16mo., red edges..... 1 00

"'Memories' is one of the prettiest and worthiest books of the year. The story is full of that indescribable half-naturalness, that effortless vraisemblance, which is so commonly a charm of German writers, and so seldom paralleled in English. * * * Scarcely could there be drawn a more lovely figure than that of the invalid Princess, though it is so nearly pure spirit that earthly touch seems almost to profane her."—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

NOHL. Life of Mozart. Translated from the German of Louis Nohl, by John J. Lalor. 12mo. 236 pages. With Portrait. Price, 1 25

"Mozart supplies, in his wonderful genius, his pleasing character, and in his varied career, a fascinating subject for biographical treatment. He lives in these pages somewhat as the world saw him, from his marvelous boyhood till his untimely death."—The Standard.

"Neither a dry nor desultory, but an animated and charming story—a singularly humanized biography. The musical insight of the writer makes us at home from the beginning, with the intense, beautiful, and complex individuality of that wonderful master."—Times. Chicago.

PUSHKIN. Marie; A Story of Russian Love. From the Russian of Alexander Pushkin, by Marie H. de Zielinska. Small 4to., 210 pages, red line, full gilt; uniform with "Memories," "Graziella," and "Madeleine." Price,... 1 25.

"An unadorned record, told in the most charming way, of the adventures of a young Russian officer, who sees service against some rebels, and whose betrothal to the heroine forms the romantic part of the story. There is plenty of incident, and the narration is so direct and simple, that the reader becomes at once conscious of a master's hand."—The Nation, New York.

SANDEAU. Madeleine; A Story of French Love. Translated from the French of Jules Sandeau, by Francis Charlot. Small 4to, 244 pages, red line, full gilt; uniform with "Memories," "Graziella," and "Marie." Price,..... 1 25

"'Madeleine' is one of the most beautiful love stories we have ever read. * * * There is in it bright wit and natural pathos—lessons in true philosophy and practical religion, and good morals enough to set up an average Sunday School library, without a word of preaching."—Golden Rule, Boston.

SWING. Motives of Life. By Prof. David Swing. 16mo., 162 pages. Price, 1 00

"The work is remarkable for its simplicity, eloquence, earnest thoughts and sincere pleadings for what is good and best in life."—Evening Post, Hartford, Ct.

"Here, as everywhere, Prof. Swing writes with the simplicity, the earnestness and the honesty which come of a sincere devotion to all that is best and noblest and purest in life and character."—N. Y. Evening Post.

"One of the most remarkable features of Mr. Swing's writings is the felicity and strength of their illustrations. He never loses himself in a cloud of abstractions. The truth which he presents is always surcharged with freshness and vitality, radiant with color and active in movement."—N. Y. Tribune.

—— Truths for To-day. First Series. By Prof. David Swing. 12mo., 325 pages, tinted paper. Price,..... 1 50

"The preacher makes no display of his rich resources, but you are convinced that you are listening to a man of earnest thought, of rare culture and of genuine humanity. He has no taste for hair-splitting subtleties, but presents a broad and generous view of human duty, appealing to the highest instincts and the purest motives of a lofty manhood."—N. Y. Tribune.

—— Truths for To-day. Second Series. By Prof. David Swing, 12mo., 294 pages, tinted paper. Price,..... 1 50

This volume contains the latest discourses of Prof. Swing, some of them preached at the Fourth Church, but most of them spoken at the theatre to the new Central Church. It is universally conceded that these are the finest efforts he has ever made.

—— Trial of Professor Swing. The Official Report of this important trial. 8vo., 286 pages. Price,..... 1 75

TALES FROM FOREIGN TONGUES—Comprising "Memories" (Max Muller), "Graziella" (Lamartine), "Marie" (Pushkin), and "Madeleine" (Sandeau).
Sold separately, Price per volume..... 1 25
In neat box, Price per set..... 5 00

The series of four volumes forms, perhaps, the choicest addition to the English language that has been made in recent years.

Of "Memories" the Chicago Journal says: "It is dramatically constructed, unflagging in interest, abounding in grace, beauty and pathos, and filled with the tenderest feelings of sympathy."

Of "Graziella" the Boston Post says: "It is full of beautiful sentiment, unique and graceful in style, of course, as were all the writings that left the hands of this distinguished French author."

Of "Marie" the Cincinnati Gazette says: "It is one of the purest, sweetest little narratives that we have read for a long time. It is a little classic, and a Russian classic, too. We catch the very breezes of the Steppes, and meet, face to face, the high-souled, simple-minded Russian."

Of "Madeleine" the New York Evening Mail says: "It is one of the most exquisite love tales that ever was written, abounding in genuine pathos and sparkling wit, and so pure in its sentiment that it may be read by a child."

WHIPPLE. Animal Analysis. A Method of teaching Zoology, to which is added an Appendix, containing Directions for Forming a School Cabinet. By Elliot Whipple, M.A., 12mo., 124 pages. Price, 75

"Its design seems to me admirable, and the work should prove of great utility."—Dr. Elliott Coues.

"A plan of teaching which combines the study of the text-book and nature in such a way as to gradually lead the student to be able to dispense with the use of all books, except for occasional reference."—Educational Monthly, New York.

RURAL PUBLICATIONS.

The growing fondness for out-door pursuits, and the increased demand for standard Agricultural, Architectural, Horticultural and Household publications, have induced us to prepare this new catalogue. It embraces not only our own, but other publications of any value and interest upon the subjects treated. The numerous illustrations, convey to some extent an idea of the character of the works, of which brief outlines are given. We are now prepared to supply the Trade and individual purchasers with any of the books named in this Catalogue. They will be forwarded immediately, by mail or otherwise, prepaid, upon receipt of the price.

HOW TO REMIT MONEY.

CHECKS ON NEW YORK BANKS OR BANKERS are the best for large sums, made payable to the order of the ORANGE JUDD COMPANY.

POST-OFFICE MONEY-ORDERS may be obtained at nearly every county-seat, in all the cities, and in many of the large towns. We consider them perfectly safe, and the best means of remitting fifty dollars or less, as thousands have been sent to us without any loss.

REGISTERED LETTERS are a very safe means of sending small sums of money where P. O. Money-Orders cannot be easily obtained. Observe, the Registry Fee as well as postage must be paid in stamps at the office where the letter is mailed, or it will be liable to be sent to the Dead-Letter Office. Buy and affix the stamps both for postage and registry; put in the money, and seal the letter in the presence of the postmaster, and take his receipt for it. Write your letters plainly. Give the name of your POST-OFFICE, COUNTY, AND STATE. Write your own name at the bottom of your letters. Address the letter plainly and correctly to ORANGE JUDD COMPANY, 245 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

C. O. D.—Where parties order books by Express C. O. D., twenty-five per cent. of the amount must be remitted with the order, and the balance, with charges both ways, will be collected by the Express Company on delivery of the books. It is, however, a much simpler and cheaper way to order direct from us, sending a check, registered letter, or money-order.

IT WILL PAY.

A WORD TO FATHERS AND EMPLOYERS.

It Will Pay to supply yourself, your sons, and your workmen with good books and papers. $10 to $20, or more, expended in this way, will come back every year. Your sons and your workmen will be kept from idleness and mischievous company; they will understand and respect their work more; they will gain new ideas and learn to think and reason better; they will learn to make their heads help their hands; they will labor more intelligently and be happier, because their minds will be developed and they will have something to think about while at work.

It will pay every man, young or old, to provide himself with good books, even if economy has to be practised in other directions to enable him to do this.

CANOE AND CAMERA.

By THOS. SEDGWICK STEELE.

A PHOTOGRAPHIC TOUR OF

TWO HUNDRED MILES THROUGH THE MAINE FORESTS.

This is one of the most entertaining and exquisitely illustrated books of the season. It is the result of recent, personal explorations by the author, Mr. Thomas Sedgwick Steele. It is embellished with sixty engravings of the very finest style, by well known artists, with new Maps of the State prepared expressly for this book, and the story is told in a thoroughly fascinating manner. The author's interesting description of a section of Maine which is now but little known, should give this book a wide sale, and draw to Maine a crowd of pleasure-seekers.

AMERICAN
Grape Growing
AND WINE MAKING.

BY

GEORGE HUSMANN,

PROFESSOR OF HORTICULTURE IN THE UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI.

With Contributions from Well-known Grape Growers, giving

A WIDE RANGE OF EXPERIENCE.

ILLUSTRATED.

Professor George Husmann, the author of this volume, is the recognized authority on grape growing and wine making in the United States. His reputation has likewise extended all over Europe. When grape growing met with its disastrous collapse twelve or fifteen years ago, a few bore up under the sad reverses and labored on, hoping for better times. Of this number was Professor Husmann, who had then become prominent in the culture of the grape in that district of which Hermann, Missouri, is the center. Though obliged to give up the vineyards he had established, and to relinquish the publication of the Grape Culturist, a most excellent monthly journal, he still continued to prosecute his labors and investigations, which have been fitly recognized, among other ways, by his appointment as Professor of Horticulture in the Missouri State University. His first volume, published some years since, attracted wide attention. He now embodies in the present volume the results of all his labors and investigations down to the present time.

In order to adapt the work to every latitude, the author embodies the methods and opinions of eminent grape cultivators in all parts of the country. Campbell, Bateham, and Kelly (of the famous Kelly's Island), speak for Ohio. Cashin gives Maryland's experience. The author describes the noted vineyards of Crooked Lake, New York. Onderdonk speaks for the pear-line climate of Texas, and in this manner, including some of the most successful growers in California, others than the author, tell their story, each for his own locality.

The work is a complete guide for novices in the culture of the Vine, and at the same time may be regarded as a summing up of everything of importance and value bearing upon this industry. Special attention is devoted to the Phylloxera, whose destruction of the roots of vines had very much to do in bringing on the collapse referred to above, and the destruction of the vineyards of France. The experiments and discoveries of Husmann and his associates in connection with this destructive little insect, are, for the first time, presented in this volume, and will prove of incalculable benefit to the grape growing interests of this and other lands.

The book is copiously illustrated with sketches from the author, which add materially to its value.

With Suggestions for their Repression and Methods for their Destruction.

BY

CHARLES V. RILEY, M. A., PH. D.

(STATE ENTOMOLOGIST OF MISSOURI.)

Finely Illustrated.

The Potato ranks deservedly high among the products of the farm. A luxury even to the rich, it yet forms the poor man's principal article of diet. Easily cultivated; yielding generously; thriving in most soils; requiring no process of manufacture to fit it for use—it is justly esteemed the most valuable of esculents. Whatever, therefore, injuriously affects it, excites general apprehension, and demands careful consideration.

This valuable work, by Prof. RILEY, ought to be in the hands of every owner of a Farm, large or small, or of a Garden Plot.

PRACTICAL TAXIDERMY,

AND

HOME DECORATION;

TOGETHER WITH

GENERAL INFORMATION FOR SPORTSMEN.

By JOSEPH H. BATTY,

Taxidermist for the Hayden Expedition, and other Government Surveys, and many of the leading Colleges and Museums in the United States. Author of "How to Hunt and Trap," etc., etc.

125 ILLUSTRATIONS.

JOSEPH H. BATTY, the author of this volume, has devoted sixteen years of active life to the work of collecting and preserving animals, birds, fishes, etc. He was the Official Taxidermist of the Northern Boundary Survey, and also of the United States Geological Survey, under Dr. Hayden generally known as the Hayden Expedition. Mr. Batty has, likewise, been for many years Taxidermist for several of our leading Universities, Colleges, Museums, and Public Parks.

His work, entitled "How to Hunt and Trap," published some eighteen months since, has received the warmest encomiums from recognized authorities, and from both the American and the European press. We anticipate a still more flattering reception for this volume, which is the result of long experience and practice, and conveys a vast amount of information on the subjects treated, not hitherto embodied in book form. There is no similar work in existence. While Coues and Maynard have devoted some space in their writings to Taxidermy, they have merely touched upon branches which are fully treated in this book.

The appreciation and love of "Home Decoration" increase with the growing taste and culture of the American people. Our author's chapters upon this subject are very timely, and will be keenly appreciated, especially by ladies.

In his Preface, the author says:—The mere skinning and stuffing of a specimen is but a small portion of the Taxidermist's real work or pleasure. The hand must be turned to the making of cases, and the eye trained to the blending of colors. Taste must be cultivated and exhibited in modelling and molding, and Nature's beauties should be imitated as closely as possible. Artificial rocks can be made to look as natural as the moss-grown specimens in the woods, and trees can be formed as graceful as those in their native forests. With the growing fondness for Taxidermy, many ladies are endeavoring to master the art, and in the variety of work necessary to perfect it, feminine taste and skill can be brought effectively into play. The collector can learn to mount his own specimens, the schoolboy his game, and in the general household, a buck's head in the dining-room, or a bright oriole in the parlor, presents a pleasing contrast to other ornaments.

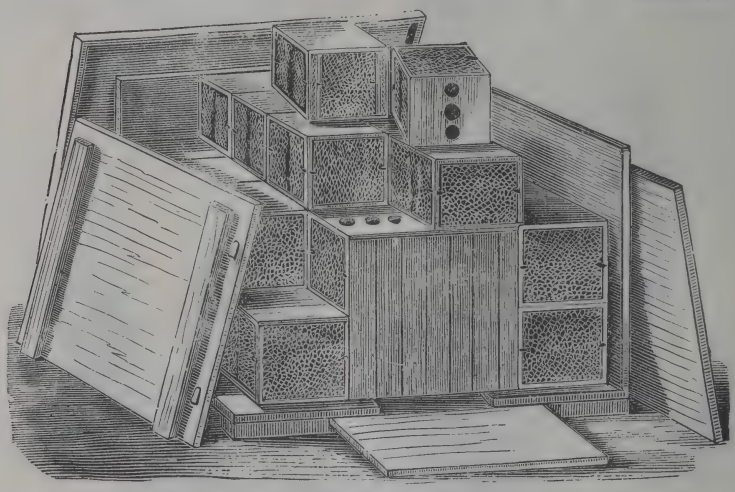
QUINBY'S NEW BEE-KEEPING.



The Mysteries of Bee-Keeping Explained.

Combining the Results of Fifty Years' Experience, with the Latest Discoveries and Inventions, and Presenting the most Approved Methods, Forming

A COMPLETE GUIDE TO SUCCESSFUL BEE-CULTURE.

By L. C. ROOT, Apiarian.

With 100 Illustrations, and a Portrait of M. Quinby.

QUINBY HIVE, WITH FRAMES AND BOXES.

When the first work of Mr. Quinby appeared, in 1866, it marked a great advance in the literature of the Apiary, and at once became the standard authority. Very soon after its issue, the process of extracting honey was introduced, and almost revolutionized the practice of bee-keeping; this had hardly become an established success when comb-foundation demanded attention, and required other modifications of former methods. These great improvements were tested, simplified, and adopted by Mr. Quinby, and with a view to present these and other new methods, he was planning a new volume, when his sudden death occurred, at the age of 65. Thus was arrested a career of nearly half a century, during which he had devoted himself to the improvement and development of bee-culture, all of the fruits of which, in discoveries and inventions, were freely given to his fellow-laborers and the public.

Though Mr. Quinby was prevented from preparing his contemplated new work, the results of his later years of labor are not lost. The work fell to the hands of Mr. L. C. Root, his son-in-law, as well as his business associate for many years. That Mr. Root is favorably known as an Apiarian, is shown by the fact that he was, for many years, President of the Bee-keepers' Association, and he now properly succeeds Mr. Quinby in literature, as well as in business. Indeed it is fortunate that the unfinished task of Mr. Quinby has fallen into the hands of one who was so familiar with his methods and thought; while he presents Mr. Quinby's later views, as none other could have done, he greatly increases the value of the work by adding largely from the results of his own extended experience. It has not been found practicable to indicate which of the new matter is by Mr. Quinby or which by Mr. Root, as the record is often of their united experience; both being more desirous of establishing useful facts than of claiming the credit of their discovery.

COOKING SCHOOL TEXT-BOOK

AND

Housekeepers' Guide to Cookery and Kitchen Management.

By MISS JULIET CORSON,

Superintendent of the New York Cooking School.

Miss Corson writes, concerning this book:—"My latest work, the 'Cooking School Text-Book and Housekeeper's Guide,' embodies the principles and practice of domestic economy as taught by me in the New York Cooking School, and in my lessons and lectures elsewhere throughout the country; and the information it contains ranges from the cleaning of the kitchen and cooking utensils, up to the preparation of the most elaborate dinners. It is, consequently, equally well adapted for the use of those who wish to establish cooking schools, for any grade of domestic training, for cooks and caterers, and the ladies at the head of either economical or extensive establishments." PRICE, POST-PAID, $1.25.

New Edition—Revised and Enlarged.

TWENTY-FIVE CENT DINNERS for FAMILIES of SIX.

By MISS JULIET CORSON,

Superintendent of the New York Cooking School.

Miss Corson undertakes to show that a good dinner can be made for the sum of twenty-five cents, not only for one person, but for a family of six, comprising the two parents and four children of the usual ages and appetites. We can commend this work to every family, especially to farmers' families, who will find here the methods of cooking the articles of food furnished by the farm, in a variety of acceptable forms. Most farmers have a great abundance, but their tables lack variety, and to this end, Miss Corson's little book will be found full of useful hints. PAPER COVERS, PRICE, POST-PAID, 25 CENTS.

CHART OF THE AGE OF THE DOMESTIC ANIMALS.

By A. LIAUTARD, M. D., V. S.

(American Veterinary College.)

ADOPTED BY THE UNITED STATES ARMY.

In this "Chart," which is fully illustrated and printed on card-board, making a handsome sheet for framing, much valuable information is given in a concise and intelligible way, enabling one to determine the age of Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Dogs, and Pigs. It is what has long been wanted and often inquired for by stock breeders, and one of these Charts ought to be hanging in sight of every man who has anything to do with the management of domestic animals. The size of the Chart is 21½ x 28½ inches. It will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, $1.00.

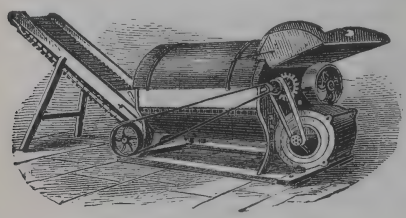
FARM IMPLEMENTS AND FARM MACHINERY,

AND THE

PRINCIPLES OF THEIR CONSTRUCTION AND USE:



WITH SIMPLE AND PRACTICAL EXPLANATIONS OF THE LAWS OF MOTION AND FORCE AS APPLIED ON THE FARM.

By JOHN J. THOMAS. With 287 illustrations.

The basis of this admirable work was an essay published in 1850, in the Transactions of the New York State Agricultural Society, which was enlarged, and in 1854 published by the Harpers. It has been, and remains, the only work in which the principles of Natural Philosophy, namely, the mechanical powers, and the powers of water, wind, and heat, are systematically discussed as applied to the operations of the farm.

The work has now been most carefully revised by the author. It is much enlarged, and a great part has been re-written, while the illustrations, before abundant, now number two hundred and eighty-seven. A large number of new implements are described, with the heavier farm machinery; and the use of steam, both in cooking and as power on the farm, is clearly discussed.

EARTH-CLOSETS:

How to Make them, and how to Use them.

By GEO. E. WARING, Jr.

It is sufficiently understood, by all who have given the least thought to the subject, that the waste of the most vital elements of the soil's fertility, through our present practice of treating human excrement as a thing that is to be hurried into the sea or buried in underground vaults, or in some other way put out of sight and out of reach, is full of danger to our future prosperity. Supported as the arguments in this little work are by the most imperative agricultural and sanitary considerations, it is believed that they will commend themselves to the approval of all, in both town and country, who have the well-being of society at heart.

A BOOK FOR YOUNG FARMERS.

By GEO. E. WARING, Jr.

CAREFULLY REVISED.

CONTENTS: THE PLANT. THE SOIL. MANURES. MECHANICAL CULTIVATION. ANALYSIS.

HORACE GREELEY says of this book: "Though dealing with facts unfamiliar to many, there is no obscure sentence and scarcely a hard word in the book; its 254 fair, open pages may be read in the course of two evenings and thoroughly studied in the leisure hours of a week; and we pity the man or boy, however old or young, who can find it dull reading. Hardly any one is so wise that he will not learn something of value from its perusal; no one is so ignorant or undeveloped that he can not generally understand it; and no farmer or farmer's son can study it thoughtfully without being a better and more successful cultivator than before."

Winter Greeneries at Home.

RECENTLY PUBLISHED.

By Rev. E. A. JOHNSON, D. D.

Author of "Half Hour Studies of Life," etc., etc.

This Volume differs from most other works on winter gardening, in giving the results of actual practice. The author for several years past has found recreation in beautifying his study with plants; his work has resulted in so much enjoyment to himself and his friends that he has been induced to tell what he did, and how he did it. The book is not a mere dry set of directions, but its teachings are presented in the pleasant form of letters to some young ladies, who, having witnessed the author's success, have asked his instruction, and this allows a genial personality to pervade the work, and makes it withal readable, as well as instructive. It is a most excellent guide to successful winter-gardening, as suited to American homes, with our peculiar domestic surroundings, and those who follow its teachings will reach a satisfactory measure of success. The engravings include several representations of the author's study.

HOUSE-PLANS FOR EVERYBODY.

RECENTLY PUBLISHED.

By S. B. REED, Architect.

This is a valuable work which meets the wants of persons of moderate means, and will, it is believed, prove one of the

MOST POPULAR ARCHITECTURAL BOOKS

ever issued. It gives a wide range of design from a dwelling costing $250 up to $8,000, and adapted to farm, village, and town residences. Nearly all of these plans have been tested by practical workings. They provide for heating, ventilation, etc., and give a large share of what are called Modern Improvements. One feature of the work imparts a value over any similar publications of the kind that we have seen. It gives an

ESTIMATE OF THE QUANTITY OF EVERY ARTICLE USED in the construction, and the cost of each material at the time the building was erected, or the design made. Even if prices vary from time to time, one can, from these data, ascertain within a few dollars, the probable cost of constructing any one of the buildings here presented.

TALKS ON MANURES.

RECENTLY PUBLISHED.

By JOSEPH HARRIS, M. S.,

Of Moreton Farm, Rochester, New York. Author of "Walks and Talks on the Farm," "Talks on Farm Crops," "Harris on the Pig," etc.

While we have no lack of treatises upon artificial fertilizers, there is no work in which the main stay of the farm—the manure made upon the farm—is treated so satisfactorily or thoroughly as in this volume. Starting with the question,

"WHAT IS MANURE?"

the author, well-known on both sides of the water by his writings, runs through in sufficient detail every source of manure on the farm, discussing the methods of making rich manure; the proper keeping and applying it, and especially the

USES OF MANURE,

and the effects of different artificial fertilizers, as compared with farm-yard manure, upon different crops. In this he makes free use of the striking series of experiments instituted years ago, and still continued, by Lawes and Gilbert, of Rothamsted, England. The

REMARKABLE TABLES

in which the results of these experiments are given, are here for the first time made accessible to the American farmer. In fact, there is scarcely any point relating to fertilizing the soil, including the suitable manures for special crops, that is not treated, and while the teachings are founded upon the most elaborate scientific researches, they are so far divested of the technical language of science as to commend themselves to farmers as eminently "practical." It is not often that the results of scientific investigations are presented in a manner so thoroughly popular.

PARSONS ON THE ROSE.

A Treatise on the Propagation, Culture, and History of the Rose.

By SAMUEL B. PARSONS.

NEW AND REVISED EDITION. ILLUSTRATED.

The Rose is the only flower that can be said to have a history. It is popular now, and was so centuries ago. In his work upon the Rose, Mr. Parsons has gathered up the curious legends concerning the flower, and gives us an idea of the esteem in which it was held in former times. A simple garden classification has been adopted, and the leading varieties under each class enumerated and briefly described. The chapters on multiplication, cultivation, and training, are very full, and the work is altogether the most complete of any before the public.

CONTENTS:—Chapter 1. Botanical Classification. 2. Garden Classification. 3. General Culture of the Rose. 4. Soil, Situation and Planting. 5. Pruning, Training, and Bedding. 6. Potting and Forcing. 7. Propagation. 8. Multiplication by Seed and Hybridizing. 9. Diseases and Insects attacking the Rose. 10. Early History of the Rose, and Fables respecting its Origin. 11. Luxurious Use of the Rose. 12. The Rose in Ceremonies and Festivals, and in the Adornment of Burial Places. 13. The Rose in the Middle Ages. 14. Perfumes of the Rose. 15. Medical Properties of the Rose. 16. General Remarks.

NEW BOOK OF FLOWERS.

By JOSEPH BRECK, Practical Horticulturist.

BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED.

This work, while preserving scientific accuracy, is written in a familiar style, and with the enthusiasm of a life-long lover of flowers. Its teachings are eminently practical, and cover all branches of out-of-door gardening.

Bulbs.—The cultivation of bulbs, whether in-doors or in the open ground, is clearly described, and such instructions are given as will insure success with these favorite plants.

Annuals.—All the finer annuals are described, and the peculiar treatment necessary for each given in full.

Herbaceous Perennials.—This justly favorite class of plants is given here more at length than in any work with which we are acquainted.

Bedding Plants.—The treatment of the popular kinds of bedding plants is given, together with that of Dahlias, Chrysanthemums, and such as usually fall under the head of florists' flowers.

Flowering Shrubs.—A separate section is devoted to the hardy flowering shrubs, including a very full chapter upon the Rose.

We have no work which is a safer guide to the novice in gardening, or that imparts the necessary information in a style more free from technicalities. Not the least interesting part of the work is the author's personal experience, as he tells not only how he succeeded, but the mistakes he committed.

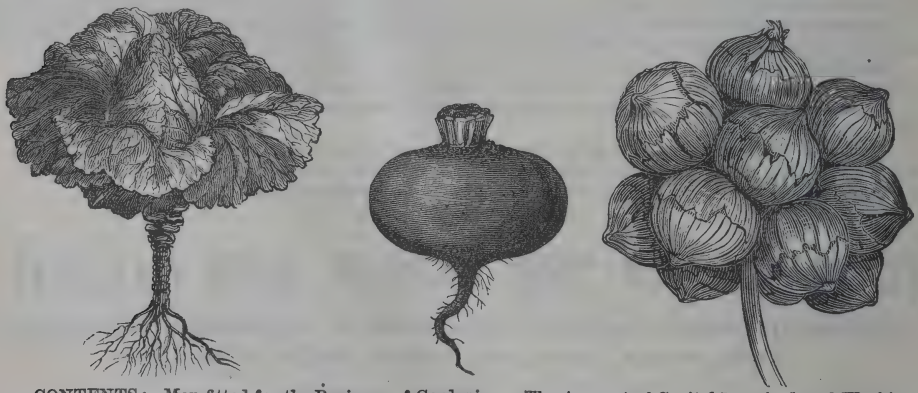
GARDENING FOR PROFIT

IN THE MARKET AND FAMILY GARDEN.



BY PETER HENDERSON.

FINELY ILLUSTRATED.

A now well known and standard work on Market and Family Gardening. It is finely illustrated, and is the first book of the kind prepared by a Market Gardener, in this country. The author's successful experience of more than twenty-five years, enables him to give a most valuable record. It is and not made up, as books on Gardening too often are, by quotations from foreign authors. Everything is made perfectly plain, and the subject treated in all its details, from the selection of the soil to preparing the products for market.

CONTENTS:—Men fitted for the Business of Gardening. The Amount of Capital Required, and Working Force per Acre. Profits of Market Gardening. Location, Situation, and Laying-out. Soils, Drainage, and Preparation. Manures, Implements. Uses and Management of Cold Frames. Formation and Management of Hot-Beds. Forcing Pits or Green-houses. Seeds and Seed-Raising. How, When, and Where to Sow Seeds. Transplanting; Insects. Packing of Vegetables for Shipping. Preservation of Vegetables in Winter. Vegetables, Their Varieties and Cultivation. Monthly Calendar.

In the chapter preceding the Monthly Calendar the most valuable kinds are described, and the culture proper to each is given in detail.

Fruit, Vegetable, and Flower Garden,

WITH FULL DIRECTIONS FOR THE

GREENHOUSE, CONSERVATORY AND Window Garden.

BY PETER HENDERSON.

AUTHOR OF "GARDENING FOR PROFIT," AND "PRACTICAL FLORICULTURE."

ILLUSTRATED.

This work is prepared to meet the wants of the amateur in in-door and out-door gardening. It is one of the best guides to Window Gardening we know of. The work includes fruit, vegetable, and flower-gardening, greenhouses and graperies, window gardening, and Wardian cases.

EXTRACTS FROM LETTERS.

"Send me your 'Gardening for Pleasure.' I have both of your other works, and would not exchange them for their weight in gold, if I could not otherwise replace them.—LOUIS SIEGLER, Harrisburg, Pa."

"Your books on horticulture have been of great value to me, the article on Strawberry Culture, in 'Gardening for Pleasure,' alone, has been to me worth ten times its cost this season.—GEO. I. STREATOR, Garrettsville, Ohio."

"Your work, 'Gardening for Pleasure,' contains more plain, practical information than anything I ever read on the subject—and I know of what I speak—having been gardening for 30 years.—A. C. LANIER, Madison, Ind."

"'Gardening for Pleasure' is an excellent supplement to your other works, and will prove a good friend to amateurs in gardening, who greatly need its plain and practical teaching.—MARIE HOWLAND, Hammonton, N. J."

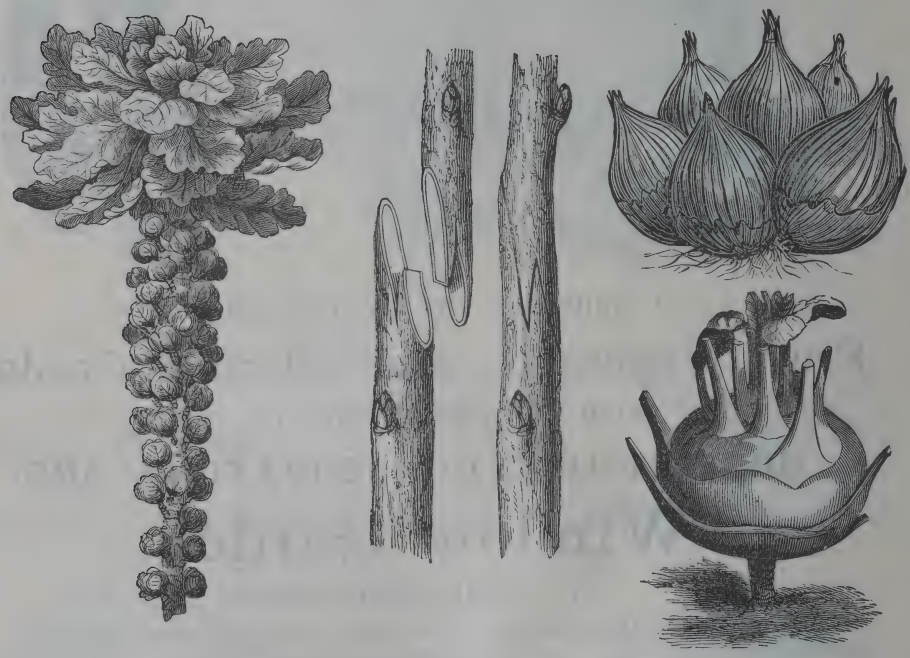
GARDENING FOR THE SOUTH;



OR,

HOW TO GROW VEGETABLES AND FRUITS.

By the Late WILLIAM N. WHITE, of Athens, Ga.

WITH ADDITIONS BY

Mr. J. VAN BUREN and Dr. JAS. CAMAK.

Illustrated. Revised and Newly Stereotyped.

Though entitled "Gardening for the South," the work is one the utility of which is not restricted to the South. It is an admirable treatise on gardening in general, and will rank among the most useful horticultural works of the present day. Horticultural operations are clearly explained, and more in detail than is usual in works of this kind. To those living in the warmer portions of the Union, the work will be especially valuable, as it gives the varieties of vegetables and fruits adapted to the climate and the modes of culture which it is necessary to follow.

BARRY'S FRUIT GARDEN.

BY P. BARRY.

NOTICES BY THE PRESS.

"Barry's Fruit Garden" is one of those practical, profusely illustrated, and comprehensive manuals which Orange Judd & Co. delight to publish. It seems to tell almost everything which one book can tell about the ins and outs and ways and means of fruit culture.—The (Chicago) Advance.

This volume of 490 pages, as its title implies, is devoted to the culture of fruits of every variety in orchards and gardens. It describes the diseases incident to the various fruit trees, the kind of insects that prey upon them, and the remedies for ridding trees of the evil.—Scientific American.

The author writes from his own practical experience; and that experience is of no ordinary character, being the result of more than thirty years' work at the head of the largest nursery in America, where every operation is conducted with eminent skill.—The Country Gentleman.

It explains all the minutiæ of fruit-gardening, even to the implements, copiously illustrated by engravings so that the merest novice need not err; gives descriptions of all the different kinds of fruit that can be raised in our climate in every stage of their lives, from the germ to the fruit-bearing period, with instructions in pruning and grafting, in a most satisfactory manner. The chapter on grapes alone is worth more than the price of the book.—Jersey City Times.

It is a rich mine of information upon fruits of all kinds and their proper culture.—Providence Press.

Mr. Barry has long been known as an authority upon fruit culture, and this volume of 490 pages, with a full and carefully prepared index, gives the latest results of his study and experience.—Springfield Republican.

We have orchardists, strawberry books, grape books, small-fruit books, and all that; what we want is one book for them all. Here we have it. It is quite a scientific work, too, giving more than mere arbitrary directions; we have the grounds for them. May we rely on what it says? A sufficient answer is that it comes from the office of the American Agriculturist.—Zion's Herald.

FROM HON. MARSHALL P. WILDER,

PRESIDENT OF THE AMERICAN POMOLOGICAL SOCIETY.

I have perused with great pleasure the new and improved edition of Mr. Barry's book. It is in every respect desirable, and will receive the approbation of our best pomologists. It is the result of a long life of experience, and admirably calculated to meet the demands of our age. I give it a hearty welcome.

THE SMALL-FRUIT CULTURIST

BY ANDREW S. FULLER.

BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED.

We have heretofore had no work especially devoted to small fruits, and certainly no treatises anywhere that give the information contained in this. It is to the advantage of special works that the author can say all that he has to say on any subject, and not be restricted as to space, as he must be in those works that cover the culture of all fruits—great and small.

This book covers the whole ground of Propagating Small Fruits, their Culture, Varieties, Packing for Market, etc. While very full on the other fruits, the Currants and Raspberries have been more carefully elaborated than ever before, and in this important part of his book the author has had the invaluable counsel of Charles Downing. The chapter on gathering and packing the fruit is a valuable one, and in it are figured all the baskets and boxes now in common use. The book is very finely and thoroughly illustrated, and makes an admirable companion to the Grape Culturist, by the same well-known author.

CRANBERRY CULTURE.

BY JOSEPH J. WHITE, A Practical Grower.

ILLUSTRATED.

NOTICES BY THE PRESS.

The book is profusely illustrated, contains minute directions for preparing the ground, setting and cultivating the plants, flowing the plantations, and picking and marketing the fruit.—Springfield Republican.

As the business of cranberry culture is largely and rapidly increasing, such a book as this will prove to many an efficient and profitable guide.—Detroit Advertiser and Tribune.

This is decidedly the best work out on the cranberry.—Practical Farmer (Phila.)

It is a practical, compact treatise, full of all necessary details, fully illustrated, and must satisfy all wishing a complete and thorough guide to cranberry-growing.—Maine Farmer.

The man who is growing cranberries, if he have enterprise and a good conscience, and eats his own cranberries, or expects other people to eat them, ought to get this little book.—Chicago Tribune.

We judge this the best book on cranberry culture yet published.—Prairie Farmer.

The work is very comprehensive in its details, and will be invaluable to those who have an interest in the subject.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

A thoroughly practical manual, and one apparently prepared to answer any and every question which any one may be moved to ask on the subject discussed.—Congregationalist and Recorder.

It seems to be a complete manual on a branch of horticulture which is of growing importance.—Lowell Daily Courier.

We consider it invaluable to the fruit-grower.—The Newark, N. J., Courier.

The directions in regard to forming beds or plantations are so plain that any person could follow them. The various illustrations and diagrams aid much in conveying correct ideas in regard to the different subjects. —The Michigan State Republican.

Civil and Mining Engineer, Member of the Civil Engineers' Club of the North-west, Associate Editor of the American Agriculturist.

WITH NUMEROUS ILLUSTRATIONS.

The popular notion that irrigation is only needed in California and other far Western localities, where the rainfall is not sufficient to sustain the crops, is rapidly changing. The great damage caused by occasional drouths, the great need of and difficulty of establishing never-failing meadows, so necessary to successful agriculture, and the uncertainty of market-farming in the older States, are rapidly convincing cultivators who live east of the great plains, that irrigation is important to them. The various methods of irrigation are discussed in this work, and it is intended to meet the wants of gardeners, fruit-growers, and those farmers who have only a meadow to water, as well as those who would irrigate their whole farm, while surveyors and civil engineers, who may be called upon to provide the means by which water from springs, wells, streams, or reservoirs, may be made available in irrigation, will find here a useful guide. It is plainly written and copiously illustrated; is thoroughly practical, and sufficiently suggestive to meet almost any possible case in which water may be used for the benefit of the crops. It treats very freely of the formation and management of irrigated meadows and pastures, and of the management of crops usually grown under irrigation. It is, in short, a practical manual of irrigation, which will be useful in a wide diversity of instances.

NOTICES BY THE PRESS.

It is a volume of over five hundred pages, and in its present shape comprises all that can well be condensed into an available volume of its kind.
Hartford Daily Times.

It has a very wide range of subjects, taking up nearly all matters that are most important to farmers. Comprising the combined wisdom and experience of two eminent agriculturists, it must prove of great value to the class for whom it is prepared.—New York Observer.

It is crammed full of just the information that is wanted, which it is a pleasure to recommend. We know of no better encyclopedia of farming.
New York Independent.

It is something in favor of this work that it has been before the public for many years. The original work was prepared with extraordinary care, and contained a vast amount of general truth that is as applicable now as it was then; it has therefore been made the basis of the present work, which, to all intents and purposes, is new, since it is adapted to the present improved state of agricultural knowledge. Every department is prepared with conscientious care, and with a view of making the work a reliable source of agricultural information. Chicago Republican.

Comprehensive and careful, telling, and telling specifically, just what the tillers of the soil need to know, it will prove of great advantage to all who faithfully follow its counsels in the spirit in which they are given.
Congregationalist and Recorder.

It intelligently and quite fully discusses the various operations of farm life, and is invaluable to all engaged in agriculture. Farmer's Cabinet.

For the young man of rural tastes, but without a training at the plow-handles, who asks for a general guide and instructor that shall be to agriculture what the map of the world is to geography, it is the best manual to print. For the working farmer, who in summer noonings and by the winter fireside would refresh his convictions and reassure his knowledge by old definitions and well-considered summaries, it is the most convenient hand-book. From its double authorship one might expect some show of patch-work, the original statement of the author of 1846 annotated and qualified by the writer of this year. But this has been wisely avoided. The book is a unit, and shows no disparity of style nor contradiction in statement. Practically, it is altogether a recent and timely volume. Only so much of the original Book of the Farm, by R. L Allen, as time could not change, has been adopted by the reviser. New York Tribune.

HINTS TO HORSE-KEEPERS.

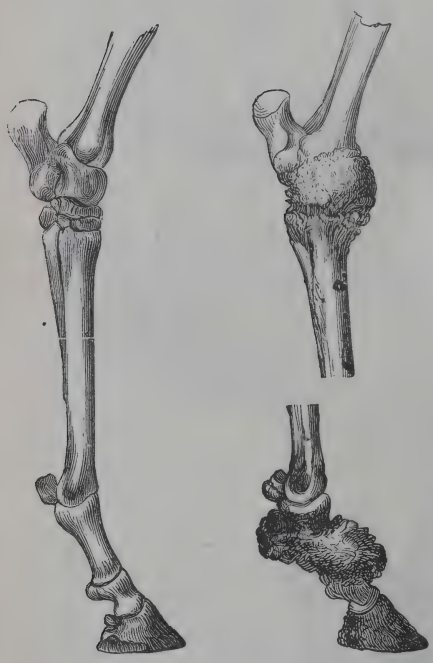
A COMPLETE MANUAL FOR HORSEMEN.

By the late HENRY WILLIAM HERBERT (FRANK FORESTER).

There are very few books which all who own or use the horse, can peruse with greater satisfaction than this. For indicating the principles which should guide one in breeding, buying, training, and using horses, it stands unrivaled among American books. Price, Post-paid, $1.75.

THE MODERN HORSE DOCTOR.

CONTAINING PRACTICAL OBSERVATIONS



ON THE

CAUSES, NATURE, AND TREATMENT

OF

DISEASES AND LAMENESS IN HORSES.

Embracing the most recent and approved methods, according to an enlightened system of Veterinary Therapeutics, for the preservation and restoration of health.

With Illustrations.

By GEORGE H. DADD, M.D.,

Veterinary Surgeon,

AUTHOR OF "ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY OF THE HORSE," AND THE "REFORMED CATTLE DOCTOR."

The writer of this work has endeavored to give the reader correct ideas of the nature and treatment of diseases occurring in that faithful servant and noble animal, the horse. It is intended to supply the wants of that class of agriculturists and horsemen—and their name is legion—who are in favor of a more sanative and rational system of medication than that recommended in many works on farriery. Such individuals, in consequence of the scarcity of competent Veterinary Surgeons, are compelled to treat their own horses; and this work is intended to be to them, in the hour of need, one that will enable them to restore the sick and cure the lame.

CONTENTS.

Qualifications Necessary for the Practice of Veterinary Medicine.
Great Benefits derived from Studying Comparative Anatomy and Physiology.
Brief History of Veterinary Science.
Diseases of the Brain and its Membranes.
Diseases of the Respiratory Organs and Air Passages.
Diseases of the Urinary Organs.
Diseases of the Digestive Cavity and its Surfaces.
Diseases of the Liver.
Diseases of the Eye and its Membranes.
Diseases of the Nervous System.
Fever in Horses.
Diseases of the Mouth.
Lameness from Strain and other Causes.
Diseases of the Skin and Sub-cellular Tissues.
Diseases of the Hoof and Laminæ.

The American Cattle Doctor.

[OCTAVO.]

A COMPLETE WORK ON ALL THE DISEASES OF

CATTLE, SHEEP, AND SWINE,

Including every Disease peculiar to America, and embracing all the latest Information on the Cattle Plague and Trichina; containing also a Guide to Symptoms, a Table of Weights and Measures, and a List of Valuable Medicines.

By GEO. H. DADD, V. S.,

Twenty-five years a Leading Veterinary Surgeon in England and the United States, and Author of the "American Reformed Horse Book."

The Work is comprised in Three Grand Divisions, each one full and complete.

I.—Diseases and Management of Cattle.

Showing how, by means of the remedies found to be so useful in the author's practice, to overcome the many troublesome and usually fatal diseases of cattle.

The proper care and management of cattle during calving are plainly set forth.

The relative value of different breeds is fully discussed.

In this division will be found, in full, the History, Causes, Symptoms, and Treatment of RINDERPEST or CATTLE PLAGUE.

II.—Diseases and Management of Sheep.

Beginning with a most valuable chapter on the Improvements of our Breeds of Sheep. Such diseases as Rot, Yellows, Foot-rot, Grubs, etc., are fully treated.

III.—Diseases and Management of Hogs.

Commencing with an able article on the importance of Cleanliness and Pure Air for Hogs. The various diseases of this valuable animal, with their Prevention, Causes, and Cure, receive full attention. The great majority of American farmers are largely interested in the most reliable treatment of that scourge among hogs—HOG CHOLERA. After years of practice in Illinois, the author confidently presents his Remedy for this destructive malady, as the most successful one yet discovered, and it is so simple as to be within easy reach of all.

THE AMERICAN REFORMED HORSE BOOK.

[OCTAVO.]

A Treatise on the Causes, Symptoms, and Cure of every Disease incident to the Horse, including all Diseases peculiar to America, and which are not treated of in works based upon the English works of Youatt, Mason, and others. Embracing also full details of Breeding, Rearing, and Management on the REFORMED SYSTEM OF PRACTICE.

By Prof. GEO. H. DADD,

Veterinary Surgeon, "Author of Anatomy and Physiology of the Horse," and late Professor of Anatomy and Physiology in the Veterinary Institute of Chicago, and for over 25 years a Regular Practicing Veterinarian.

This is a fresh book, the result of a lifetime of labor and research on the part of one of the foremost Veterinarians of the age. Years ago Dr. Dadd perceived that incalculable loss was being entailed upon stock owners every year by the reckless, unnatural, unscientific, and cruel modes of treatment which were so generally practiced upon the Horse. Burning, Blistering, Bleeding by the gallon, and the giving of Poisonous Drugs were the order of the day, (and we are sorry to say such practices still find learned (?) advocates even in our day), and the result was that they killed more than they cured. Actuated by a laudable desire to rescue so noble an animal from such "heroic practice," Dr. Dadd adopted and strenuously advocated the REFORMED SYSTEM OF PRACTICE, which, under the guidance of such men as Wooster Beach, John C. Gunn, and others, rose rapidly into popular favor in human practice, and demonstrated beyond a doubt that nature's remedies are the most uniformly successful. Such was Dadd's success that he became widely known, and it was no unusual thing for him to be sent for, hundreds of miles, to attend valuable horses. His career as a practicing Veterinary Surgeon has been one of rare success, and deeming it his duty to spread abroad among his countrymen a knowledge of Reform Principles, as applied to the Horse, he has prepared this work, and asks that it be candidly examined. Being a thoroughly American Work, it quotes foreign authors but very little. It aims to treat fully and plainly, on rational principles, every ill that Horseflesh is heir to, including those complaints peculiar to this country, and which have hitherto been but very imperfectly treated of by authors aspiring to be educators of the public on Veterinary Science.

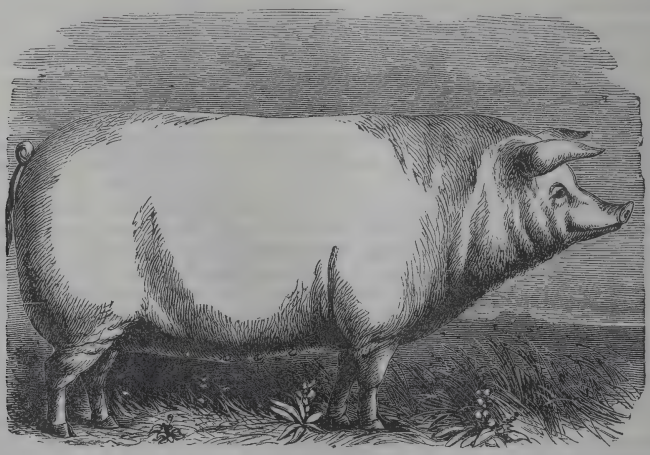
SWINE HUSBANDRY.

A PRACTICAL MANUAL FOR THE

Breeding, Rearing, and Management of Swine,

AND THE



Prevention and Treatment of their Diseases.

By F. D. COBURN,

A Western Practical Farmer and Breeder.

ILLUSTRATED.

The first portion of the work discusses the merits of the leading breeds, and while indicating his own preference for the Berkshire, the author gives a full presentation of the claims made for other breeds. The portion devoted to breeding is in accordance with the views of the best breeders, and the chapters devoted to feeding and fattening present the subject in a most thorough manner. A large share of the work is devoted to the "Diseases of the Swine," and is probably the part which which will be consulted by many with the greatest interest. But few, who have not given special attention to the subject, are aware of the immense losses the country has annually sustained for several years, through the wholesale mortality among swine in several Western States, from diseases which are alike in being rapidly fatal, and are popularly classed under the term "Hog Cholera." This subject is most thoroughly discussed, and its causes shown to be avoidable. While written from a Western breeder's standpoint, the usefulness of the book is by no means limited to any section of the country, as sound principles are of universal application.

HARRIS ON THE PIG.

BREEDING, REARING, MANAGEMENT, AND IMPROVEMENT.

With Numerous Illustrations.

BY

JOSEPH HARRIS,

OF MORETON FARM, ROCHESTER, N. Y.

This most instructive treatise upon the breeding, rearing, and management of swine, is by one thoroughly familiar with the whole subject. The points of the various English and American breeds are thoroughly discussed, and the great advantage of using thoroughbred males clearly shown. The work is equally valuable to the farmer who keeps but a few pigs, and to the breeder on an extensive scale.

AN EGG FARM.

THE MANAGEMENT OF POULTRY IN LARGE NUMBERS.

By H. H. STODDARD.

Being a Series of Articles Written for the American Agriculturist. With other Articles

ILLUSTRATED.

In the last half of 1871, and the first half of 1872, there appeared in the columns of the American Agriculturist, a series of articles upon the raising of poultry on a large scale. As eggs, rather than chickens were aimed at, the articles were called: "An Egg Farm," a title both novel and descriptive. As the author, Mr. H. H. Stoddard, of Hartford, Conn., presented his plans so clearly, and without making any extravagant claims, the articles at once attracted general attention. Since they appeared the calls for sets or volumes of the American Agriculturist which contained them, have been regular and numerous, showing that the articles had a permanent value, and they are now brought together in the more convenient form of a book, to meet a regular demand. In revising the articles for re-printing, no changes have been made, other than to make the corrections suggested by the author in the last article of the series, and such unimportant verbal alterations as were peculiar to the serial form in which they first appeared. The subject of the production of eggs upon a large scale is one to which the author has evidently given not only close personal attention, but careful thought, and no difficulty to be avoided, or point in which labor may be saved, seems to be left unprovided for, and the book will be found a valuable addition to our poultry literature.

CONTENTS.

Introduction. Plan of Farm. Manner of Feeding. Location of Farm. Kind of Soil. Crops on the Farm. Supplying Water and Food. Collecting and Storing Dry Earth. Houses for Layers. Feeding House for Winter. Houses for Sitters. Arrangements for Breeding Stock. Fowls for Layers. Fowls for Sitters. Management of Breeding Stock. Coops for Chickens. Feeding Chickens. CHAPTER VI. — Hymenoptera. — Stingers and Piercers. Saw-flies and Slugs. Elm, Fir, and Vine Saw-fly. Rose-bush and Pear-tree Slugs. Horn-tailed Wood-wasps. Gall-flies. Barley-insect and Joint-worm.

CHAPTER VII.—Diptera.—Gnats and Flies. Maggots and their Transformations. Gall-gnats. Hessian, Wheat, and Radish Flies. Two-winged Gall-flies and Fruit-flies.

APPENDIX:—The Army-worm.

By a resolve of the Legislature of Massachusetts, Mr. Flint was directed to issue a new edition of Dr. Harris's admirable Treatise on Insects Injurious to Vegetation, with suitable additions and illustrations, and was also authorized to use the plates prepared for the edition for the Commonwealth, in the publication of one or more editions designed for wider circulation than that for the State could be expected to have. It was thought best to insert the additions contemplated in the resolve, in the form of foot-notes. No alterations have been made in the author's language, and the additional notes are inclosed in brackets, to distinguish them from those in the former editions. Large additions have been made in the text, however, from the author's own manuscript. These will be found exclusively in the chapter upon the butterflies. Professor Agassiz very kindly offered to supervise the drawings, comparing them with the original specimens before engraving. It is believed that very great scientific accuracy has thus been secured in the illustrations. Published in two beautiful editions; one plain, with steel engravings, extra cloth, price post-paid, $4.00; the other in extra cloth, beveled boards, red edges, engravings colored with great accuracy, price, post-paid, $6.50.

PRACTICAL HINTS

ON THE

SELECTION AND USE OF THE MICROSCOPE

Intended for Beginners. By JOHN PHIN, editor of The Technologist. Fully Illustrated. 12mo. Cloth. Explains in the simplest and clearest language the best methods of using the Microscope, and of preparing examining, and mounting objects.

Gardening for the South.....$2.00
How to Grow Vegetables and Fruits. Though entitled "Gardening for the South," the work is one the utility of which is not restricted to the South. It is an admirable treatise on gardening in general, and will rank among the most useful horticultural works of the present day. To those living in the warmer portions of the Union, the work will be especially valuable, as it gives the varieties of vegetables and fruits adapted to the climate, and the modes of culture which it is necessary to follow. By the late WILLIAM N. WHITE, of Athens, Ga., with additions by Mr. J. VAN BUREN and Dr. JAMES CAMAK. Illustrated. Revised and newly stereotyped. Cloth, 12mo.

Gregory on Squashes.....30

This little Treatise, which no Farmer or Gardener ought to be without, tells all about selecting the soil for Squashes; how much manure is necessary; how to prepare and plant; about hoeing and cultivating; setting of the fruit; ripening, gathering, storing, care during winter, etc. By JAMES J. H. GREGORY. Paper cover, 12mo.

Henderson's Gardening for Profit. $1.50

A now well known and standard work on Market and Family Gardening. It is finely illustrated, and is the first book of the kind prepared by a Market Gardener, in this country. The author's own successful experience of nearly 30 years, enables him to give most valuable information. It is an original and purely American work, and not made up, as books on gardening too often are, by quotations from foreign authors. Everything is made perfectly plain, and the subject treated in all its details, from the selection of the soil to preparing the products for market. By PETER HENDERSON. Cloth, 12mo.—Over 30,000 copies have already been called for.

Henderson's Gardening for Pleasure.$1.50

This work is prepared to meet the wants of all classes in Country, City, and Village, who keep a garden for their own enjoyment rather than for the sale of products. It is adapted to the wants of the amateur in in-door and out-door gardening. It is one of the best guides to Window Gardening we know of. The work includes fruit, vegetable, and flower-gardening, greenhouses and graperies, window gardening, and Wardian cases. By PETER HENDERSON, author of "Gardening for Profit" and "Practical Floriculture." Illustrated. Cloth, 12mo.

The author takes us to his garden on the rocky hill-sides in the vicinity of West Point, and shows us how, out of it, after four years' experience, he evoked a profit of $1,000, and this while carrying on pastoral and literary labors.....It is very rare that so much literary taste and skill are mated to so much agricultural experience and good sense. Cloth, 12mo.

Cattle, Horses, Sheep, and Swine.

CATTLE.

Allen's American Cattle.....$2.50

Their History, Breeding, and Management. This book will be considered indispensable by every breeder of live-stock. The large experience of the author in improving the character of American herds adds to the weight of his observations, and has enabled him to produce a work which will at once make good its claims as a standard authority on the subject. An excellent feature of the volume is its orderly, methodical arrangement, condensing a great variety of information into a comparatively small compass, and enabling the reader to find the point on which he is seeking light, without wasting his time in turning over the leaves. By LEWIS F. ALLEN. Illustrated. Cloth, 12mo.

Dadd's American Cattle Doctor.....$2.50

A Complete Work on all the Diseases of Cattle, Sheep, and Swine, including every Disease peculiar to America, and embracing all the latest Information on the Cattle Plague and Trichina; containing also a Guide to Symptoms, a Table of Weights and Measures, and a List of Valuable Medicines. Stewart's Shepherd's Manual.....$1 50

A Valuable Practical Treatise on the Sheep, for American farmers and sheep-growers. It is so plain that a farmer, or a farmer's son, who has never kept a sheep, may learn from its pages how to manage a flock successfully, and yet so complete that even the experienced shepherd may gather many suggestions from it. The results of personal experiences of some years with the characters of the various modern breeds of sheep, and the sheep-raising capabilities of many portions of our extensive territory and that of Canada—and the careful study of the diseases to which our sheep are chiefly subject, with those by which they may eventually be afflicted through unforeseen accidents—as well as the methods of management called for under our circumstances, were finally gathered into the shape in which they are here presented. By HENRY STEWART. Illustrated. Cloth, 12mo.

Youatt on Sheep.....$1.00

Chemistry and Scientific Agriculture.

Boussingault's Rural Economy.....$1.60

Rural Economy in its relations with Chemistry, Physics, and Meteorology; or Chemistry Applied to Agriculture in the Principles of Farm Management, the Preservation and Use of Manures, the Nutrition and Food of Animals, and the General Economy of Agriculture. By J. B. BOUSSINGAULT, Member of Institute of France, etc. Translated, with Introduction and Notes, by GEORGE LAW, Agriculturist. Cloth, 12mo.

Caldwell's Agricultural Qualitative and Quantitative Chemical Analysis$2.00

This work is very thorough, beginning with the preparation of reagents, and giving the most approved method of manipulation. Professor Caldwell modestly calls himself the editor, but his book shows that he has not contented himself with editing the works of others, but has given much of his own experience. Edited by C. C. CALDWELL, Professor of Agricultural Chemistry in the Cornell University. Cloth, 12mo.

Johnson's How Crops Grow.....$2.00

A Treatise of the Chemical Composition, Structure, and Life of the Plant. This book is a guide to the knowledge of agricultural plants, their composition, their structure, and modes of development and growth; of the complex organization of plants, and the uses of the parts; the germination of seeds, and the food of plants obtained both from the air and the soil. Very full and accurate tables of analyses are given, and tables of the proportions existing between different principles, oily, starchy, or nitrogenous, in the same or different plants. The book is an invaluable one to all real students of agriculture. With Numerous Illustrations and Tables of Analysis. By Prof. SAMUEL W. JOHNSON, of Yale College. Cloth, 12mo.

Johnson's How Crops Feed.....$2.00

A Treatise on the Atmosphere and the Soil, as related to the Nutrition of Agricultural Plants. The work entitled "How Crops Grow," has been received with very great favor, not only in America but in Europe. It has been republished in England under the joint Editorship of Professors Church and Dyer, of the Royal Agricultural College at Cirencester, and a translation into German has been published at the instigation of Professor von Liebig. This volume—the companion and complement to the former—has been welcomed by those who appreciate the scientific aspects of Agriculture, and are persuaded that a true Theory is the surest guide to a successful practice. Illustrated. By Prof. SAMUEL W. JOHNSON, of Yale College. Cloth, 12mo.

Johnston's Agricultural Chemistry.$1.75

Lectures on the Application of Chemistry and Geology to Agriculture. With an Appendix, containing the Author's Experiments in Practical Agriculture. By JAS. F. W. JOHNSTON, M.A., F.R. SS., L. and E., etc., etc. Cloth, 12mo.

Johnston's Elements of Agricultural Chemistry.....$1.50

The writer, in addition to a complete Treatise upon the Elements of Agricultural Chemistry, suggests modes of thought calculated to lead the reader constantly to reflection. Exact analyses are given of the various substances used as manure, thus giving aid to answer such inquiries. By JAS. F. W. JOHNSTON, M.A., F.R. SS., L. and E., etc., etc. Cloth, 12mo.

Nichols' Chemistry of the Farm and the Sea.....$1.25

With other Familiar Chemical Essays. The aim in this work has been to present scientific facts and principles in a familiar way, so as to interest and instruct those not specially acquainted with matters of Science. By JAMES R. NICHOLS, M.D. Cloth, 12mo.

Norton's Elements of Scientific Agriculture.....75

A valuable and popular Treatise on the Connection between Science and the art of Practical Farming. By the late JOHN P. NORTON, M.A. Cloth, 12mo.

Tanner's First Principles of Agriculture.45

An elementary work, treating of the soil, composition of crops, natural and artificial manures, farm stock, etc. By HENRY TANNER, F. C. S. Limp cover, 16mo.

Waring's Elements of Agriculture..$1.00

A Book for Young Farmers. Contents: The Plant. The Soil. Manures. Mechanical Cultivation. Analysis. Horace Greeley says of this book: "Though dealing with facts unfamiliar to many, there is no obscure sentence, and scarcely a hard word in the book; its 254 fair, open pages, may be read in the course of two evenings, and thoroughly studied in the leisure hours of a week; and we pity the man or boy, however old or young, who can find it dull reading. Hardly any one is so wise that he will not learn something of value from its perusal; no one is so ignorant or undeveloped that he can not generally understand it; and no farmer or farmer's son can study it thoroughly without being a better and more successful cultivator than before." By GEO. E. WARING, Jr. Carefully Revised. Cloth, 12 mo.

Allen's American Farm Book.....$1.50

This is the original work which was revised and enlarged to a $2.50 book, (see New American Farm Book, below.) Copies of this original edition are still for sale. Illustrated. By R. L. ALLEN. Cloth, 12mo.

Allen's New American Farm Book...$2.50

Allen's American Farm Book, (the former edition of the present volume), has been one of the standard farmers' hand-books for twenty years ; it is still a valuable book, but as its author, Mr. R. L. Allen, could not give time to its revision, this was undertaken by his brother, Hon. Lewis F. Allen, the distinguished farmer of Erie county, editor of the American Shorthorn Herd-Book. In its present shape it comprises all that can well be condensed into an available volume of its kind. Nothing in fact, short of an Encyclopædia of Agriculture would embrace in full all the subjects in the various extended ramifications necessary to their treatment. The topics are therefore discussed in a manner partly suggestive, though sufficiently instructive to guide the practical farmer in the treatment of the various matters embraced, taking a fair view of their importance The present edition of the work is greatly enlarged, and full of suggestions from the rich experience of its editor and reviser, and is called the NEW AMERICAN FARM BOOK. Originally by RICHARD L. ALLEN, Revised and greatly enlarged by LEWIS F. ALLEN. Cloth, 12mo.

Henderson's Practical Floriculture..$1.50
A Guide to the Successful Propagation and Cultivation of Florists' Plants. In this work, which has everywhere become so deservedly popular, not only is the whole "art and mystery" of propagation explained, but the reader is taught how to plant and grow the plants after they have been propagated. The work is not one for florists and gardeners only, but the amateur's wants are constantly kept in mind, and we have a very complete treatise on the cultivation of flowers under glass, or in the open air, suited to those who grow flowers for pleasure, as well as those who make them a matter of trade. The work is characterized by the same radical common sense that marked the author's "Gardening for Profit," and it holds a high place in the estimation of lovers of floriculture. The new edition has been thoroughly revised by the author, and much enlarged by the addition of valuable matter.

By PETER HENDERSON. Author of "Gardening for Profit." Beautifully illustrated. Cloth, 12mo.

Johnson's Winter Greeneries at Home. $1.00
An entirely new and elegant work, differing from most other works on winter gardening in giving the results of actual practice. The title, "Winter Greeneries," better expresses the scope of the work, than would that of "Window Gardening." All can make their rooms cheerful with green, while to successfully cultivate many flowers, requires more skill than the majority of people possess; still flowers are not omitted. A small but judicious selection of easily-procured and easily-managed plants is given, with which to enliven the greenery. By Rev. E. A. JOHNSON, D.D. Finely illustrated. Cloth, 12mo.

Parsons on the Rose.....$1.50
A Treatise on the Propagation, Culture, and History of the Rose. New and Revised Edition. The Rose is the only flower that can be said to have a history. It is popular now, and was so centuries ago. In his work upon the Rose, Mr. Parsons has gathered up the curious legends concerning the flower, and gives us an idea of the esteem in which it was held in former times. A simple garden classification has been adopted, and the leading varieties under each class enumerated and briefly described. The chapters on multiplication, cultivation, and training, are very full, and the work is altogether one of the most complete before the public. Illustrated. By SAMUEL B. PARSONS. Cloth, 12mo.

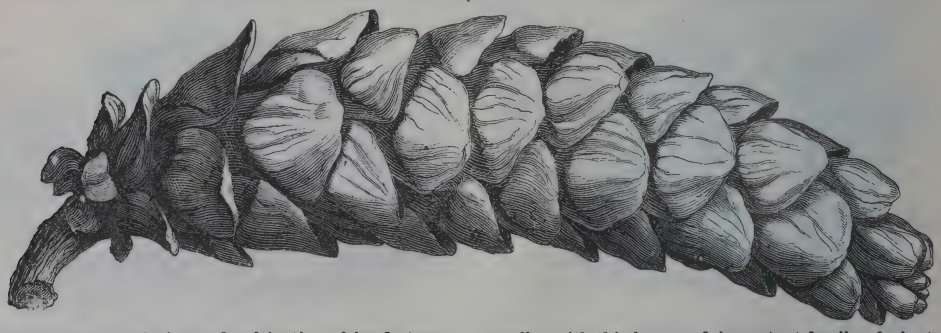
Vick's Flower and Vegetable Garden. Paper, 50

Profusely Illustrated, and with six full-page colored plates. 8vo.



Williams' Window Gardening $1.50

Devoted especially to the culture of Flowers and Ornamental Plants, for in-door use and Parlor Decoration. Edited by HENRY T. WILLIAMS. Fully Illustrated. Cloth, 8vo.

LANDSCAPE GARDENING.

Downing's Landscape Gardening...$6.50

A Treatise on the Theory and Practice of Landscape Gardening, adapted to North America; with a view to the Improvement of Country Residences. Comprising historical notices and general principles of the art, directions for laying out grounds and arranging plantations, the description and cultivation of hardy trees, decorative accompaniments of the house and grounds, the formation of pieces of artificial water, flower gardens, etc.—with Remarks on Rural Architecture by the late A. J. DOWNING, Esq. With a Supplement, containing some remarks about country places, and the best methods of making them; also an account of the newer deciduous and evergreen plants, lately introduced into cultivation, both hardy and half-hardy, and a second Supplement, bringing down to the present time some brief account of the various trees and shrubs which have been introduced since the former Supplement was published, (in 1859), by HENRY WINTHROP SARGENT. Beautifully Illustrated, with thirty-nine engravings on wood, six on stone, and six on steel, one of which is a fine portrait of the author. Cloth, 8vo.

Weidenmann's Beautifying Country Homes $15.00

This magnificent work is illustrated not only with numerous fine wood-engravings, but also with seventeen full-page and seven double-page colored lithographs of places already improved, showing Buildings, Walks, Trees, Shrubs, etc., in short, bringing the places directly to the eye of the reader. It embodies the results of a long practice in landscape architecture and rural adornment, and while its teachings are in accordance with the received rules of art, they are thoroughly practical in their character. It is the most elegant, and most useful work on the subject ever issued in the country. The work, both in its letter-press and colored lithographs, is beautifully printed, and it is elegantly bound in beveled boards. An elegant Quarto volume. Cloth, 4to.

EVERGREENS AND SHADE TREES.

Elliott's Lawn and Shade Trees....$1.00

For Planting Parks, Gardens, Cemeteries, Private Grounds, and Avenues. Fully Illustrated.

Fuller's Forest Tree Culturist.....$1.00

The Cultivation of Forest Trees for Shade, for Shelter, for Fuel, for Timber, and for profit. Illustrated.

Hoopes' Book of Evergreens.....$3.00

This valuable work posts up the present state of our knowledge upon the cone-bearing plants, or Coniferæ, of the botanist. Mr. Hoopes is one of those persons rarely met with—a practical cultivator, and a man of science at the same time. While his work gives us all the Coniferæ arranged in the classification of the botanist, it at the same time treats of the experience, not only of the author, but of American cultivators generally, with this large and important family of plants. By JOSIAH HOOPES. Illustrated. Cloth, 12mo.

Warder's Hedges and Evergreens...$1.50

This is the only book wholly devoted to the Cultivation, Pruning, and Management of Plants suitable for American hedging, especially the Maclura, or Osage Orange; illustrated with engravings of plants, implements, and processes; to which is added a Treatise on Evergreens, their varieties, propagation, culture, etc. By J. A. WARDER. Cloth, 12mo.

DRAINING AND IRRIGATION.

Bayles' House Drainage and Water Service.....$3.00

This is a large octavo of 360 pages, with numerous woodcuts and working drawings, treating of Drainage and Water Service in Cities, Villages, and Rural Neighborhoods. It, while giving full plans for supplying water to and carrying off the wastes of costly city-houses, does not omit the wants of the humblest farm-house, but it gives the simple earth-closet—without machinery. A copious index and marginal references add greatly to the value of the work. By JAMES C. BAYLES.

Harris' Talks on Manure.....$1.50
In this work, Mr. Harris continues the talking style which he has made entirely his own in agricultural teachings. He also continues our acquaintance with the "Deacon," the "Doctor," and the "Squire," and others of his neighbors who have been made, through the medium of these Talks, almost as well known as the author himself. Starting with the question "What is Manure?" it runs through in sufficient detail every source of manure on the farm, discussing the methods of making rich manure; the proper keeping and applying it, and especially the "Uses of Manure," and the effects of different artificial fertilizers, as compared with farm-yard manure, upon different crops. The book should have a hearty welcome from every farmer, except the fortunate few who cultivate soils, the natural fertility of which is not yet exhausted. By JOSEPH HARRIS, Author of "Walks and Talks on the Farm," "Harris on the Pig," etc. Cloth, 12mo.
